PREFACE.

THE nineteenth number of the Metropolitan Catholic Almanac is here presented to the public. Not to expand the work into cumbersome dimensions, its contents have been limited almost exclusively to such information as regards the state of the church in this country. The Almanac this year exhibits an important step in the ecclesiastical division of the United States, which will form an era in their Catholic history. Six metropolitans with their suffragans preside over the affairs of the church. The diocesan reports have been so arranged as to present, after each metropolitan see, the sees that are suffragan to it; but the order of the ecclesiastical provinces themselves has been determined by that in which the information came to hand. It will be seen, that the statistics of the different diocesses have been obtained, with one or two exceptions, from official sources, and the refore present the mostaccurate and reliable statements. Some errors will no doubt be discovered in the work, arising from the imperfect reports communicated to the editor. Several among the clergy will perhaps find, that their address is not given correctly or with sufficient minuteness. Fuller information on this head is earnestly solicited.

The editor returns his thanks to the Most Rev. and Rt. Rev. prelates, the Rev. Clergy, and others who have supplied him with materials for the Almanac, and he respectfully solicits a continuance of such favors from those who may contribute to the usefulness of the work.

CELESTIAL PHENOMENA.

ECLIPSES IN THE YEAR 1851.

There will be two Eclipses of the Sun, and two of the Moon, this year.

I. January 17, Moon eclipsed at the time of Full Moon, in the morning in the United States, except the eastern part of Maine, where it will be afternoon. Invisible here, but will be seen in the opposite regions of the globe. Magnitude, 5.58 digits on the Moon's northern limb.

II. February 1, Sun eclipsed at the time of New Moon in the morning, but will be in the evening of Jan. 31, in the states and territories west of the Mississippi river. Invisible in America. The Sun may be seen more or less eclipsed on the southern limb at Australia, the Cape of Good Hope, and the southern part of Madagascar; and on the northern limb, at New Zealand. This eclipse will be central and annular on the meridian in longitude 98° 22′ east from Greenwich, and latitude 58° 23′ south.

III. July 12, evening, and July 13, morning, Moon eclipsed; visible.

COMMANDMENTS.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

1. "I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt not have strange gods before me. Thou shalt not make to thyself a graven thing, nor the likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, nor of those things that are in the waters under the earth. Thou shalt not adore them, nor serve them."
2. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."
3. "Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day."
4. "Honor thy father and thy mother."
5. "Thou shalt not kill."

6. "Thou shalt not commit adultery."
7. "Thou shalt not steal."
8. "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."
9. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife."
10. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's goods."

COMMANDMENTS OF THE CHURCH.

1. The Catholic church commands her children, on Sundays and Holydays of obligation, to be present at the holy sacrifice of Mass, to rest from servile works on those days, and to keep them holy.

2. She commands them to abstain from flesh on all days of fasting and abstinence; and on fast days to eat but one meal.

3. She commands them to confess their sins to their pastor at least once a year.

4. She commands them to receive the blessed sacrament a least once a year, and that at Easter, or during the paschal time.

5. To contribute to the support of their pastor.

6. Not to marry within the fourth degree of kindred, nor privately without witnesses; nor to solemnize marriage at certain prohibited times.

N. B. 1. The fourth council of Lateran, Can. 21, ordains that "every one of the faithful, of both sexes, after they come to the years of discretion, shall in private faithfully confess all their sins, at least once a year, to their own pastor; and take care to fulfil, to the best of their power, the penance enjoined them; receiving reverently, at least at Easter, the sacrament of the eucharist, unless perhaps by the counsel of their own pastor, for some reasonable cause, they judge proper to abstain from it for a time: otherwise let them be excluded out of the church whilst living; and when they die, be deprived of Christian burial."

2. The time for the performance of the Easter-duty, may be extended, within the United States, from the first Sunday of Lent to Trinity Sunday, both inclusively.

3. The solemnizing of marriage, that is, the celebration of the rite during the mass pro sponso et sponsa, or with a display of festivity, is prohibited from the first Sunday of Advent till after Epiphany, and from the beginning of Lent till after Low Sunday.

FASTING DAYS.

Friday in Advent.—Every day in Lent, Sundays excepted. The Ember Days (see next page.)—The Vigil of Whitsunday or Pentecost, of the Assumption, of All-Saints, and of Christmas.

N. B. 1. When a fasting day falls upon a Sunday, it is kept on the Saturday preceding that Sunday. To fast, consists in abstaining from flesh-meat, and eating but one full meal in the day, not before 12 o'clock, M. Besides this, a collation, or about the one-fourth of a meal, is allowed in the evening. All who have completed their twenty-first year are obliged to observe the fasts of the Church, unless exempted for some legitimate cause.

2. In the diocesses of New Orleans, St. Louis, Mobile, Vincennes, Dubuque, Little Rock and Chicago, the Friday of the Ember days is the only Friday in Advent on which there is an obligation to fast.

3. It has been directed by the sacred Congregation de Propaganda Fide, that the feast of SS. Peter and Paul be solemnly celebrated in the United States, on the Sunday immediately after the 29th of June, and it is the wish of the Sacred Congregation that the Rt. Rev. Bishops exhort the faithful under their charge, to keep fast on the Saturday preceding that solemn celebration.

DAYS OF ABSTINENCE.

All Fridays and Saturdays, except those Saturdays which fall between the 25th of December and the 2d of February, inclusively, and all the Sundays in Lent. When Christmas falls on a Friday, abstinence is not of precept.

EMBER DAYS.

Spring—March	12, 14, 15	Autumn—September	17, 19, 20
Summer—June	11, 13, 14	Winter—December	17, 19, 20

The ember-days are the Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, which occur 1, in winter, immediately after the 3d Sunday of Advent; 2, in the Spring, immediately after the 1st Sunday in Lent; 3, in the Summer, during Whitsun-week; 4, in the Autumn, immediately after the 14th of September. They are days of fasting and are of great antiquity in the church. The object of their observance is, to consecrate to God the four seasons of the year, by penance; to obtain his blessing on the fruits of the earth, and to beg of him worthy ministers of the church. The ordination of clergymen generally takes place, in Catholic countries, on the ember days.

HOLYDAYS OF OBLIGATION.

The Circumcision of our Lord—The Epiphany—The Annunciation of the B. V. Mary—The Ascension of our Lord—Corpus Christi—The Assumption of the B. V. Mary—All Saints—Nativity of our Lord or Christmas.

N. B. 1. Sundays, and the feasts which fall on them, are not included in this enumeration.

2. In the diocesses of New Orleans, St. Louis, Mobile, Vincennes, Dubuque, Little Rock, and Chicago, the Circumcision, Epiphany, Annunciation, and Corpus Christi, are not holydays of obligation.

3. The sanctification of Sundays and other holydays of obligation consists, 1st, in abstaining from servile work, from all commerce and manual labor, which is not necessary for the worship of God and the support of life; 2d, in returning to God by penance, cleansing our conscience, receiving the Sacraments, and performing other duties of religion. Among these duties, that of assisting at the holy sacrifice of Mass is the principal, and is binding under pain of mortal sin, unless sickness or some other important reason dispense us from this obligation. Though a person may be said to obey to the letter the precept of the church, by hearing Mass, it is certainly a great abuse to restrict to this point only, the whole sanctification which the law of God prescribes. To be satisfied with assisting at low Mass, without performing any other act of religion, as many Christians do, is to go against the spirit of the Church in that particular commandment, to disobey other commandments she has imposed, and not to satisfy the commandments of God.

LITURGICAL INSTRUCTION.

Explanation of the Ornaments and Ceremonies used in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

All the external rites used in the celebration of the holy mysteries are intended for the instruction of the faithful. The chief design of these rites is to commemorate and to represent the passion and death of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. This is plainly to be observed in the altar and its ornaments, as also in the vestments which are worn by the priest.

As to the color of the ornaments with which the priest celebrates the holy mysteries, the White is used on the festivals of our Lord, of the B. Virgin Mary, and of all the saints who are not martyrs.

The Red is used on Pentecost, on the finding and Exaltation of the Cross, and on the Feasts of the Apostles and Martyrs.

The Purple or Violet, which is the penitential color, is used on all the Sundays and Ferias of Advent, and during the whole of the penitential time from Septuagesima Sunday till Easter; as also on all Vigils, Ember Days, and Rogation Days, when the office is of them.

The Green is used on all Sundays and Ferias from Trinity Sunday to Advent exclusively, and from the octave of the Epiphany to Septuagesima Sunday exclusively, when the office is of the Sunday; but in the Paschal time the White is used.

The Black is used on Good Friday, and in Masses of Requiem for the dead; which may be said on any day that is not a Sunday or a double, except from Palm Sunday to Low Sunday, and during the Octaves of Christmas, of the Epiphany, of Pentecost, and of Corpus Christi.

EXPLANATION OF THE CALENDAR.

Ap Signifies Apostle—App Apostles—M Martyr—MM Martyrs—P Pope—B Bishop—C Confessor—D Doctor—Ab Abbot—V Virgin—Wid Widow—SS Saints—D M Days of the Month—D W Days of the Week—† marks the days of indulgence—hym. ch. means the change in the hymn Iste Confessor.

The prayers and portions of the Holy Scriptures of which the Mass is composed, are in part the same, and partly different every day. Those fixed are contained in the Ordinary of the Mass, at the beginning of the Missal. The parts changeable or proper are—the Introits, Collects, Gradual, Tracts, Epistles, Gospel, Offertories, Secrets, Communion, and Post-communions—form the subsequent contents of the book. As the Prefaces are not so frequently subject to change, they follow each other in regular succession in the Ordinary of the Mass.

If a double fall on a Sunday, then the Mass of the double is said instead of that of the Sunday, unless it be a privileged Sunday, such as the first Sunday of Advent, or Lent, Passion, Palm, Easter, Pentecost, and Trinity Sundays, which are never superseded. The Sundays of the second class, which cannot be superseded except by doubles of the first class, are the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th of Advent, Septuagesima, Sexagesima, and Quinquagesima; as also the 2d, 3d, and 4th of Lent. It must, however, be remarked, that the Gospels of Sundays, thus superseded by doubles, are never omitted but are recited at the end of the Mass, instead of St. John's gospel; and also that a commemoration of the Sunday by its proper collect, secret, and post-communion, is always made immediately after the collect, &c. of the festival.

As it sometimes happens that a double is transferred to some future vacant day, on account of the octave of some festival of higher rank intervening, then the difficulty of finding out the day on which such transferred festival is celebrated, as well as the other principal difficulties, regarding the service, may be easily removed by consulting the following DIRECTORY, as a guide to the morning, as well as to the evening service of the church.

1. The Office of every day is either Double, Semidouble, Simple, or of the Feria.

Of doubles (so called because the Anthems are repeated entire, both before and after the Psalms at Vespers,) some are of the first class, marked thus in the calendar, doub. 1st. cl.; others of the second class, and are marked thus, doub. 2nd. cl.; others are greater doubles, marked, gr. doub.; others common doubles, marked doub. or d.

2. Doubles are kept on the day marked in the calendar, unless they fall on some Sunday of the first or second class, some privileged feria, or within certain octaves, which take the place of the festivals; in which case they are transferred to the first day not marked either as a double or a semidouble.

Doub. 1st cl., denotes a great solemnity; doub. 2 cl., a lesser solemnity; greater double marks the feast to be of higher rite than a common double; double is the common and most general rank of saints; semid. is less than a double; simpl. shows the feast to be of the lowest rite; fer. or feria day, is a week day, having no feast; great fer. are weeks in Lent, Advent, &c.; Vig. vigil, is the eve of a great solemnity.

The Sundays of the 1st class, which take place of all doubles, are The first Sunday of Advent, first Sunday of Lent. Passion, Palm, Easter, Low, Whit and Trinity Sundays.

The Sundays of the second class, which take place also, of all doubles, except those of the first class, and of which, in that case, a commemoration is made at mass and in both vespers, are the second, third, and fourth of Advent; Septuagesima, Sexagesima, and Quinquagesima, the second, third, and fourth of Lent.

The Ferias, which enjoy the same privileges as Sundays of the first class, are Ash Wednesday, All Holy Week, Whitsun Eve, the whole octaves of Easter and Whitsuntide.

In like manner, within the octave of Epiphany, no feast less than a first class can be kept.

On all other Sundays of the year, if a double occur, it is kept with a commemoration of the Sunday at Mass, and at vespers also, except the following day be a feast of the first class.

3. A semi-double (so called because only a part of the Anthem is said before each psalm at vespers) is marked in the calendar thus, Semid., and occurring on any Sunday whatsoever, is put off to the first vacant day; that is, the first day on which there is neither double nor semi-double marked in the calendar. The same is to be observed of all semi-doubles occurring within the octave of Corpus Christi.

4. Simples have no mark in the calendar, and are never transferred; but if they fall on Sunday, or on any other day, when the office cannot be said of them, a commemoration is made of the first vespers, and at mass; unless it be a feast of the first class, (on which no notice is taken of simples,) or of the second class, in which case a commemoration of them is made in the Lauds, and at a low private mass only.

5. The following ferias called greater ferias, take place of all simples of which there is only a commemoration made at mass; viz.: the ferias of Advent, and of Lent, the Ember Days, and Tuesdays in Rogation Week. A commemoration is also made of the ferias of Advent, Lent at vespers and mass, whatever feast happens; but of the Ember Days and Tuesday in Rogation Week, only at mass.

6. If a vigil happen within the octave, then the vigil, with a comemoration of the octave, unless there be a double or a semidouble feast that day, in which case the mass is of the feast, with a commemoration of the octave and of the vigil. But if a vigil occur on a feast of the first class, there is no commemoration made of it.

If a festival, that has a vigil, fall on a Monday, the mass of the vigil is said on the foregoing Saturday, except the vigil of Christmas and of the Epiphany.

If a vigil happen in Advent, the mass is of the vigil with a commemoration of the feria, except the vigil of Christmas.

If a vigil happen in Lent, or an ember day, the mass is of the feria, with a commemoration of the vigil.

In the paschal time there is no office of vigil, except that of Ascension eve, which, however, is no fast.

7. When several festivals have been translated from their proper days, they are afterwards to be kept in this order: first, those that are doubles, and then those that are semidoubles; and among the doubles or semidoubles, those whose proper days first occurred are to be kept first.

8. Coll. or Collect, signifies the oration or prayer. Upon all doubles one collect, secret or post-communion, only, is said; except they fall on a Sunday, or within the same octave, or upon some vigil, or in the time of Lent or Advent, or except it occurs with some simple; in all such cases, two collects, &c., are said; one of the double, the other of the Sunday, octave, &c.

Upon Sundays, and all semidoubles, are said three collects, secrets or post-communions; excepting Sundays which occur within an octave, on which are said two collects, &c., one of the Sunday, the other of the octave.

The second and third collects, secrets, and post-communions, to be said on Sundays and semidoubles in the different seasons of the year, are specified in their proper places.

Upon semidoubles occurring within octaves, or on vigils, &c., the second collect, secret, and post-communion, are a commemoration of the octave or vigil; and the third of the B. V. M., but within the octaves of the Blessed Virgin, the third is of the Holy Ghost.

On semidoubles in Advent, the second collect, secret, and post-communion, are the collect, &c., of the foregoing Sunday; the third of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Upon simples and ferias three collects, &c., are said; but if the priest please he may say five or seven, to be taken out of the divers prayers in the common.

9 When the bishop of a diocess appoints a collect to be said at mass, it is to be placed after the collects of the day, and cannot be substituted for the collect which is marked ad lib. This prayer prescribed by the bishop, is said at all masses, except that of the first class, and convertual and high mass of second class; at low mass of 2 cl. it may be said or omitted. It is omitted also on Christmas eve, vigil of Pentecost, Palm Sunday, Holy Thursday, and Holy Saturday.

10. Upon week days which have no proper office, nor any saint's day occurring thereon, the mass is of the foregoing Sundays.

11. Upon days within octaves, when no proper mass is assigned, the mass is said as on the feast, with three collects, &c. N. B.—The days within octaves are kept as semidoubles only.

12. The collect of the B. V. M. within octaves on vigils and on semidoubles within paschal time, is found in the votive mass of the Blessed Virgin Mary, from Advent to Christmas the collect of the B. V. M. is read in the mass of first Sunday of Advent, from Christmas to Candlemas the collect of the Blessed Virgin, as in the mass of the Circumcision.

13. The collects for Church and Pope are seen in the mass of the first Sunday of Advent, one of them is only recited at the choice of the priest, generally they are said in turn, when mentioned in the Directory. The collect of the Pope is said on the anniversary days of his creation and coronation; the creation here signifies his election to the sovereign Pontificate.

14. On the anniversary day of the consecration of the bishop, the collect for his installation is said at mass by the clergy of his diocess. If the bishop be translated from another diocess, the collect is said on the anniversary of his translation, that is, the date of the pope's letter of translation. The collect of the bishop is the same as that of the pope, except that the names of the prelate and of the diocess are mentioned.

15. The words ad. lib. signify that one is at liberty to recite any of the occasional collects or prayers, found towards the end of the missal.

16. The gospels assigned on Sundays are never omitted. Wherefore if a double be kept on a Sunday, at the end of mass is read the gospel of the Sunday, instead of that of St. John; and the same is observed when a double or semidouble is kept on any day in Lent, or on a vigil or ember day.

17. The Gloria in excelsis is said at Mass, whenever the Te Deum has been said after Matins; except at Mass on Holy Thursday and Holy Saturday, when the Gloria is said though the Te Deum is omitted in the office. The Gloria is omitted in Masses for the dead, in votive Masses, even during the Paschal time or an octave, except in the Mass de B. Maria in Sabbato, or de Angelis, or when the votive Mass is said for an important object, or some public affair of the Church, and without the purple vestments.

18. Low Masses votive or of requiem for the dead, cannot be celebrated on Sunday or on a double feast. They are also prohibited from the vigil of Christmas to the octave-day of the Epiphany inclusively, and on Ash-Wednesday; also, from Palm-Sunday to Low-Sunday inclusively; moreover, from the vigil of Pentecost to Trinity Sunday included, and during the octave of Corpus Christi.

19. High Masses of requiem for the dead, where the body is not present, are forbidden on double feasts; but where the body is present and unburied, they may be celebrated on Sundays (provided the parochial Mass be not omitted) and on doubles, even of the first class, which are not festivals of obligation. But these Masses, even when the body is present, are prohibited on the Nativity, Epiphany and Ascension of our Lord, Easter-day, Pentecost, Corpus Christi, Assumption of the B. V. Mary, All Saints, and the three days before Easter; also, on the feast of the principal patron, that of the titular saint, and such festivals as are celebrated with much solemnity.

20. The offices of the Sacred Passion, which are marked for the different Fridays of Lent, are ab libitum: that is, they may be recited by those who wish, but there is no obligation to do so. The same is to be said of the office of the M. Blessed Sacrament on Thursdays, and that of the conception of the B. V. Mary on Saturday, during the year. But if any one of these offices be omitted, the office occurring on the day according to the rubrics, should be recited.

21. In the office of the B. V. Mary and during the octave, the hymns conclude with the strophe, Jesu tibi sit gloria, Qui natus es, &c.; and in the Respons. at Prime, is said Qui natus es, &c., unless otherwise marked. Also, from the first Vespers of Christmas to the first Vespers of Epiphany, on the feast of the H. name of Jesus, and during the octave of Corpus Christi. The same is observed in the office of the Blessed Sacrament on Thursdays, and that of the B. V. Mary on Saturdays, from Complin of the preceding day, (if even a commemoration of these offices be made) until None inclusively.

SKETCH OF THE LIFE AND CHARACTER OF THE RT. REV. BENEDICT JOSEPH FLAGET, D. D., FIRST BISHOP OF LOUISVILLE.

Benedict Joseph Flaget, the subject of this Memoir, was born of respectable parents at Contournat, a village in the commune of S. Julien, near the town of Billom, France, on the 8th of November, 1764.* He was the youngest of three sons; and he survived his two elder brothers, both of whom, however, lived to a very advanced age. At the age of about two years, he was left an orphan; when a pious aunt took charge of him and his brothers, and devoted herself assiduously to rearing them up piously, and bestowing upon them the blessings of a Christian education. God bestowed an abundant benediction upon her exertions; and her three nephews all became distinguished members of society, and two of them bright and shining lights in the church of God. In after life, Bishop Flaget often spoke of her with expressions of gratitude; and he was frequently heard to observe that, having been left an orphan himself at so tender an age, he always cherished feelings of sympathy for those whom divine Providence had left in the same forlorn condition.

Piously inclined from the first dawn of reason, he gave early evidences of a vocation to the ecclesiastical state. Having made his preparatory studies at Billom, he studied philosophy and theology for two years in the University of Clermont, and then entered the Grand Seminary of Clermont, under the charge of the Sulpitians, and went through the rest of his regular course of studies, during which he was conspicuous among his companions for his assiduity and success in study, and above all for his tender piety.

Having a great veneration for his instructors, who in their turn had conceived much confidence in him, he went to Paris, and joined the distinguished Congregation of Sulpitians. He spent three years in the solitude at Issy, preparatory to his ordination which took place at the regular canonical age. Shortly after his ordination he was sent by his Superiors, first to the Seminary of Nantes, and then to that of Augers, both under their direction, in the capacity of Professor of Theology. This occurred some time in the year 1788, or in the beginning of 1789.

The young Professor was not long left in the tranquil shades of the Seminary. The storm of the French Revolution broke out with unparalleled fury, and threatened no less than the utter destruction of religion, with her churches and her sanctuaries of learning and piety, throughout France. The clergy, both regular and secular, were openly persecuted; and those who had the courage, as almost all of them had, to refuse the odious constitutional oath, were ruthlessly massacred, or forced to fly for their lives.

But Divine Providence drew abundant good out of such a flood of evil. Scattered over other countries, the heroic confessors among the French clergy diffused wherever they went the sweet odor of Jesus Christ. The Rev. Mr. Flaget, acting under the advice of his superiors, resolved to devote his life to the American missions; and in order to carry out this resolution, he repaired to Bordeaux, to embark for America, towards the close of the year 1791, or the beginning of 1792.* Here he met with the Rev. Mr. David, a brother Sulpitian, and Mr. Badin, a sub-deacon of Orleans. These three, having been thus providentially thrown together, sailed in the same vessel bound for Philadelphia, which city they reached on the 26th of March, 1792. After having been engaged for many years in missionary duty in places remote from one another, the three again met amidst the forests of Kentucky, to whose missions their lives were to be devoted.

On the 28th of March the missionaries reached Baltimore, where they found a colony of French Sulpitians who had arrived six months previously. They immediately called on the venerable Bishop Carroll, to whom they offered their services. While on their way to visit the Bishop for this purpose, they met him coming to anticipate them; and wishing to offer him an apology for being tardy, they were at once put at their ease by the dignified and sweet reply so characteristic of the first American prelate: "Gentlemen, you have travelled fifteen hundred leagues to see me; and surely it is as little as I could do to be the first to call on you."

In the fall of 1792, Mr. Flaget was sent by Bishop Carroll to Vincennes, in the North Western Territory, where there was a large congregation of French and Canadian Catholics without a Pastor. His journey westward was long, painful, and attended with no little personal danger. One of the first missionaries ever sent to the west by Bishop Carroll, he was compelled to pass through a vast wilderness invested with hostile savages, and without any of the conveniences of modern travel. Nevertheless he entered on his mission with a bold and dauntless heart, and never once faltered in his resolution.

General Wayne was then preparing his great expedition against the North Western Indians; and Mr. Flaget became acquainted with this distinguished officer in Pittsburg, where he remained for six months, the river at the time being too low for navigation. While there an incident occurred which made a strong expression on his sensitive heart, and of which he often afterwards spoke. The General, who was a stern disciplinarian, had condemned four soldiers to be shot for desertion. Mr. Flaget visited these unfortunate men; and though almost entirely unacquainted with the English language, he instructed and consoled them, through an interpreter, and prepared them to meet their fate with Christian resignation. One of them who was not a Catholic became a fervent convert; and the only one who refused to go to confession was a Frenchman. He plead for mercy in their behalf, but finding his intercession vain, he remained with the unhappy convicts as long as possible, and gave them the last absolution before their execution. It seemed that Providence had sent him, as an angel of mercy, to their succor in this sad emergency, when all human aid had failed them.

Continuing his journey westward, he reached Louisville after a long and perilous descent of the Ohio on a flat boat. Here he became acquainted with a worthy French gentleman, who owned a farm of 100 acres, at the mouth of Beargrass creek; now the central portion of Louisville. This gentleman was so much pleased with his Reverend guest, that he offered to make him his sole heir, and to execute a bond conveying to him his entire property, in case he would remain in Louisville, and become his chaplain. But the disinterested missionary thankfully declined the offer, alleging that he was under obedience, and that he must proceed at once to the perilous station assigned him by his Bishop. The property is now worth more than a million of dollars!

At Louisville he had the happiness to meet with the Rev. Messrs. Levadour and Richard, going like himself, to the Western French Missions; one to Kaskaskia and the other to Prairie du Rocher. He gladly availed himself of the occasion to make a confession; and not knowing when he should again have an opportunity, he used afterwards playfully to remark that he made a very good act of contrition.

At Vincennes, Mr. Flaget labored with indefatigable zeal for more than two years. His mission extended to the various old French stations lying within the bounds of the present States of Indiana and Illinois. At the present time, it is almost impossible to form an adequate conception of the difficulties and dangers attendant on travelling, at that early period, through a vast territory infested with bands of Indians, whose passions were then wrought up to the highest pitch of hatred against the whites. As often as he left Vincennes, he literally carried his life in his hands; and more than once he was in imminent danger. However, he soon won the savages by his sweetness and sacerdotal dignity; and they not unfrequently volunteered in large bands to escort him to Kaskaskia, Cahokias and other posts. At Vincennes his zeal was specially signalized during the prevalence of the small-pox, which swept off a large number of the population. His entire flock was devoted to their new pastor, whose zeal soon operated a thorough change in the religious aspect of the town.

Towards the close of the year 1794, Mr. Flaget was recalled to the east by Bishop Carroll, to discharge the office of Professor in the College of Georgetown, lately established. Mr. Rivet was appointed his successor at Vincennes. Bidding adieu to his beloved flock, while invoking with tearful eyes a blessing upon them and their children, he promptly repaired to his new post, by the way of New Orleans.

Mr. Flaget did not remain long in Georgetown College. His superiors appointed him with other Sulpitians to go to the Island of Cuba, with a view to establish there a college and seminary. Circumstances, however, prevented the carrying out of this plan. His companions soon returned to Baltimore, leaving him at Havana to examine the ground, and be prepared for any providential opening which might be presented. He became tutor and chaplain in a noble family; and was appointed by the French refugees on the Island, and by other benevolent persons, to present their munificent subscriptions to the late ex-king of the French, who was then an exile and in distress. While on the Island God permitted his servant to be visited by severe trials. He had a dangerous attack of fever from which he recovered with difficulty, only to experience a new affliction, much more distressing. Jealous and evil-minded persons slandered him to the ecclesiastical authorities; and the result was, that he was for a time deprived of his faculties. He bore this dreadful cross with heroic meekness and charity. Strong in faith, and conscious of his entire innocence, he calmly, and without a murmur or an uncharitable reflection against his calumniators, awaited the course of events; and when the calumnies were dissipated and his innocence was triumphantly established, he exulted not over his enemies; but, cordially forgiving them, he tranquilly resumed his sacred functions. It is thus that the saints of God have been usually tried in every age of the Church; that they might exhibit examples of Christian heroism, and might be made conformable to the image of their Divine Prototype.

About the year 1801, Mr. Flaget was recalled to Baltimore, to enter upon the arduous duties of Professor in St. Mary's College. He continued in this situation for nine or ten years, until he was elevated to the episcopacy. Combining the exercise of the holy ministry with his duties of Professor, he edified all by his laborious zeal, and his punctuality in the fulfilment of every duty.

The diocess of Bishop Carroll then embraced the whole of the United States;* and the number of Catholics continually increasing, while old age with its attendant infirmities was overtaking the venerable Patriarch of the American Church, he resolved to apply to the Holy See for the appointment of new bishops to share his pastoral solicitude. His application was successful. Pope Pius VII., in the midst of his manifold tribulations, was not unmindful of his distant American children. The four new Sees of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Bardstown, were erected, and Bishop Carroll was promoted to the rank of Archbishop. The Pontifical Rescripts were issued at Rome in 1808; but, owing to the difficulties of the times, they did not reach America until a considerable time afterwards; having passed, if we have been rightly informed, through the hands of the Papal Nuncio at Lisbon.

Mr. Flaget was nominated by the Pontiff the first Bishop of Bardstown. He was at Emmitsburg when the Bulls reached Baltimore; and a friend having written to him to inform him of the fact, he could scarcely credit the intelligence. He had never dreamed that he would be thought of in connexion with the episcopacy. Rumor had fixed the appointment on his friend, Mr. David. His humility took the alarm, and he repaired without delay to Baltimore, to ascertain the truth. The first person he met on the steps of the Seminary was Mr. David, who, embracing him, with tears exclaimed, with that apostolical candor and simplicity for which he was distinguished: "They told me that I was to be Bishop of Bardstown; I scarcely believed it, but, after prayer to God for light, I resolved, that should such be the case, I would invite you to accompany me to my new See: now that you are appointed to that See by the Vicar of Christ, I humbly offer myself to you, to follow you and do whatever you may be pleased to direct." With a heart throbbing with the emotion of Christian friendship, Bishop Flaget replied, that in case God would not permit "this chalice to pass away from him," which he fervently hoped, he would most cheerfully and thankfully accept the generous offer.

He omitted nothing to escape from the onerous burden, which Providence thus imposed upon his shoulders. He entreated his Sulpitian brethren to come to his succor; he implored their counsel, and represented his weakness and utter inadequacy to the task; he cast himself humbly at the feet of the new Archbishop, and begged to be released from a cross too heavy for his strength. He could not discover in himself the eminent qualities which all others perceived.

When every other means failed, he suddenly took his departure for France, in order to escape, if possible, from the awful responsibility of the mitre. He was doomed to a painful disappointment. On reaching Paris, he called on Father Emery, General Superior of the Sulpitians. Here he met with a cold reception, of which he often afterwards spoke, with that blending of seriousness with good humor which distinguished him. With a stern expression of countenance, and with his lips set in a manner characteristic of him, Mr. Emery's first salutation to him was: "Monseigneur! Vous devriez être dans votre Diocese;" "My Lord! you ought to be in your Diocess!" At the same time, he handed to the Bishop elect a formal order from the Pontiff to accept the proffered dignity. And, as Bishop Flaget was wont afterwards playfully to remark, the stern Superior would not even see or speak to him for two whole days afterwards!

Left thus to his own painful reflections, Bishop Flaget, finding that further resistance would be plainly in opposition to the holy will of God, resolved to accept without farther delay. After passing a short time with his family at Billom, he determined to return at once to America. His friends strongly urged him to be consecrated in France; but he firmly refused, alleging that as Archbishop Carroll had taken the responsibility of recommending him to the Holy See for the episcopal office, he should also consecrate him. He was accordingly consecrated in Baltimore on the 4th of November, 1810, the feast of St. Charles Borromeo, for whom he always cherished a special devotion.

Unforeseen difficulties now presented themselves. The new Bishop was too poor to defray the travelling expenses of himself and suite to Kentucky; and his flock, composed chiefly of new emigrants, were also too destitute to afford him much succor. He was, in consequence, compelled to remain in Baltimore till the ensuing Spring; when his kind friends in that city provided him the necessary means. Early in May, 1811, the missionary party made their way over the mountains. As Bishop Flaget wrote at the time, they had only one horse amongst them; and as Mr. David was in bad health, and "the slowest of foot" he generally rode, while the Bishop and his companions made their way on foot.

At Pittsburg, they embarked on a flat-boat on the 22d of May; and after "thirteen days of pleasant navigation,"* they reached Louisville on the 4th of June. The company consisted of a Canadian priest† who had lately joined the bishop, a sub-deacon,* and two young laics, who formed the nucleus of the new Theological Seminary, of which Mr. David had been appointed Superior by Mr. Emery. The Seminary was organized with regular exercises on the flat-boat, when the bishop and his two priests said mass on a temporary altar erected on the boxes.

The missionary band reached Louisville on the 4th of June, 1811. Here they were met by the Rev. Mr. Nerinckx, who accompanied them to Bardstown, whither they arrived on the 9th; and to St. Stephen's—at present Loretto—which they reached on the 10th of the same month. Here they were welcomed by all the other clergy of the Diocess—six in number—and by a large concourse of the laity, who received their new Bishop with reverent enthusiasm, singing canticles and the Litany of the B. Virgin. The ceremonial of the Pontifical for the reception and inauguration of a new Bishop was fully complied with, so far as circumstances would permit.

The Bishop's palace was a log cabin sixteen feet square; and an adjoining cabin of the same dimensions was appropriated to the Seminary. The Bishop resided at St. Stephen's for about a year; but in November, 1811, the Seminary was removed to St. Thomas', a fine farm near Bardstown, generously presented to the Bishop by Mr. Thomas Howard, a good and pious Catholic. Here, too, the Bishop shortly afterwards fixed his residence for about six years. In 1818, seven years after his arrival in Kentucky, he removed with Mr. David and the theological students of the Seminary, to his See at Bardstown. Here he continued to reside in a room of the Seminary, until 1841, when, the See having been transferred by the Holy See to Louisville, he repaired to this latter city, and continued to reside therein until his death in 1850.

In the years 1832–3, that dreadful scourge, the cholera, raged with fatal effects throughout Kentucky. Bishop Flaget, who never spared himself, soon caught the terrible disease, and he narrowly escaped with his life. His constitution, naturally very strong, was seriously impaired, and his physicians advised him to travel for his health. Having consecrated his second Coadjutor, the Rt. Rev. Dr. Chabrat, he went to France, in the Spring of 1835; and he remained there more than three years, until the fall of 1838; at which time he returned to his Diocess, according to the advice given him on the subject by the Sovereign Pontiff.

While in his native country, he was not idle, nor inattentive to the wants of his Diocess, and of the whole American Church. With the sanction of the Holy See, he accepted the invitation of the directors of that noble charity, the "Œuvre de la Propagation de la foi," to aid them by his influence in extending the sphere of this holy enterprize, and to promote this object, he travelled over France and a great part of Europe, every where preaching in favor of the good work. To his exertions much of the present prosperity of the association is justly due.

To enter at length into the details of his long episcopal career of nearly forty years, would require an entire volume of considerable dimensions; and we have reason to hope that, at no very distant day, this work, which from its very nature cannot fail to be both edifying and useful, will be undertaken by some one competent to the task. Abundant materials will not be wanting for the work.

* The present Rt. Rev. Dr. Chabrat.

Besides his copious and highly interesting autograph Journal, extending through a great portion of his episcopate, such portions of his papers and correspondence as have been preserved to the Diocess, will furnish a rich mine of edifying incidents and facts for his future biographer. His history forms an integral, and a very important portion of that of the Catholic Church in the United States, of which he was so conspicuous an ornament, for more than half a century. His episcopacy stretches through a much larger period than that of any other American prelate; and he has justly merited the title awarded to him by general consent—of "PATRIARCH of the American Hierarchy."

In a brief sketch, like the present, we cannot be expected to enter fully into this interesting history; and hence we shall conclude this Memoir with some general remarks on his character and episcopal career, and with a very brief account of his last sickness and death.

One remarkable feature in his episcopacy, was, that he had no less than three Coadjutors. Still more remarkable, perhaps, is the circumstance, that his two last Coadjutors were respectively appointed by the Holy See, and consecrated, while the previous Coadjutor was still living, having from age and infirmities resigned the episcopal charge. His first Coadjutor,—the Rt. Rev. Dr. David,—was about three years older than himself; and the health and sight of his second Coadjutor,—the Rt. Rev. Dr. Chabrat,—so far failed, as to induce his voluntary resignation, which was accepted by the Holy See.

A prominent trait in the character of Bishop Flaget, was his zeal for the salvation of souls. To secure this object, he spared no labor, and was ready "to spend and to be spent." This was the subject upon which he was most delighted to address his clergy, in those soul-stirring appeals replete with unction, which all well remember. This was the all engrossing thought which supported him amidst the multiplied and protracted hardships of his episcopal career; which urged him on from one extremity to the other of his vast Diocess; embracing for many years, the entire West and Northwest—from the 35th degree of North latitude to the Lakes;—a territory now comprising ten flourishing Diocesses. To save a soul redeemed by Jesus Christ, or to prevent the commission of a single mortal sin, he deemed an object worth every privation and suffering, even unto the endangering sacrifice of life itself. The spiritual welfare and salvation of his flock engaged his anxious attention by day, and often flitted across his mind in the visions of the night. This was a favorite subject of his conversation with his friends; and it was that for which he prayed most frequently and most fervently, especially at the holy altar.

His soul was constantly filled with that "solicitude of all the churches," of which St. Paul speaks. He had a tender and feeling paternal heart; and he shared fully in the sufferings and privations, as he did also in the joys and happiness of his clergy and people. "He rejoiced with those who rejoiced and wept with those who wept." No one was too high for his paternal admonition or rebuke; no one too low for his kind and tender sympathy. No one even came to him in distress for advice or consolation, who did not leave him with a lighter heart. Few, even of the carnal-minded and proud ones of the world, ever visited him without a seasonable advice, tendered so kindly, and in so attractive a manner, as to create a most favorable religious impression. He was cheerful and sprightly in conversation, even on indifferent subjects with people of the world ; but his conversation was often seasoned with the salt of heavenly wisdom, which tended to infuse a love of virtue into the minds of those who heard him. Thus, wherever he went and with whomsoever he conversed, he diffused "the good odor of Christ," around him. There was a calm and uniform dignity, an ineffable sweetness, a cheerfulness and vivacity, a tender and disinterested love of his fellow men, apparent in all his movements, and in all the various relations with mankind, into which he was thrown, exhibiting him as the true Christian Bishop, and the faithful Pastor, after the true Catholic type.

Though, amidst the many vicissitudes and troubles of his long episcopate, his heart—naturally sensitive—was often weighed down with the heavy burden of grief; and though he tasted deeply of the cup of sorrow, which God always sooner or later puts to the lips of his faithful servants, yet he seldom manifested his sadness to more than a few intimate friends, and to these only, in general, for a very short time. He was in the habit of laying his sorrows at the foot of the altar; and he always returned from prayer with a lighter heart, a more buoyant step, and a more cheerful smile. Frequently, even from the cloud of sadness which had for a moment settled on his brow, there would suddenly break forth a flash of wit, a happy bon mot, or a sally of good humor, which would render every one cheerful around him. This cheerfulness and affability to all, blended with an indiscribable unction and sweetness of manner, did not abandon him even in extreme old age ; when continued infirmities usually render less holy men fretful and petulant, or at least silent and stern, if not morose.

The secret cause of this ever flowing fountain of inward joy, was his love of the Cross of Christ, for Christ's sake. Few ever loved the Cross with a more tender, or a more solid and persevering affection. The expression of St. Paul,—"With Christ I am nailed to the Cross,"—has seldom had, in modern times, a more complete and ample fulfilment than in the person of the venerable Bishop Flaget. The Cross of Christ was the chosen burden of his conversations, as it was the beloved subject of his spiritual readings and meditations. During the last years of his life, he read, over and over again, the "Sufferings of Christ," by Fr. Thomas. A pious French lady had presented him with a small colored engraving, representing the Sacred Head of Christ crowned with thorns, and his Divine Face covered with blood and bruises. The saintly Bishop had this image constantly before his eyes ; and its lines were deeply engraved upon his heart. He even composed verses in French on the subject, and he delighted to recite them, with much feeling and unction, to his visiters.

He was, in an eminent degree, a man of prayer. Prayer was his beloved, and during the last years of his life especially, his almost constant occupation. Throughout his long life, till within a few months of his death, he very seldom failed to offer up daily the holy sacrifice ; he also daily made a lengthy meditation, and recited a portion of the Rosary. When, from defective sight and dizziness of head, he was no longer able to ascend the holy altar, or to recite the divine office, his heart was filled with grief at the privation; it was a sacrifice which cost him many a sigh and inward struggle. As a compensation, he spent almost the whole day, and a good part of the night also, in fervent meditation, in reading at intervals, for a short time, the Holy Scriptures, the Lives of the Saints, and the other work above named, and in reciting his beads.

This last particularly, was a devotion of which he never tired. Towards the Blessed Virgin he cherished, in common with all the saints of God, a most tender and solemn devotion; and he labored to instil the same into the hearts of all his spiritual children. He loved also to visit the Holy Sacrament; he often spent whole hours together before the altar, even when his infirmities were so great that he could scarcely kneel or even walk without assistance: and when unable any longer to visit the church, he made his visits to the Holy Sacrament in spirit, and delighted to dwell on the love manifested towards us by Christ in this divine institution of his love.

Yet, with all these eminent virtues, he was deeply and sincerely humble; and he felt as though he had as yet done nothing for God. When his memory, in a great measure, failed him, he often struck his breast, and said: "I forget every thing else, but I cannot forget myself." In the midst of his infirmities, with a head continually racked with pain, or unsettled by habitual vertigo, he trembled lest he should not have learned the lesson of entire disengagement from self. He could give himself credit for none of those virtues which won the admiration of all others.

An incident may serve to illustrate at once his humility and his gaiety in extreme old age. An American prelate having paid him a visit about eighteen months previous to his death, the venerable Patriarch related to him, with much vivacity and cheerfulness, an interview which he had had a few days before with a good Catholic lady, who had called on him to work a miracle in her favor. "I promised to pray for her," continued the holy Bishop, "but this would not satisfy her wishes; nothing short of a miracle would content her. Only think," he added smiling, "of the credulity of this good lady in piously believing that God would work a miracle—par un vieux coquin comme moi!—by an old sinner* like myself."

He was in the habit of asking the prayers of others, "not for a longer life, but for a holy and happy death." He sighed "to be dissolved and to be with Christ." After having consecrated, with his own hands, on the 10th of September, 1848, his last Coadjutor, the Rt. Rev. Dr. Spalding,† he fervently recited, with holy Simeon, the Nunc dimittis; and from that day almost his whole time was given up to prayer, and to an immediate preparation for death. He considered that his race was now well-nigh run, and his earthly mission accomplished. When told by his friends, that he should be yet resigned to live for the good of his flock, he answered, that he could be of more service to his children in heaven than on earth; and that he would not fail to pray for his friends and benefactors, whether he was living or dead. He ardently desired

*The French expressiou is even stronger.

†This was his last public official act, except the solemn blessing of the people from the balcony of his house on occasion of laying the corner stone of the new Cathedral.

and prayed that God would vouchsafe to give him his purgatory on earth, that he might on dying "be admitted into the heavenly abode." His favorite ejaculations, especially when suffering, were: "Que le bon Dieu soit loué! May the good God be praised! May the holy will of God be done!"

So holy a life could not but be followed by a holy death. "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his Saints!" was the exclamation of the Psalmist; which we may most appropriately apply to the death of Bishop Flaget. During the winter of 1849-'50, his health and strength rapidly declined. At length, unmistakeable symptoms of approaching dissolution manifested themselves. His weeping children knew that they were soon to lose a father on earth, but they were consoled with the reflection, that they would thereby gain a saint and intercessor in heaven.

At noon, on the 11th of February, 1850, he received from the hands of his Coadjutor attended by all the clergy of the city,—eleven in number,—the holy viaticum, extreme unction, and the last blessing with plenary indulgence: he was fully conscious and made a lasting impression on all by his saintly fervor in the reception of these last solemn rites: his secretary read for him the confession of faith, to every article of which he gave his most emphatic assent, causing certain passages, which he had not clearly understood, to be repeated: and he then endeavored to impart, so far as his failing strength would allow, his last solemn episcopal benediction to his beloved clergy and flock, while all present were bathed in tears. The remaining hours of his life were devoted to secret communing with God in prayer. Though unable to speak, he seemed to retain his consciousness to the last. At 5½ o'clock in the afternoon, he tranquilly expired, without a struggle. His death seemed rather a calm "falling asleep in the Lord," than a violent dissolution of soul and body.

His remains were laid out in state in the Church of St. Louis, and the ceremonial for the interment of a Bishop was fully complied with. During the interval between his decease and interment vast multitudes, both Catholic and Protestant, visited his sacred remains. The different Catholic congregations of the city, vied with one another in watching over them during the night, and in offering up fervent prayers for his repose. On the third day, a Solemn Mass of Requiem was sung by his successor, and his panegyric was eloquently preached by the Rt. Rev. Dr. Purcell, Bishop of Cincinnati. His old friend and associate in missionary labor, the venerable Father Badin, was also present, and followed his remains to the grave. Notwithstanding the exceeding inclemency of the weather, thousands walked in the funeral procession.

His body was temporarily deposited within the inclosure of the Monastery of the Good Shepherd, towards which institution he had always expressed feelings of especial interest. On the completion of the new Cathedral, his remains will be publicly translated to the Crypt under the high altar.

Thus died, in the odor of sanctity, the venerable Patriarch of the American Hierarchy; full of years, and of merits and grace before God and man. He was in the 86th year of his age, and the 62d of his priesthood, and the 40th of his episcopacy. His "children rise up and call him blessed." He was a model of every Christian, sacerdotal, and episcopal virtue. "His works have followed him." His spirit still lingers amongst us. The numerous institutions of learning and charity which he reared, will long continue monuments of his faith and zeal for the glory of God and the salvation of men. His old age was as tranquil and placid as a summer evening; and even after his sun had gone down to its rest, it continued to shed a rich and varied light on the clouds which overhang the world he had left. His death was even more glorious and radiant, if possible, than had been his life.

His Diocess has lost a holy Bishop, and the Catholic Church in America, a brilliant ornament; but both, we have every reason to hope, have gained a powerful friend in heaven. His long and useful life is one additional evidence of the almost incalculable amount of good which one humble man of God may, with the divine blessing, accomplish on earth.

Pokagon, Cass co., Most Holy and Immaculate Heart of Mary—Rev. Lewis Baroux, S. S. C. This mission numbers about 300 Catholic Indians of the Potowatomi nation. They are regularly attended by their pastor, and have a good school under the direction of two Sisters of the Society of the Holy Cross.

Sault St. Mary's, Chippeway co., St. Mary's—Rev. John B. Menet, S. J.

Anse, Kewenaw Bay, Lake Superior. The most holy name of Jesus. Very Rev. Frederick Baraga, Vic. Gen., and Rev. Angelus Van Paemel, who also visit the different stations in the copper region. The Indians belonging to this mission are continually advancing in civilization, good religious conduct and industrious habits. They live peaceable and contented, and enjoy already, in this world, the reward of their sobriety and christian-like mode of living. Their families increase and enjoy good health. It is remarkable how healthy these Indians are now. The circumstance deserves to be noticed, that since the ninth day of June 1849, to the 15th day of August 1850, (over fourteen months) not a single soul, either man, woman or child, has departed this life.

There is much hope of a considerable increase of this mission. Two Indians from a village far in the interior, came to the Anse this summer, and told us that the whole population of that Indian village, consisting of about one hundred and thirty persons, intend to come to this place, to settle here, and live as the Christian Indians do.

INSTITUTIONS.

SEMINARY OF ST. THOMAS,

DETROIT, MICHIGAN,

Under the immediate care of the Rt. Rev. Bishop, and Very Rev. Peter Kindekens.

St. Vincent's Select School for girls, conducted by the Sisters of Charity of the community at Emmitsburg. In this school all the branches of a plain and useful education are taught, and the moral and religious education of the scholars is particularly attended to. In addition, these sisters teach another school for poor children, numbering from 80 to 90 scholars. Catechetical instruction is attended to on every Wednesday afternoon, and one hour before high mass on Sundays, and also one hour before vespers.

St. Mary's Hospital.—The above sisters extend also their charity to the sufferings of afflicted humanity, and keep an asylum under the name and style of St. Mary's Hospital, where numbers of patients are daily receiving the spiritual and corporal advantages of their benevolence. The building is newly built of brick, three stories high, besides the basement, and measures 87 feet in length, by 54 in breadth. It is in an eligible location, with spacious ground attached to it, and has ample accommodation for over one hundred patients.

Trinity Church Schools, in the basement of Trinity church, one for boys, and the other for girls. Number of scholars 160.

St. Mary's School in Detroit. The school is held near St. Mary's church, and contains about 80 pupils.

Temperance Societies. The Temperance Societies in this diocess are very flourishing, and number about 10,000.

Catholic Guild of Detroit.—This association was established last July, and is under the patronage of SS. Peter and Paul, Apostles. It is governed by a chaplain, appointed by the bishop of the diocess, a warden, bursar, sub-bursar, secretary and council. As this is the only guild, properly speaking, in this country, we shall quote the following portions of the constitution and rules, to show its object and spirit:

Article 4, Sec. 1. This Holy Guild being purely a Catholic society, it is essentially necessary that its members be Catholic, and therefore every candidate must produce a certificate from his spiritual director, testifying to his being a member of and in communion with the church, and bearing a good moral character.

Article 5, Sec. 1. All members shall pay at the rate of nine cents per week: such payments to be made on the first Sunday of every month; and in case of the death of a member, each member shall pay 12½ cents towards defraying the funeral expenses.

Sec. 2. Every one, after being twelve months elected a member of the guild, shall be free and eligible to all the benefits of the guild, viz: in case of sickness or inability to follow his usual occupation, he shall be entitled to receive for his first three months, $2 00 per week; for the second three months, $1 50, and for six months more, $1 00 per week, when the sick benefit shall cease; but if such sickness or disability be brought on by any improper conduct, he shall not be entitled to such relief. Any member, after being sick and recovering, who may fall sick of the same disorder within twelve months after declaration off the funds of the guild, shall have the time of his previous sickness counted against him, and be paid accordingly.

Sec. 3. In case of the death of a member in full benefit, due notice shall be given to the Secretary, who shall see to the proper laying out of the body, shall summon such of the members as can make it convenient to attend, and read the office of the dead every evening so long as such member may remain uninterred, take charge of and see to the decent interment of the same. He shall notify the members respecting the time of the funeral, who shall attend under a fine of 50 cents, &c.

Article 7. Spiritual duties of the members.—Sec. 1. It shall be the duty of the members of the council, when visiting a sick member, particularly in cases of danger, to advise with, and read some spiritual work to, the sick member; and in case it be required, they shall order two members, who may live nearest the sick man, to sit up with him; and in case of their refusing, appoint others. Members refusing, to pay a fine of fifty cents each; but in case of such sickness being infectious, this article shall not be enforced.

Sec. 2. In case of the death of a member, the Secretary shall inform the council of the same, who shall assist at the office for the dead. He shall also summon the guild to the funeral.

Sec. 3. Four times in each year, viz: on the festivals of Christmas, Easter, SS. Peter and Paul, and All Saints, the members shall approach the Sacraments of Penance and the Holy Eucharist, together; due notice will be given as to the time of receiving the Blessed Sacrament.

Sec. 4. On the evening of All Souls, the members shall meet in the guild hall, for the purpose of devoutly reciting the office of the dead, for the repose of the souls of the deceased members of the guild.

Sec. 5. On the Sunday within the octave of the patron saints of the guild, SS. Peter and Paul, and all other festivals of the same holy patrons, a public investiture of the members, who may not have been invested, shall take place in the cathedral, and the members are requested to contribute towards the adorning of the altar on such occasions.

Sec. 6. The members of the guild will always feel honored by assisting at any of the festivals of the church, as processions, vigils, or in any other manner the chaplain may think proper.

INSTITUTIONS.

ECCLESIASTICAL SEMINARY,

VINCENNES, INDIANA.

There are ten students under the provisional care of the clergy of the cathedral. Rev. J. B. Chassé, Superior.

SOCIETY OF THE HOLY CROSS,

AT NOTRE-DAME-DU-LAC, NEAR SOUTHBEND, INDIANA.

The "Association of the Holy Cross," whose Mother House is in Mans, Frances founded an establishment in 1843, at Notre-Dame-Du-Lac, where it possesses on an extensive farm, a university, a novitiate for the Priests and for the Brothers, and a manual labor school, in which orphan boys are taught by the Brothers, the most useful trades of the country, together with a good common English education.

This institute consists of three distinct branches, with the same end, nearly the same rules, the same vows of obedience, chastity, and poverty, the same interests, and the same government, viz:

1st. The "Priests of the Holy Cross," consecrated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Their constitutions are nearly those of St. Ignatius of Loyola; they devote themselves to missions and to education, in which they are assisted by the Brothers.

2d. The Brothers, similar to the Christian Brothers, are consecrated to the Most Holy Heart of St. Joseph, and chiefly instituted to teach the poor and the destitute; they take charge of orphan asylums, and teach useful trades; and they also discharge the manual offices connected with a college, and a farm. The most suitable age for admission is from fifteen to thirty-five; and the qualifications are chiefly—a blameless character, a sound constitution, a true piety, pure morals, a firm and conciliating temper, and a great desire of personal sanctification in the line of obedience. When the Brothers are sent out, they must be two at least, and they receive each a salary of $100 per annum, unless they take the school on their own account. Their novitiate is of one year, and they cannot make their perpetual vows before they are twenty-five years of age.

3d. The "Sisters of the Holy Cross," consecrated to the Most Immaculate and Sorrowful Heart of Mary, like the Sisters of Charity, are devoted to the education of youth, to the service of orphan asylums and hospitals; they also discharge for the colleges of the institute, the various functions of infirmarians, sacristans, &c. Their novitiate is at Bertrand, Berrien co., Mich., five miles from Notre-Dame-Du-Lac. They have also there an academy and a female orphan asylum, nearly on the same plan as that of the Brothers. The rest as above.

To be admitted into either the male or the female orphan asylum, the children must be at least 12 years old, and they are bound to remain until they are 21 years of age. They must pay $40 as security, and this amount is returned in clothes at the expiration of the time. The success of these two establishments sufficiently justifies what has already been frequently said of them: "Blessed are the youths thus sheltered from the dangers of the world; but thrice blessed those whose devotedness procures them these favors."

The terms of the University for tuition and board are $90, and those of the academy at Bertrand $60 per annum.

The object of these two institutions is to give, first of all, a sound and thoroughly religious education.

There are seven professed priests in the society, four of whom reside at Notre-Dame-Du-Lac, viz:

Rev. E. Sorin, S. S. C., Superior of the whole institution, and President of the University.
Rev. Francis Cointet, S. S. C.
Rev. Alexis Granger, S. S. C.
Rev. Richard Shortis, S. S. C.

There are six novices, one of whom is a priest, and the others, students of theology.

There are in the society 21 professed brothers, 12 novices, and 7 postulants.

Number of professed sisters, 22; novices 15; postulants 5.

COMMUNITY OF ST. MARY'S OF THE WOODS,

NEAR TERRE HAUTE, IND.

The Sisters of Providence have their Mother House at this place. This community was founded in 1840, by six French Sisters, who arrived in this country in the month of September.

Notwithstanding their seemingly unfavorable situation in the "wild woods" of Indiana, Providence has so blessed a house bearing its name, that it now consists of fifty members, of whom twenty-nine are professed sisters, thirteen novices, and eight postulants.

The foundress and Mother Superior, is Sister Theodora Guerin. Besides the Academy and free school at St. Mary's there are five establishments in the State, under the direction of the Sisters; and they would have many more, could their number permit them to comply with the urgent calls, coming from different parts of the diocess, where many female children remain in ignorance of that useful and religious instruction, which it is the special province of a Sister of Charity to impart.

Heretofore the pecuniary circumstances of the diocess have been such, that it was not possible to offer an asylum to its indigent orphans, but the unwearied and pious exertions of Bishop de St. Palais have at last succeeded in opening one at Vincennes, which has been placed under the charge of the Sisters.

1. St. Mary's Female Orphan Asylum and Free School, Franklin street, Baltimore, which supports 100 orphans and affords daily instruction to about 150 poor children. It is served by seven Sisters; Sister Fidelis, Sr. Servant.

2. Baltimore Infirmary, connected with the Medical College, capable of accommodating 130 patients. There are at present ninety in the house. It is served by nine Sisters. Sr. Mary Chrysostom, Sr. Ser.

3. Mt. Hope Institution, for the insane and sick, in the north western suburbs of Baltimore. This beautiful and healthy site, which was purchased by the Sisters several years ago, has been lately very much improved by the spacious and commodious additions made to the original buildings. The Sisters have incurred a heavy debt in making these arrangements for the more comfortable location and better attendance of the sick—particularly the insane; and for this reason the institution has a strong claim, not only upon public patronage but upon the liberal aid of the community, in discharging its dues. But on another and still higher ground is it deserving of the favorable consideration of the humane and benevolent. Burdened, though this institution is, with a heavy load of debt, incurred in remodelling and almost reconstructing the whole building, yet have the Sisters not been deaf to the claims of charity;—they have not been unmindful of the insane poor and destitute. For several years they have had an average number on the charity list, of from thirteen to twenty. At present they have sixteen full charity patients, receiving its advantages and paying nothing. Their efforts to benefit and take care of this most unfortunate class of patients should not be suffered to languish for the want of timely assistance from the benevolent. The whole number of patients last year was 356, of this number 223 were treated in the insane department, and 123 in the department for general diseases. There are twenty-two Sisters in the establishment. Sister CEPHAS, Sr. Servant.

4. St. Vincent's School, for girls, already mentioned.

5. St. Peter's School, for girls, already mentioned.

6. The Household Department and Infirmary, at St. Mary's College, Baltimore, are under the charge of four Sisters. Sister FANNY Sr. Servant.

7. St. Vincent's Female Asylum and Free School, in Washington City, D. C., 10th st. between F and G, attended by six Sisters. Sister MARY DE SALES, Sr. Servant. The Asylum contains 31 orphans, and the school 150 pupils. A new asylum, 84 feet by 45, and four stories high, has been completed, and will accommodate 150 orphans.

8. The Household Department and Infirmary, at Mt. St. Mary's College, are under the charge of four Sisters. Sister CATHARINE, Sr. Servant.

9. St. Philomena's Asylum, attached to the Mother-house, Emmitsburg, for the education of orphan girls, contains twenty-five orphans, and is served by four Sisters. Sister M. RESTITUTA, Sr. Servant.

10. Free School, for girls, attached to the mother-house, Emmitsburg, contains about fifty pupils.

PHILADELPHIA ACADEMY OF THE VISITATION,

SOUTH-WEST CORNER OF BROAD AND POPLAR STREETS.

The location of the institution, and the adaptation of the buildings and grounds to the health, comfort, and recreation of the boarders, are such, that they cannot fail to excite the admiration of all who are interested. Its position is peculiarly favorable. It fronts on Broad street, which is over 100 feet in width and several miles in length; and it is situated on one of the highest points of ground in the city. The buildings have been erected at great expense, and possess every convenience for the purposes to which they are now appropriated. The grounds are spacious, tastefully laid out, and planted with rare and beautiful shade trees and shrubbery.

Terms—Payable in advance—For board, tuition, (exclusive of extras,) stationery, bedding, washing and mending, per session,.....$10 00

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL,

ON THE GRAND AVENUE, GREEN HILL.

Under the care of the Sisters of St. Joseph. Mother St. John, Superior.

The managers of this institution, which was incorporated March 1849, have been fortunate to secure for it one of the most eligible sites that could be desired for a public or private hospital. The buildings stand within an enclosure, fronting 400 feet on the Girard Avenue, by nearly 200 feet in depth, and on one of the highest and most healthful spots in the vicinity of Philadelphia. The report of the hospital for the first year, precludes any doubt of its success, if it only meets with that degree of public patronage which it justly deserves.

☞Number of patients received during the first nine months, 185, of which number 154 were from Ireland, the rest from the United States and different parts of Europe. Out of the 185 cases there were nine deaths, including three patients who were brought to the hospital in a dying condition.

Trusting that among the bequests of the charitable, this institution will occasionally be remembered, lest any legal informality might frustrate the intentions of the benevolent, it is deemed proper to give the following "FORM OF A BEQUEST:"

I do hereby give and bequeath to the St. Joseph Hospital in the county of Philadelphia, (here mention the amount, or describe the property bequeathed.)

THE ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL BENEFICIAL SOCIETY.—The members of this society are entitled to all the advantages of the hospital, on payment of one dollar, initiation fee, and three dollars annually; which payments may be commuted into a life subscription of $25, at the option of the applicant. For further information apply to the clergy at St. John's Church, 13th street, above Chesnut, or at St. Joseph's, Willings Alley.

Petersburg, Dinwiddie county, St. Joseph's—vacant, attended occasionally from Richmond.

Martinsburg, Berkeley county, St. John's—Rev. Jos. H. Plunkett. Mass the first and third Sunday of each month.

Harper's Ferry, Jefferson county, St. Peter's—Rev. Jos. H. Plunkett. Mass 2d and 4th Sunday.

Bath, Morgan county, St. Vincent of Paul—Rev. J. H. Plunkett. Mass 1st Tuesday of each month.

Winchester, Frederick county, St. Patrick's—Rev. J. H. Plunkett. Mass the 5th Sunday and the 2d Tuesday of each month.

Bolington, Loudon county—visited every three months.

A German priest visits Martinsburg and Harper's Ferry every three months.

At Martinsburg, Harper's Ferry and Bath, there are very flourishing Sunday Schools.

The stations in Hampshire and Hardy counties are at present unattended from want of priests.

*This report was furnished by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Whelan, late bishop of Richmond.

Lynchburg, Campbell county, St. Francis Xavier—Rev. Thos. Mulvey. Staunton, Augusta county, new church—Rev. D. Downey, who visits Lexington, Charlottesville and several other places.

In Fauquier county, the bishop, during his recent visitation, found more scattered Catholics than he expected to meet in that quarter, and the presence of very few others will justify the erection of one or two chapels within the county.

INSTITUTIONS.

DIOCESS OF WHEELING.*

Owing to the great extent of the diocess of Richmond, and the great natural barriers dividing the East from the Western portion of the State of Virginia, the creation of a See at Wheeling, was recommended by the last Provincial Council. The recommendation was approved by his Holiness, and the new See formed with jurisdiction over that portion of the State lying West of Maryland and the Allegheny mountains, north of Monroe county, and thence following the lines of Monroe, Giles, Montgomery, Floyd, and Grayson counties. By his own election Bishop Whelan, lately of Richmond, was recommended for the new See, and was accordingly appointed by a Bull dated July 23. The number of priests, churches, and Catholics in the new diocess is small, though it is spread over a large surface.

CHURCHES AND CLERGY.

VIRGINIA.

Wheeling, Ohio county, St. James's Cathedral—Rt. Rev. R. V. Whelan, D. D., Rev. Wm. Mosbleck and Rev. Jos. Billon. The clergymen of the city will attend Parkersburg and the other points on the river and convenient to it, where Catholics are known to reside.

Parkersburg, Wood county—attended from Wheeling. The neat brick church lately erected here is so far advanced as to be used, though not entirely completed.

Preston Co., St. Joseph's—a log chapel in the vicinity of Kingwood, around which has been slowly gathering a German congregation. It is attended by Rev. A. Grogan, who resides near by. Another chapel St. Mary's, has been erected immediately at the Great Tunnel of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, within five miles of the former—and at this Rev. Mr. Grogan will fix his residence and attend the laborers upon this line of work.

Taylor Co.—It is in contemplation to erect a chapel likewise immediately, in this county, near the junction of the railroad with the northwestern turnpike. It will be attended by Rev. Mr. Grogan, until an assistant clergyman can be located there to reside.

Fairmount, Marion county—Here also there is some prospect of erecting a chapel within the year.

Morgantown, Monongahela county, is attended occasionally from Kingwood.

Weston, Lewis county, St. Patrick's—Rev. Bartholomew Stack, who resides at this place. Mass first and third Sunday of the month.

Braxton Court House—attended from Weston every month, on a week-day, and on every fifth Sunday of the month, when it occurs. A lot, with an unfinished building, has been secured for a church.

Summersville, Nicholas county, St. John's—attended from Weston, on the fourth Sunday of each month.

Charleston, and the Salines of Kanawha county, will be attended occasionally by the missionary priest residing at Wheeling.

* This report was communicated by the Rt. Rev. bishop.

Union, Monroe county—visited four times in the year by the Rev. D. Downey, of Staunton. Circumstances have delayed the erection of a church at this point, but the design has not at all been abandoned; on the contrary, the hope is entertained that, during the present year, more frequent attendance may be provided, and the building commenced.

Sweet Springs, Monroe county—A church is here to be erected, chiefly by individual liberality, and a clergyman is to be placed at this point, to attend Union and other neighboring places.

Tazewell Court House—attended from Wytheville. A lot, with a frame house, suited for the purpose of a chapel, has been purchased at this point.

Wytheville, Wythe county, St. Mary's—attended occasionally.

☞In western Virginia there are fine tracts of good land, which can be purchased at very low prices, and to which Catholic settlers are now turning their steps. In this part of the State the slave population is very small, and families of small means may expect to live comfortably and respected. Efforts are made to give spiritual attendance to all families, settling at places not too remote from the residence of the clergyman.

ST. MARY'S ECCLESIASTICAL SEMINARY,

PERRY COUNTY, MISSOURI.

This seminary is intended for the education of young men, who aspire to the ecclesiastical state.

The course of studies is solid and extensive, embracing the Latin, Greek, English, German and French languages, Profane and Ecclesiastical History, Geography, Use of the Globes, Arithmetic, Bookkeeping, Algebra, Geometry, Natural and Moral Philosophy, Gregorian Chant and Ceremonies of the Church. Pains have been taken so to regulate the course, that while preparing for the higher branches of ecclesiastical studies, each pupil will have acquired as much collegiate education, as will fit him to pursue his studies in the higher classes of an university, or stand with credit to himself in any counting-house.

No student will be admitted who has not made the elementary studies of the English language. He must moreover have a testimonial of good conduct from his pastor, and manifest a disposition for the ecclesiastical state.

Terms.—In consequence of the many advantages possessed by this long established institution, terms are very moderate. Hence for all expenses of board and tuition only $100 per annum. Clothing and mending, when provided for by the establishment, form an extra charge. No deductions made. Half-yearly payments are, in all cases, required in advance.

As soon as any student has discovered, with the assistance of his spiritual director, that God does not call him to the ecclesiastical state, he is requested to retire. He will leave his retreat well instructed and strengthened by virtuous habits, to occupy some other station in life, it is hoped, with honor and safety.

Students admitted from all diocesses.

A class of Theology has been commenced, at the suggestion of some of the Right Reverend Prelates.

INSTITUTIONS.

ACADEMY FOR BOYS,

AT DUBUQUE.

St. Raphael's. This academy, which has about sixty pupils, is under the immediate direction of the clergy of the Cathedral.

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY.

St. Joseph's Female Academy is about eight miles from the city of Dubuque. The site is elevated, healthy, beautiful, and surrounded by a rich alluvial soil. The chapel and buildings are plain but neat. At a short distance stands St. Joseph's Church; its congregation is already numerous.

The children of the country come early on Sundays for instruction; they are invited, and cordially provided with a plentiful dinner by the Very Rev. Superior.

This purchase of one square mile has been made for the mother-house of the community, with funds furnished by the generous Philadelphians, as an indemnity to an unoffending society, who had suffered in that city by the burnings of May, 1844.

Another fire has afflicted this community; but by much exertion, and with the help of generous persons, a large stone house is commenced, which will make the establishment much more conspicuous and comfortable.

ST. MARY'S FEMALE ACADEMY,

Already known to the public, is re-opened in Dubuque, to which is attached a large day school. The use of this property, for the time being, has been given by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Loras to the Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin.

The Mother Superior is Sister Mary Frances Clarke, to whom letters are to be directed. There are in the community at present, including novices, thirty-three sisters. Last season they had at St. Joseph's Academy 22 boarders. Parents or guardians residing at a distance are required to have a responsible agent in the city of Dubuque.

Terms—Board and tuition, per annum, including bed, washing and mending.....$100 00
Music and use of the Piano, quarterly 10 00
French or German per quarter..... 4 00

The Very Rev. T. C. Donaghoe is the founder and the director of this new order.

An extensive and valuable piece of land, including rich prairies well watered and good timber, with valuable improvements on it, has been generously given by the Rt. Rev. Bishop, to a branch of the Cistercian Order, called the Trappists, who came lately from Mt. Mellerey in Ireland. They have purchased, at Congress price, much of the neighboring land, and they have built a chapel, where many persons come to mass on Sunday, and a school house where they teach every day. They keep their rules well and give great edification to the people. Their number is forty, including five priests, viz: Very Rev. Francis Walsh, Prior; James O'Gorman, Superior; Bernard McCaffrey, Clement Smyth, Patrick Mohan. The name of the monastery, which is situated 12 miles from Dubuque, is: Our Lady of the New Mellerey.

Dubuque Catholic Society, which was formed in 1837, is chiefly intended to support the church and the clergy of the cathedral. It includes now all the male members of the congregation, who are 18 years old, or above. They pay 25 cents per month, or $3 a year.

Ladies Catholic Association, of Dubuque, for charitable purposes. The ladies meet on every second Sunday of the month, and pay 12½ cents per month, chiefly for the support of the poor and orphans. A charity sermon is preached occasionally.

Sunday Schools, at Dubuque, Makokoti, Davenport, Burlington, &c.

A School at Makokoti, Jackson county, under the direction of the Rev. J. G. Perrodin.

A large and well built brick house, in the rear of the Cathedral, has been completed. It is at present occupied as a residence for the Bisbop and Clergy of the Diocess. The interior arrangements are adapted for the purposes of a Seminary.

There are Temperance Societies in Dubuque, and several other places.

ST. JOSEPH'S FEMALE SCHOOL,

MILWAUKIE CITY.

This institution, in which all the branches of an English and polite education are taught, is under the charge of five Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph's. Sister Mary Simeon, Sr. Servant.

Connected with this institution is also a large English Free School, in a new separate building.

Day and Sunday Schools, are attached to almost every church in the Diocess. St Mary's, (Milwaukie,) has two schools, with their male and female teachers, and attended by more than 200 children, taught in the German and English languages.

Charitable Institutions.

St. John's Infirmary, Milwaukie. This institution was opened for the sick on Monday, May 15, 1848, under the charge of sisters of Charity from St. Joseph's, Emmitsburg, Md. The house is large, commodious, and built in the healthiest part of the city. Three apartments are allotted to patients generally; but select rooms may be had by those who are qualfied to prefer them.

As the Sisters of Charity are to be the only nurses and attendants in the house, none need fear the absence of sympathy, and eager vigilance. The very title and profession of a daughter of St. Vincent de Paul, are sufficient guarantees to the public, that there will be no departure from the strictest order, the greatest cleanliness, and the most unremitting attention.

Patients may call in any duly authorised medical man they please; but all food and medicine must be administered by the Sisters. But this rule does not suffer them to deviate from the physician's advice.

Any patient may call for any clergyman he may prefer. But no minister, whether Protesant or Catholic, will be permitted to preach to, to pray aloud before, or interfere religiously with, such patients as do not ask for the exercise of his office. The rights of conscience must be held paramount to all others.

The fees for the keeping of patients either with or without medical attendence, may be known by application to the Sister Superior.

Visits may be made at any time—Sundays excepted—from 10 o'clock A. M., till 6 o'clock P. M. But no rule, save such as a sense of delicacy to the Sisters would dictate, will at any time bar the entrance of the immediate friends of the afflicted. The number of patients received in St. John's Infirmary from October 1st 1849, to October 1st 1850, were 293.

There are five sisters in the institution. Sister MARY FELICITAS, Sr. Servant.

ÆMILIANUM—THE MALE ORPHAN ASYLUM, with 21 destitute boys is placed under the protection of St. Jerome Æmilianus, and is supported by charity, under the direction of two ladies for the present.

ST. ROSA'S FEMALE ORPHAN ASYLUM, contains already 33 orphan children, entrusted to the care of Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph. Sister MARY SIMEON, Servant.

ST. JOSEPH'S SCHOOL SOCIETY, connected with St. Mary's church, (Milwaukie,) and supporting two large schools by its monthly contributions.

St. MARY'S LADIES' BENEVOLENT SOCIETY, for the relief of the poor and sick, being attached to St. Peter's and St. Gall's congregations.

ST. JOHN'S YOUNG MEN'S SOCIETY, composed of members of St. Mary's church, (Milwaukie,) for building and ornamenting altars.

CONVENT OF THE SISTERS OF MERCY,

GALENA, ILLINOIS.

This Convent is a branch of the Mother house in Chicago, and is under the superintendence of the Bishop of the diocess and of the Mother Superior of Chicago. It contains one professed sister, six novices and one postulant. Sister Theresa Riley, Local Superior.

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY FOR YOUNG LADIES,

GALENA, ILLINOIS.

This institution is attached to the Convent and conducted by the Sisters. The regulations, terms, expenses and extra charges, are the same as those of the Academy of St. Francis Xavier, at Chicago. The number of boarders not ascertained. Externs between 40 and 50. The local Superior of the Convent is also the Directress of the Academy.

CONVENT AND ACADEMY OF THE SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH,

CAHOKIA, ILLINOIS.

This institution is a branch of the Mother-house of the order at Carondelet, near St. Louis, Mo. The Sisters are three or four in number, and devote themselves to the education of female children in all the branches that are generally taught in other Catholic academies. The price of board and tuition is very moderate, and the strictest attention is paid to the improvement of pupils in science and morality. Number of pupils not yet ascertained.

CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

ST. JOSEPH'S MALE ORPHAN ASYLUM,

CHICAGO.

This institution is now kept in a small frame building, which the Bishop purchased last year, together with the lot on which it stands on Wabash avenue. There are now 35 orphan boys who are under the care of two Sisters of Mercy and of an assistant Matron. Several of those who had been admitted last year, have since been placed out in Catholic families. It is hoped that we shall be able to erect a suitable brick building on the lot this year, depending upon Providence for the expenses to be incurred.

ST. MARY'S FEMALE ORPHAN ASYLUM.

The orphan girls have been removed to the north side of the river, where a frame house has been rented for their accommodation. They are under the care of four Sisters of Mercy. Several of them lately died of the cholera, others have been placed out in Catholic families, so that the number is at present reduced to 38, which is as many as the scantiness of our means permits us to support.

ST. JOSEPH'S FREE SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

This school is kept in South Chicago, near the Bishop's residence, and is taught by two young men daily sent from the University. The number of children attending it amounts to upwards of 40.

ST. MARY'S FREE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS,

Is kept in the rear of the Cathedral. It is under the management of the Sisters of Mercy. About 80 children attend it.

ST. JAMES'S FREE SCHOOL,

NORTH CHICAGO.

This school was opened last year and already numbers 130 children. It is kept in a building rented for the purpose, contiguous to St. Mary's Orphan Asylum, and is taught by three Sisters of Mercy, who reside at the asylum in the congregation of the Holy Name of Jesus.

Sunday-schools are attached to the cathedral, the Convent of the Sisters of Mercy, and to several churches in the city and throughout the Diocess.

A very numerous Temperance Society exists in the Congregation of the Holy Name for the city of Chicago. Others have been formed in several other congregations.

ALTAR SOCIETIES are established in some of the churches and confraternities of the Rosary, of the Scapular, and of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, have also been formed in various churches of the Diocess.

ST. CATHARINE'S CONVENT OF SISTERS OF MERCY,

CORNER OF HOUSTON AND MULBERRY STS., N. Y.

There are in this community 12 professed religious, 8 novices and 5 postulants. Mother AGNES, Superior.

The various objects of utility which this institution embraces, are as follows:

First Object—"The House of Protection," in which young women of good character are protected and supported, until situations are provided for them: thus applying a remedy to the dreadful evils consequent on poverty and the want of employment.

Second Object—"The Visitation of the Sick." The Sisters of Mercy visit the sick poor every day, and carry to them nourishment and clothing, as far as their means admit. The scenes of sorrow and misery they witness can scarcely be described. The Sisters are convinced, that if those to whom this appeal is made could see these sorrowful afflicted creatures, they would feel delighted in being instrumental in alleviating their sufferings.

Third Object—"The Instruction of Poor Girls." To this important branch of the institute, the Sisters devote their best energies; that the children of the poor may be fitted to become useful and virtuous members of society.

Adults also, requiring instruction, are daily attended to.

Schools for the gratuitous education of the children of the poor, are about being opened. In the House of Mercy adjoining the Convent, there are 100 poor girls of good character who are protected and supported until situations are provided for them.

ST. VINCENT'S HOSPITAL,

NEW YORK.

Under the charge of the Sisters of Charity, 13th-st., between 3d and 4th Avenues, formerly known as the Washington Institute.—This institution is situated in a central and eligible location, and is fitted up with due regard to the comfort and convenience of the patients. The desire has been generally expressed that there should be such an institution, in which, together with the best medical advice, patients might have the advantages of the tender and skilful nursing of the Sisters of Charity. The purpose of St. Vincent's Hospital is to realize this desire. The institution will be, in its government, Roman Catholic; but persons of all religious denominations are admitted.

The following gentlemen have kindly offered their services: Valentine Mott, M. D., consulting physician and surgeon; Wm. Power, M. D., Wm. Murray, M. D., attending physicians; Wm. H. Van Buren, M. D., John W. Schmidt, Jr., M. D., attending surgeons.

Regulations and terms: 1. Persons suffering from contagious diseases are not admitted into the hospital. 2. Application for admission should be made to the Sister Servant at the hospital. 3. For patients in the general ward—for board, washing, medical attendance, nursing, medicine, &c.—the charge will be $3 per week. 4. For such as desire private rooms, terms will be made known at the hospital. 5. As many patients as the means of the institution permit, are received free. The Sisters are ever willing to admit the sick poor, and to give their time and kindest attention gratis; but as they have no funds, no endowment, they can do but little at present. 6. Visitors will be admitted once a week, (Wednesday,) from 3 to 5 P. M. Relatives of the sick will be admitted at other times, according to the discretion of the Sister Servant, and so as not to disturb the patient.

Besides the above are:

Free Schools attached to Transfiguration church containing about 400 children.

Nativity Church Free School, from 5 to 600 children.

St. Nicholas' Church Free School, about 200 children.

Free School, at the church of the M. H. Redeemer, in which there are three departments, from 6 to 700 children.

St. Alphonsus School, at St. Alphonsus church, about 200 children.

St. James Free School, in Brooklyn, from 3 to 400 children.

St. Paul's Select and Free School, in Brooklyn, from 3 to 400 children.

The Archconfraternity of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, is established at the churches of Transfiguration, St. Vincent de Paul and the Most Holy Redeemer.

The Confraternity of the Rosary and other religious Societies are established in nearly all the churches of the archdiocess.

Four conferences of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul have been commenced in the city of New York.

There are also Temperance Societies in several parts of the Archdiocess.

INSTITUTIONS.

COLLEGE OF ST. ANDREW.

Near Fort Smith and Van Buren, Crawford county, Rev. John Monaghan, President, who is aided by five professors. The course of studies embraces all the branches taught in the best institutions, and the terms are moderate. The College was chartered by the last Legislature of Arkansas, with all the powers granted to Universities. The Ecclesiastical Seminary is situated on the College grounds, which are considered among the most beautiful in the United States. The Rev. Peter M. Walsh is the Superior, who is well known for his high literary attainments.

Remarks.—The Bishop is about erecting a considerable addition to the College buildings, which when completed will afford accommodation for a large number of pupils. Young men desirous of joining the Christian Brothers attached to the College can apply by letter to Rev. J. Monaghan or Rev. P. M. Walsh. Since the establishment of the college, Catholic families are settling on Congress lands, a few miles from Fort Smith.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY FOR YOUNG LADIES, LITTLE ROCK.

Under the especial patronage of Right Rev. Dr. Byrne. The Academy is situated in a retired part of the city, immediately opposite the Cathedral, and possesses every advantage which can contribute to the health and happiness of the pupils. The buildings are spacious, and the grounds offer a delightful resort during the hours of recreation. The course of studies embraces all the branches usually taught in the best schools for young ladies; and the most constant attention will be paid to the moral as well as to the mental education of the pupils.

Terms per session of five months, payable in advance.

ARCHDIOCESS OF OREGON CITY,*

OREGON TERRITORY.

Oregon Territory is divided into eight diocesses, forming an ecclesiastical province of which Oregon city is the Metropolitan See.† This See is occupied by the Most Rev. FR. N. BLANCHET, who has the administration also of the diocess of Nesqualy.

CHURCHES AND CLERGY.

Cathedral of St. Paul, on the Willamette—Most Rev. F. N. Blanchet, D. D.

St. John the Evangelist, Oregon city.

New Church in the Willamette Prairie.

St. Francis Xavier's, Cowlitz.

* The account of the missions in Oregon, as here published, is nearly the same as that in the last Almanac. The information respecting them, that was received by the editor, refers to the districts served by missionaries of the Society of Jesus. These districts, however, embrace nearly all the missionary labor in Oregon. The Catholics in the archdiocess of Oregon city are whites and half-breeds. In the other diocesses the missions are chiefly among the Indian tribes.

† Three of these diocesses, viz., Vancouver's Island, Princess Charlotte, and New Caledonia, and a part of Colville, are not included within the territory of the U. States. The Rt. Rev. Modest Demers, one of the first missionaries that visited Oregon in 1838, has been charged with the See of Vancouver's Island, and the administration of the two other districts of the British portion of the territory. In New Caledonia there are chapels at Lake Stuart, Fort Alexandria, the Rapids, and Appatoka.—See Almanac of 1849.

Residence of St. Francis Xavier, Willamette valley—Rev. Mich. Accolti, S. J., Superior of the Missions of the Society of Jesus in Oregon; Rev. Al. Vercrusse, S. J., Rev. Jos. Menetry, S. J., and four lay brothers.
St. James', Fort Vancouver—attended from the Residence of St. Francis Xavier, Willamette.

INSTITUTIONS.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE, at the Willamette, containing forty students, chiefly half-breeds. It is under the direction of Rev. J. B. Bolduc.
FEMALE ACADEMY, at the Willamette, conducted by Sisters of Notre Dame. Sister Loyola, Superior. It contains fifty boarders.

DIOCESS OF WALLA WALLA,

OREGON TERRITORY.

This diocess is under the charge of the Rt. Rev. Magloire Blanchet, D. D., who has also a provisional jurisdiction over the diocesses of Fort Hall and Colville.
Church and Residence of the Sacred Heart, among the nation of Pointed Hearts—Rev. Joseph Joset, S. J., Superior; Rev. Anthony Goetz, S. J., Rev. Gregory Gazzoli, S. J., and two lay brothers.

DIOCESS OF FORT HALL,

OREGON.

Church and Residence of St. Mary's, among the Flat-heads—Rev. Greg. Mengarini, S. J., Rev. Ant. Ravalli, S. J., and three lay brothers.
Station of St. Francis Borgia, near Flat-head Lake, among the Mountain Kalispels—visited from St. Mary's.
ACADEMY at St. Mary's, among the Flat-heads.

DIOCESS OF COLVILLE,

OREGON.

Church and Residence of St. Ignatius, among the Kalispelor Pend d'oreille nation—Rev. Adrian Hoeken, S. J., Rev. Peter De Vos, S. J., and two lay-brothers.

Chapel of St. Paul, at Kettle Falls, near Colville, Chuyelpi tribe.
Chapel of St. Francis Regis, among the half-breeds in the Colville Valley.
Station of the Assumption, among the Flat-bow nation.
Station of St. Joseph, among the Okinagon nation.
Station of St. Peter's, among the Upper Kalispels, at the Upper Lakes of the Columbia, above lat. 49°.
Station of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, among the Koetenay nation, above lat. 49°.

DIOCESS OF MONTEREY.*

This diocess embraces Upper California, and is under the charge of the Rt. Rev. Joseph Alemany, D. D.

CHURCHES AND CLERGY.

UP. CALIFORNIA.

Monterey—Rt. Rev. Joseph Alemany, D. D.
Santa Barbara—Very Rev. M. J. Gonzales.
San Francisco—Rev. A. Langlois, Rev. F. Anderson.
Sacramento City, Marysville, } attended by the Rev. F. Anderson.
Pueblo—Rev. J. Nobili, S. J.
Dolores—Rev. Mr. Dumonteil.
San Diego—Rev Mr. Chrysostom.
San Jose—Rev. Mr. Lebret.

Twenty-three other priests, six of whom are French, and fifteen Spanish or Mexican, are employed in serving different parts of the country.

INSTITUTIONS.

A college has been commenced at San Ynez, about four hundred miles from San Francisco, by the Rev. Fathers Boissier and Felix, of the community of Picpus.

* The information here given, relative to the state of religion in Up. California, was communicated by the Rev. Mr. Langlois, of San Francisco.

A Catholic school has been opened at San Francisco, and is very flourishing. It numbers nearly 100 scholars. The English, French, and Spanish languages are taught, according to the wishes of the pupils.

APOSTOLIC VICARIATE OF NEW MEXICO.

We have not been able to procure any information relative to the state of religion in New Mexico. At the request of the last Provincial Council, this territory has been erected into an Apostolic Vicariate, and placed under the charge of the Rt. Rev. John Lamy, D. D. As stated an the Almanac of last year, we have reason to believe that in New Mexico there are about forty churches, with the same number of priests nd about f° rty thousand Catholics.

OBITUARY.

"It is a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead; that they may be loosed from their sins."—2 Machab.

CLERICAL.

August 12.—Rev. Father John Chrysostom, at the Convent of Trappists, near New Haven, Ky.

November 19.—At the episcopal residence, Detroit, Rev. John Farnan, aged 66 years.

November 26.—At Dayton, Ohio, Rev. Patrick O'Meally, pastor of the church in that place.

December 15.—Near Baltimore, Md., Rev. Augustus Schmid, chaplain of the Sisters of Notre Dame, Baltimore.

December 17.—At Vinegar Hill, near Galena, Ill., Rev. James McAuley, aged about 30 years. For several years he had been afflicted with pulmonary consumption, which brought on his untimely death. He bore his disease with truly christian patience and resignation. His affable manners, zeal and piety endeared him to all who knew him.

February 11.—At Louisville, Ky, the Rt. Rev. Benedict Joseph Flaget, Bishop of that See. See p. 50.

February 12.—At the Novitiateof the Society of Jesus, Frederick City, Md., Thomas Jefferson Curd. He was born in Calloway co., Ky., and was 25 years old at the time of his death. Educated for the military profession, he served his country at various posts, particularly during the late war with Mexico, after which he entered the Society of Jesus, and gave much edification by his patient suffering and fervent piety.

February 28.—At New Orleans, Rev. Philip Ascensio, assistant at the Cathedral, aged about 70 years. Mr. Ascensio was a native of Spain, and subsequently entered a religious community in Mexico, whence he came, in 1832, to the United States.

March 5.—At St. Mary's College, Marion co., Ky., Rev. W. E. Clark, in the 41st year of his age. The deceased was a native of Kentucky, and had exercised the functions of the holy ministry for about sixteen years. His ecclesiastical career had been spent alternately at St. Joseph's, St. Thomas' and St. Mary's Colleges, where he rendered the most important services. During his residenee in Bardstown, he was for seven years the spiritual director of Nazareth's Institution. At a later period he was assistant pastor in Bardstown congregation. Rev. Mr. C. possessed a mind which was a treasure of learning; he was well read in ancient and modern history, and familiar with the science of Theology and Philosophy. A master of several dead and living languages, he could speak fluently, besides his native tongue, Latin, French, Spanish and Italian. Talents of an uncommon order, and varied acquirements, were enhanced by a great humility, modesty, and diffidence of himself.

April 5.—At Indian Point, Texas, Rev. J. A. JACOBS, who having gone to that place to assist an officer of the army who had the cholera, was himself attacked with the disease.

April 11.—At Rio de Janeiro, South America, Rev. THOMAS MEREDITH JENKINS, S. J., in the 32d year of his age. He was a native of Baltimore, Md., entered the Society of Jesus at the age of sixteen, and was ordained priest in 1845. His mind being well stored with theological and secular learning, he labored with much success in the duties of the College at Georgetown, and those of the holy ministry. He went to Rio for the purpose of recruiting his declining health, and there devoting himself to the care of the sick and dying, during the prevalence of a violent epidemic, he himself fell a victim to the disease, a martyr of christian and apostolic charity.

April 14.—At New York, Rev. JAMES CUMMISKEY, assistant Pastor of St. Columba's church in that city.

April 16.—At Holy Cross College, Worcester, Rev. PHILIP B. SACCHI, S. J., aged 59 years. He was a native of France. Having entered the Society of Jesus, he was employed first in Poland and afterwards in Italy, until 1823, when he came to America. In this country he performed with zeal the various duties of missionary and professor, to the time of his death.

April 23.—At Thompson, Seneca co., Ohio, Rev. CLEMENT SCHWEITZER, of the Society Pretiosissimi Sanguinis, aged 38 years.

April 28.—At New York, Rev. PATRICK WATERS.

May —. At Portland, Maine, Rev. JAMES MAGUIRE, Pastor of St. Dominick's church, in that place.

May 19.—Near East Bay, Wisconsin, the Rev. THOMAS MORISSY, for several years Pastor of St. John's, P. Cornelsville, Washington co. He was a native of Ireland, born at Maddleigo, Waterford co., and fifteen years on the missions in the Diocess of Detroit, and subsequently in the Diocess of Milwaukie.

May 24.—At Baltimore, Md., Very Rev. JOHN P. O'DWYER, superior of the order of St. Augustine in the United States, aged 34 years. He was born in the Co. Kilkenny, Ireland, and received his early education in the college of that place, where he was distinguished by his proficiency in every department of study. At the age of 17 he joined the order of St. Augustine, and after some years spent in Italy, where he repaired for the purpose of prosecuting his vocation, he was sent to St. Augustine's Church, Philadelphia. For the last ten years of his life, he labored in this country, with the zeal, piety, and prudence which distinguish the useful missionary and true religious.

May 30.—At New London, Conn., Rev. WILLIAM LOGAN, S. J., aged 40 years. The deceased was born at Emmitsburg, Md., on the 10th day of April, 1810, and after his promotion to the priesthood, was employed in missionary duty at Frederick city, and afterwards as teacher at the College of Holy Cross. He was subsequently charged with the missions of Norwich and New London, and in this, as well as the other fields of his labors, he was distinguished for his piety and zeal.

July 12.—At St. Xavier College, Cincinnati, the Rev. CHRISTOPHER GENELLI, S. J., aged 50 years. The deceased was a native of Prussia, and having embraced the ecclesiastical state, was thought worthy for his talents and learning to be made a Canon of the Church. He afterwards became President of a Seminary, which he entered in 1842. At the time of his decease he had been three years a member of the Society of Jesus. The late disturbances in Austria had obliged him, with many others to take refuge in the United States, where he arrived in the spring of 1848. The time since his arrival in this country, he passed at the Novitiate of St. Stanislaus, near St. Louis, in Missouri, where he was appointed teacher of Theology to a class of scholastics of the same society. But, the climate not agreeing with him, he set out for his native country, and on his way died at Cincinnati.

July 17.—At the hospital of the Sisters of Mercy, Pittsburg, Pa., Rev. Francis Derwin, who had recently left the diocess of Chicago.

July 31.—At Upper Marlboro', Md., Rev. Miles Gibbons, S. J., aged 38 years. He was born in the county Galway, Ireland, and came to America in 1837. Having entered the Society of Jesus and been ordained priest, he was employed first in the colleges of Georgetown and Holy Cross, and afterwards in the missions of Frederick and Prince George county, where he was always known as a laborious and edifying clergyman.

Aug. 3.—In Virginia, Rev. Edward Fox, in the 40th year of his age. He was born in Croom, Co. Limerick, Ireland, and having been charged with the missions of Lynchburg and Wytheville in the western part of Virginia, he labored with great zeal and usefulness in the western part of that district.

August 12.—At Milwaukie, Wisconsin, Rev. Francis Beauprez.

" 20.—At Dayton, Ohio, Rev. Daniel Hallinan. The deceased was much esteemed by all classes, and held in particular affection by his own flock, to whom he was a most devoted pastor. Though of feeble constitution and delicate health, he fulfilled all the duties of his mission with strict fidelity. He was moreover, a ready writer, as was proved in a controversy with a Protestant preacher.

August 22.—At Fulton, Ohio, Rev. Michael A. Byrne, pastor of Christ Church in that place, aged 33 years. He had labored with success in the ministry about five years.

August —. In Wisconsin, Rev. A. Gærtner, a native of Tyrol, aged 46 years.

September 22.—At St. John's College, of the Society of Jesus, in Frederick City, Md., the Very Rev. Father Dzierozynski, S. J., in the 73rd year of his age.

Father Dzierozynski was a native of Orsani in Poland, and was born on the 3d of June, 1779. After the usual preparatory studies, in the pursuit of which he exhibited talents of a rare order, he, in obedience to the Divine call, entered the Novitiate of the Society of Jesus, August 13th, 1794, at the early age of fifteen. Bringing with him as he did, to that school of heavenly wisdom, an unsullied innocence and purity of soul, it is not to be wondered that the foundation of a sanctity, conspicuous through the whole course of his after life, should have been laid deep in his heart. Associated, during the period of his Novitiate and Scholasticate, with many of the surviving fathers of the old society, who were cherished in Russia, though outraged and condemned by all the world beside, he may be regarded as forming one of the few remaining links that connected that noble race of spiritual giants with their successors of the renovated Society. As such his loss is severely felt by his younger brethren, who had been accustomed to hang upon his lips, to catch the soul-stirring traditions of their fathers and animate themselves to a generous rivalry in carrying out the spirit of their lofty vocation.

After the completion of his probation, and consequent dedication of himself to the Spouse of souls, by the simple vows of the Society, he was applied by his superiors to the prosecution of the regular studies of the order. Under the guidance of able professors, he spent one year in the study of Rhetoric; three years were given to the study of mental Philosophy and the Physical Sciences, and four years (the ordinary course of the Society) were devoted to Theology.

Of the advantages he derived from the facilities, so abundantly supplied by the Society, those can best judge, who, in their familiar intercourse with him, have so often had occasion to admire the depth and variety of his attainments in every branch of sacred and profane learning

After his ordination he was made professor of Theology in the University of Polosk, from the Faculty of which he received the insignia of the Doctorate.

On the 2nd of February 1812, he was admitted to the highest grade in the Society, and completed, by his solemn profession the perfect sacrifice of himself to the service of God and his Vicar upon earth.

In the year 1820, the Russian Government, which had sheltered and cherished the Society of Jesus, during the storms, that had so long raged against her in other portions of the world, turned fiercely upon her, and in the blindness of her bigotry, drove forth the civilizers of its barbarous hordes, to wander exiles on the face of the earth.

Among those exiles were Father D., and his faithful companion the lamented Sacchi. Italy afforded them an asylum for a while; on the 30th of June, 1821, the good father and his friend embarked from Leghorn for the United States and arrived in Georgetown on the 12th of November of the same year. Father D. on his arrival was appointed professor of Mental Philosophy in Georgetown College. Whilst engaged in this office, he gained the friendship of John C. Calhoun, who would frequently visit the good father, for the purpose of gleaning from his conversation some of that philosophic lore for which the great Southerner had so keen a relish.

At the time of the arrival of father Dzierozynski, the Society in this country had not assumed the regular form which it now possesses. All the Jesuits both of the East and West, under the title of the "Mission of Maryland," were subject to the jurisdiction of a Superior or Visitor mostly resident at Georgetown. Father D. was appointed to this high trust on the 13th of August, 1823, and, in it, he gave renewed evidence of his untiring zeal and love for the Society. When we consider that in addition to this extensive charge, the burden of forming the novices of the order also fell upon his shoulders, and that both were faithfully borne, we may judge of the indefatigable spirit of the man

During this time, too, although but imperfectly acquainted with the English tongue, his ardent zeal for souls found occupation in missionary duty. Many an old Christian in Montgomery county, and elsewhere, still speaks in tender terms of his labors among them, and recalls, in thanksgiving to God, the memory of solace and assistance afforded through his holy ministrations.

During his Superiorship, the present flourishing college of St. John, Frederick City, was founded, and an impetus given to education in that town, which calls for the gratitude of its citizens.

On the 12th of November, 1830, he was succeeded in the office of Superior of the Mission by the celebrated Father Peter Kenny. Father Dzierozynski from that date until 1834 occupied the chair of Theology in Georgetown College, performing, at the same time, the duties of Spiritual Father of the house and Chaplain and Confessor of the Sisters of the Visitation of Georgetown.

The "Mission of Maryland" by this time acquired the form of a regular province of the Society, and the late Father William McSherry was appointed its first Provincial.

In December, 1834, Father Dzierozynski was sent to take charge of the Novitiate at Frederick. To this responsible trust he brought with him the matured fruits of long experience in religious life and a sanctity so conspicuous in all his actions, though perfectly unobtrusive, as to gain him, more than an ordinary degree of love and veneration on the part of his spiritual children.

On the death of Father McSherry in 1840, Father Dzierozynski was appointed to the Provincialship. During his term of office, the College of the Holy Cross of Worcester, Mass., was founded. Father Dzierozynski was succeeded in the Provincialship by the Very Rev. Father James Ryder, in 1843. He was, again, made Master of Novices in 1844, which office he held until 1846, when he retired to the residence of St. John of Frederick. Almost worn out, but not satiated with labors, he continued to perform the duties of Spiritual Director of the community and Confessor of the Nuns of the Visitation from 1846, nearly up to the time of his death. The good Sisters of the Visitation mourn his loss as that of a father, for in his extraordinary charity and never failing cheerfulness they saw the semblance of their own amiable founder, the sainted De Sales. The young aspirant to the perfection of the holy Institute of Ignatius, weeps for his privation, for in Father Francis, he has lost a guide and model in the following of Jesus.

September —. At Newtown, Md., Rev. IGNATIUS COMBS, S. J.

RELIGIOUS.

January 7.—At the Trappist Convent of Gethsemania, near New Haven, Ky., BROTHER ELIAS.

January 27.—At the same place, BROTHER PAPHNUCIUS.

January 26.—At the Convent of Loretto, Kentucky, Sister GENEVIEVE SPEAK, in the 27th year of her age.

March 7.—At the Carmelite Convent, Baltimore, Sister URSULA MUDD, a native of Charles Co., Md. aged upwards of 80 years.

July 14.—At the Ursuline Convent, St. Louis, Mo. Sister MARY ISA-

BELLA WEINRIERL, 33 years old. The deceased was a native of Ratisbon, and for twelve years was a professed Sister in the Convent of Landshut, Bavaria. Her life was marked by the virtues of her state, and her death was accompanied by resignation to the Divine will.

August 23.—At St. Vincent's Hospital, Detroit, Sister MARY LOYOLA (Mathilda Richie,) in the 43d year of her age. Sister Mary Loyola was born in Georgetown, D. C., and had passed 21 years of her life as a Sister of Charity of St. Joseph's community, Emmitsburg. In the spring of 1844 she was sent from Emmitsburg, with three other Sisters to found a house of the order in the City of Detroit, and presided over this community until her happy death. Her great talents combined with her constant devotedness and zeal, made her a most useful member of the Society; whilst her amiable manners and exemplary virtues endeared he alike to all who knew her, and to all the Sisters of the community. She was truly, in the words of the Apostle St. Paul, "an example of the faithful in word, in conversation, in charity, in faith, in chastity."

September 17.—At the Ursuline Convent, St. Louis, Sister MARY AUGUSTINE SCHRAGEL, 29 years old. The deceased was a native of Gratz in Stiria, was a professed Sister for seven years in the Convent of Oedenburg in Hungary, and at the time of her death was Mistress of Novices in the House at St. Louis.

December 3.—At the Carmelite Convent, Baltimore, Sister SERAPHINA, (Pendergast,) in the 20th year of her age.

Requiescant in pace.

This summary has been so arranged, as to exhibit at one glance the statistics of each diocess and also of each ecclesiastical province. From the figures in this table and from preceding statements, it follows that there are in the United States, 6 archbishops, 26 bishops, 1271 priests, and 1245 churches distributed among 34 diocesses and 2 apostolic vicariates. One bishop and twenty-six priests have died; whence it appears, that during the past year there has been an accession of 3 archbishops, 3 bishops, and 132 priests. The figures in the above table under the head of Catholic population, were obtained from official, and consequently the most reliable sources. If we suppose the Catholic population in the diocesses of St. Louis, Boston, Little Rock, Galveston, Oregon Territory, Monterey, and the Apostolic Vicariates of New Mexico and the Indian Territory, to be 280,000, the total number of Catholics in the United States will be 1,614,500.

EXECUTIVE GOVERNMENT.

The 16th Presidential term of four years, since the establishment of the Government of the United States under the Constitution, began on the 4th of March, 1849; and it will expire on the 3d of March, 1853.

		Salary.
MILLARD FILLMORE, of New York,	President,	$25,000
Vacancy,	Vice President,	5,000

General Zachary Taylor of Louisiana, having been elected by a majority of thirty-six of the electoral votes, was, on the 4th of March, 1849, inaugurated President of the United States, and died on the 9th of July, 1850. In consequence of this event, the duties of the office have devolved on Millard Fillmore, of New York, who had been elected by the same majority Vice-President, in accordance with the provision of the Constitution of the United States, which says, "In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President."

THE CABINET.—The following are the principal officers in the executive department of the government who form the Cabinet, and who hold their offices at the will of the President.

The Supreme Court is held in the city of Washington, and has one session annually, commencing on the 1st Monday of December.

Circuit Court.

The United States are divided into the following nine Judicial Circuits, in each of which a Circuit Court is held twice every year, for each State within the Circuit, by a Justice of the Supreme Court, assigned to the Circuit, and by the District Judge of the State or District in which the Court sits.

		Presiding Judge.
1st Cir.,	Maine, N. Hampshire, Mass. and R. I.,	Mr. Justice Woodbury.
2d "	Vermont, Connecticut, and New York,	" Nelson.
3d "	New Jersey, and Pennsylvania,	" Grier.
4th "	Delaware, Maryland and Virginia,	Mr. Ch. Justice Taney.
5th "	Alabama, Louisiana and Kentucky,	Mr. Justice McKinley.
6th "	N. Carolina, S. Carolina, and Georgia,	" Wayne.
7th "	Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan,	" McLean.
8th "	Kentucky, Tennessee and Missouri.	" Catron.
9th "	Mississippi, and Arkansas,	" Daniel.

The States of Florida, Texas, Iowa and Wisconsin have not yet been attached to any Circuit, but the District Courts have the power of Circuit Courts. There is a local Circuit Court held in the District of Columbia, by three judges specially appointed for that purpose. The Chief Justice of that Court sits also as District Judge of that District.

Rates of Postage within the United States.

For a letter not exceeding half an ounce in weight (avoirdupois,) sent not exceeding 300 miles, 5 cents.

Sent over 300 miles, 10 cents.

A letter over half an ounce in weight, but not exceeding an ounce, is rated with two charges of single postage; over one ounce, but not exceeding two ounces, with four charges; over two ounces, but not exceeding three ounces, six charges of single postage, and so on: there being two additional charges for each succeeding ounce, or fraction of an ounce, beyond the first ounce. When advertised, two cents additional are charged on each letter, or four cents, if the advertising cost so much.

The postage of a single letter to Oregon or California, via Chagres and Panama, is 40 cents,—to be prepaid or not, at the option of the sender.

For drop-letters (not to be mailed,) each, 2 cents.

For all letters or packages, conveyed by any vessel not employed in carrying the mail, from one post or place to any other post or place in the United States, 2 cents.

For any pamphlet, magazine, periodical, or other matter of every kind that is transmittable by mail, and has no written communication on it, of one ounce or less, or for a newspaper exceeding 1,900 square inches of surface, sent from the office of publication, 2½ cents.

For each additional ounce, or an excess greater than a half-ounce, 1 cent.

For newspapers of 1,900 square inches or less, sent from the office of publication, not more than 100 miles, or any distance within the same State, 1 cent.

Sent over such distance, 1½ cents.

* Including the distance from New York to Chagres, and from San Francisco to Panama, both together, 6,640 miles. The cost of this service is provided for by navy contracts and appropriations.

On each newspaper sent to Oregon or California, the postage is $4\frac{1}{2}$ cents; to be prepaid, except when sent from the office of publication.

Transient newspapers, i. e., those not sent from the office of publication, are subject to the general newspaper-postage rates; but the postage is in all cases to be prepaid.

For handbills, or circular letters, printed or lithographed, not exceeding one sheet in size (sent any distance,) to be paid upon delivery at the office and before they are put in the mails, 3 cents.

As the postage on these articles is chargeable on each copy, postmasters will carefully examine all packets, and rate the postage accordingly. When the article to be mailed is a circular, pamphlet, or newspaper, it should be so enveloped or folded that it can be distinctly seen at the office to be such, and also that it contain no writing, marks, or signs, to serve the purpose of written communications. If not done up so as to open at the end, it is to be charged as a letter, by weight.

No packet can be mailed which weighs more than three pounds. Bound books of any size are not included in the term "mailable matter," except books sent by Governors of States, and those included under the term "Public Documents."

The establishment of private expresses for the conveyance of any letters, packets, or packages of letters, or other matter transmittable in the United States mail (newspapers, pamphlets, magazines, and periodicals excepted,) from one city, town or other place, to any other city, town or place in the United States, between which the United States mail is regularly transported, is prohibited. Contractors may carry newspapers out of the mails for sale or distribution among subscribers. A penalty of $5,000 is imposed on any person taking letters through or over any part of the United States for the purpose of being sent out of the United States without the payment of postage.

Letters addressed to different persons cannot be inclosed in the same envelope or package, under a penalty of ten dollars, unless addressed to foreign countries.

Rates of Foreign Postage, and of Postage to Oregon and California.

Great Britain and Ireland.

Between the United States and Great Britain and Ireland, letters are rated, by weight, as in the United States. Between any office in the United States (Oregon and California excepted) and any office in Great Britain and Ireland, the entire postage is 24 cents the single letter, which may be prepaid or sent unpaid. Between the offices of California and Oregon and those of Great Britain and Ireland, the entire postage is 59 cents the single letter, which may be prepaid or sent unpaid. Payment of anything less than the entire postage goes for nothing, and such letters will be treated as wholly unpaid.

Foreign Countries and Cities, via England.

On all correspondence between the United States and the following named countries, the United States postage, and that only, must be collected in the United States, by prepayment when sent, and on delivery when received, at the rate of 5 cents the single letter when conveyed by British packet, (unless from or to Oregon or California, then 40 cents,) and 21 cents the single letter when conveyed by United States packet, (unless, as aforesaid, from or to Oregon or California, then 56 cents,) to wit:*

PUBLIC LANDS.

[From the Land Commissioner's Report, Nov. 28th, 1849.]

The public lands belonging to the General Government are situated: 1st. Within the limits of the United States, as defined by the treaty of 1783, and are embraced by the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, and that part of Minesota east of the Mississippi River, all of which have been formed out of the Northwestern Territory, as conveyed with certain reservations to the United States by New York in 1781, by Virginia in 1784, by Massachusetts in 1785, and by Connecticut in 1786; also the lands within the boundaries of the States of Mississippi and Alabama north of 31° north latitude, as conveyed to the United States by Georgia in 1802. 2d. Within the territories of Orleans and Louisiana, as acquired from France by the treaty of 1803, including the portion of the States of Alabama and Mississippi south of 31°; the whole of Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, and that portion of Minesota west of the Mississippi River; the Indian Territory; the district called Nebraska; the Territory of Oregon, and the region lying between Oregon and Minesota, north of 42° and south of 49° north latitude. 3d. Within the State of Florida, as obtained from Spain by the treaty of 1819. 4th. In New Mexico and California, as acquired from Mexico, by the treaty of 1848.

Within the limits recognized by these treaties and cessions, the public lands covered an estimated area of 1,584,000,000 acres. To the 30th September, 1849, 146,000,000 acres had been sold, leaving unsold an area of 1,438,000,000 acres, which land, in large bodies of detached tracts, is found in the several States and Territories above mentioned.

The system for surveying and disposing of the public lands was established by the act of 20th May, 1785, and has continued to the present time with but slight modifications. All public lands, before they are offered for sale, are surveyed in ranges of townships of six miles square, which townships are subdivided into thirty-six sections of one mile square, each section generally containing 640 acres. This subdivision is made by lines crossing each other at right angles, and running to the cardinal points of the compass. The sections are numbered from 1 to 36, beginning at the northeastern corner of the township, and counting alternately from east to west, and from west to east, and are subdivided into quarters, or 160 acres, eighths, or 80 acres, and sixteenths, or 40 acres. The corners of townships, sections and quarter sections, are designated by monuments established by surveyors in the field. After the lands have been thus surveyed, they are proclaimed by the President for sale at public auction, at not less than $1.25 per acre; and such as thereafter remain unsold may be purchased at private sale at that rate.

The security of titles under this system is nearly perfect, as is shown by the fact, that, notwithstanding the extent of sales of land, and the number and variety of purchasers, there has been but little litigation as to boundaries; and most of this has been caused by fraud, and not by any defect in the system of operations.

For the benefit of education, the sixteenth section in each township, or one-thirty-sixth part of the public lands, has been set apart for the support of schools. Besides this, large donations have been made by Congress from time to time for colleges, county seats, seats of government, and internal improvements.

WAY OF SALVATION.

The Way of Salvation, in Meditations for every day in the year. Translated from the Italian of St. Alphonsus Liguori, by the Rev. James Jones. 24mo. cloth, . . Price 37

CONTENTS.

PART I. Meditations suitable for all times of the year.
PART II. Meditations for particular times and days of the year.
Novena for Christmas.
Novena on the Litany of Loretto.
Fifteen meditations on the Passion of Jesus Christ, for the last fifteen days of Lent.
Three Meditations on Heaven for Easter.
Novena of the Holy Ghost.
Eight meditations for the Octave of Corpus Christi.
PART III. Rules of a Christian life.
Darts of fire.

No subtilty of thought, nor loftiness of words, will be found in these meditations; but the greatest simplicity and the plainest forms of expression. Nothing in them will perplex the understanding, but all will powerfully appeal to the heart: for while they are remarkable for the beautiful simplicity of style so peculiar to the Beatified Author, they are not less characterized by profound piety, ardent love of God, and tender devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mother of God. They are each divided into three points; each point generally includes acts of the love of God, of contrition for sin, and of supplication for final perseverance; and every last point concludes with a short prayer to the ever Blessed Mary.

To which is added, a method of devoutly hearing Mass, by Blessed Leonard a Porto Mauritio. 24mo. cloth, Price 37

"The additions to this edition are very important; they occupy some sixty pages of additional space, and they present the translation perfect, from the original Italian, instead of being, as it was, defective, from the French copies. If there had been no more than the simple change of You to Thou, in addressing the Creator, or Redeemer, or the Blessed Virgin, it would have been a great improvement; but here is all that St. Alphonsus wrote on the advantages of, and rules for, frequent communion, with a defence of his doctrine on this subject, and a Novena for All Souls' Day. The saintly little book is a well-spring of pure devotion, and they are blest who assist in pouring out its waters."—The Tablet.

MYLIUS' HISTORY OF ENGLAND.

For the use of Catholic Colleges and Schools. An abridged History of England, for the use of Schools, to which is added, an Abstract of the Constitution, and a Geographical Treatise, according to the Roman, Saxon and Modern Divisions, brought down to the end of the reign of George IV. By W. F. Mylius. Neatly bound in sheep, . Price 63

The plan of this history is different from most of the histories now in use. It is divided into nine books, each of which is subdivided into chapters, in which the military history, the ecclesiastical history, the laws and government, and the manners and customs are given separately. In the end of the work is a series of questions adapted to the text.

Extract of a letter from the late Rt. Rev. Dr. Milner to the author:

"Sir,—From a slight inspection of your history, my conviction is, that it is a valuable acquisition to our Catholic Seminaries, of both sexes; as such, I shall not fail to recommend it to them and their superiors, as far as my influence extends."

The Cheapest School Book Published in the United States!

REEVE'S BIBLE HISTORY.

History of the Old and New Testament, interspersed with Moral and Instructive Reflections chiefly taken from the Holy Fathers, from the French by J. Reeve, in sheep binding, Price reduced to 50c.

In order to increase still further the immense circulation of this popular and standard School Book, the publisher has determined to reduce the retail price of it to the very low rate of fifty cents, from which the usual discount will be made to the trade. Clergymen, religious institutions and colleges will be allowed a discount when ordering in large quantities.

This reduction renders the book one of the cheapest school books now in use, as it contains 476 pages of Octavo, neatly bound in sheep, and it is only with the hope of extending its usefulness that the reduction of price is now made.

FLETCHER'S BOSSUET.

An Exposition of the Doctrine of the Catholic Church in Matters of Controversy. By the Right Rev. J. B. Bossuet, with copious notes by the Rev. John Fletcher, D. D.
18mo. bound in cloth, ... Price 38

This work of the great Bossuet—perhaps the most useful of all his writings, and which he composed for the use of a few Protestants—was at first circulated privately; but at the earnest solicitation of some friends, the Prelate reluctantly gave his consent to make it public. The first edition was received with such avidity, and produced such happy effects upon the minds of many Protestants, that in a short time, it passed through several editions in almost every European language.

The value of this work is much enhanced by the copious notes of Fletcher, which render it more clear and perspicuous.

FLETCHER'S CONTROVERSY.

The Spirit of Religious Controversy. By the Rev. John Fletcher, D. D. 18mo. cloth, ... Price 38

This is one of the best works of this great author, written with a view to arm the good sense of the Catholic, against some of the recent arguments of error; to increase the liberality or diminish the intolerance of the Protestant; and to cast a ray of light athwart the dark atmosphere of prejudice, which the ignorance and misconception of our adversaries have formed around them.

REVIEW OF FOX'S MARTYRS.

Critical and Historical Review of Fox's Book of Martyrs, showing the Inaccuracies, Falsehoods and Misrepresentations in that Work of Deception. By William Eusebius Andrews. Embellished with fifty engravings. In 2 vols. 8vo. bound in sheep.

It was during the reign of terror and proscription in England, when the faithful historian was certain of being incarcerated in a prison, if he escaped with his life; when magistrates were empowered to make domiciliary visits at any hour, in search of works favorable to the Catholic creed; when spies were encouraged to denounce those whom they suspected: it was under this system, that the infamous libel of John Fox, made its first appearance in the English language.

Fox's Book of Martyrs has contributed to excite prejudices and bigotry against the Catholic Church more, perhaps, than any other book extant. Aware of this, the enemies of the Church have spared neither pains nor expense to give it a wide circulation. Edition after edition has issued from the press, until the book has found its way into every library and every Protestant family in the land, among whom it has become a favorite manual of amusement and instruction. To counteract the poison of this book of lies, it is necessary to give the antidote as extensive a circulation as possible. We consider it the duty of every Catholic to have a copy of the "Review," to read it with care and put it into the hands of every man who will hear and profit by the truth. By this means the public will be enabled to detect the monstrous imposition palmed upon the community, and the shame and infamy of wilful and malicious falsehood will return upon those who circulate this book of misrepresentation for an authentic record of facts. We do not deny that Catholics have persecuted as well as Protestants. But if the truth must—let it be told. Let there be no exaggeration; and while we execrate the inhuman persecutor, whether Catholic or Protestant, let us not, as infidels have done, charge the crime upon Christianity in general, or upon the particular sect to which they belonged, unless it can be proved that these persecutions are produced by their religious principles and profession.

The best proof of a reading people, is the publication of works among them; how gratifying then to witness, not only the appearance of so many new works from our various publishers, but the nature of the works now so frequently offered to our attention. We have just received the work whose title we place above, from Mr. F. Lucas, Jr. It is a republication, the first, we believe, on this side of the Atlantic, of a most valuable volume, from the pen of the Rev. Joseph Reeve, author of the History of the Christian Church, and also compiler of the History of the Bible. The name of the author, would, in itself, be an ample recommendation, but the intrinsic value of the work itself, should recommend it to many purchasers. In the first part, the various attributes of the Deity are explained and practically illustrated. The history and miracles of Jesus Christ are recorded in the second part, in the exposition of the principal festivals instituted in his honor, and the institution of the Eucharistic sacrifice is established and explained. The volume is filled with practical knowledge, and we wish it were in the hands of every body. It is printed on fine paper and clear type.—Cath. Herald.

COCHIN ON THE MASS.

Instructions on the Prayers and Ceremonies of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Translated from the French of M. Cochin, and arranged for each Sunday throughout the year, by W. Jos. Walter, late of St. Edmund's College. In one volume. 12mo. cloth, ... Price 75

CONTENTS.

The Preparation.
The Instruction.
The Oblation.
The Canon.
The Consecration.
The Preparation for Communion.
The Communion.
The Thanksgiving.

The object of the author in these instructions, has been to deduce such consequences as may come home more nearly to our own bosoms, such as are most conducive to edification, and best calculated to give animation to faith, and fresh fervor to devotion. He has been particularly solicitous to avoid that mystic character, which, in its attempt to give a mysterious construction to every trivial circumstance, has involved the whole subject in obscurity. His instructions on the various responses and minor prayers used by the church, which are apt to be hastily passed over, and by the frequency of their repetition, become a mere succession of unmeaning words, will be found particularly happy. Our Protestant brethren, who have been accustomed from their infancy to hear the very word Mass pronounced, with indistinct feelings of horror and aversion, should read this book in the same spirit of candor in which it was written.

BISHOP ENGLAND'S EXPLANATION OF THE MASS.

PISE'S CHURCH HISTORY.

A History of the Church, from its establishment to the Reformation. By the Rev. C. C. Pise, A. M.

5 vols. 12mo. cloth, ... Price 3 50

The Rev. Author places the prominent and leading facts in such order as to give to general readers a sufficient knowledge of the occurrences regarding religion; this is done in a very clear, simple and pleasing style: there is no attempt at decoration, which would be altogether out of place in a historical work; perspicuity and orderly method are the essential characteristics of the historian—and the author of this work appears to us to have fully attained it. As far as we could judge, by some paragraphs which we have read, the style is uniformly and pleasingly sustained. The Index is accurately and judiciously compiled; so that the references are simple and abundant. It is a work which ought to be generally read.—U. S. Catholic Miscellany.

MERCY OF GOD.

Reflections on the Confidence in the Mercy of God. By the Right Rev. J. J. Languet, Bishop of Soissons.

18mo. cloth, ... Price 38

In common enterprises, confidence is a part of the means which is employed in order to succeed; at least it animates and gives them a new vigor: fearful troops are half conquered; whilst the confidence of those soldiers that go to battle, redoubles their ardor and fortifies their courage. It is not in vain that it is written, "By hope we are saved."

PALESTINE.

Palestine, or the Holy Land: selected from the works of F. A. D. Chateaubriand, by the Rev. James Fulton.

18mo. 2 vols. bound in one—cloth, gilt back, ... Price 50

Although this work is principally intended for the instruction of youth, yet as the translator of Chateaubriand has justly observed, the scholar and the man of science can accompany the author through some of the most renowned regions of antiquity; while the Christian will follow him to the scenes hallowed by the presence and miracles of the Divine Founder of Religion; and the general reader will be gratified with the information, the adventures, and the reflections with which it is interspersed.

PIETY EXEMPLIFIED:

With appropriate illustrations, from historical, and other sources; interspersed with familiar reflections, adapted to the capacity of youth. By the Rev. B. Rayment.

Two vols. bound in one, cloth, gilt back, ... Price 75

The examples that are here selected, are founded on facts taken from real life. The authorities are not all given, for obvious reasons that require no apology: whilst those that are given, may be safely depended upon.

Neither time nor labor has been spared to elucidate the truth. With regard to the language, sentiments, incidents, and occasional applications, the author has had in view the advantage of his young readers, by endeavouring to give the most lively interest in his power to the performance.

He has drawn stores from every mine within his reach: his object has been to breathe into the whole work an animating spirit of virtue, a high sense of honour, probity, and philanthropy: these are the powers he has pressed into his service, purposely to refine, and exalt the sentiments of the heart; to improve, and inform the understanding; and to call into activity the faculty of invention and research—the first index of latent genius—the first opening of every future exertion.

FATHER ROWLAND.

A North American Tale. By Rev. C. C. Pise, D. D.

18mo. cloth, gilt back, ... Price 38

This little tale combines at once much theological research, a thorough knowledge of the world, an acquaintance with men, and an ability of description almost approaching to poesy.

It strikes us that it was written in answer to "Father Clement," although the name of that abusive little romance is not once mentioned—nor are the misrepresentations with which it abounds, so much as even alluded to.—Metropolitan.

The descriptions which it contains are not, it is true, very numerous—nor are they gorgeously painted in glowing colors; but, we apprehend, they will be found to be true to nature, and such we look upon to be the perfection of this species of writing.—Catholic Miscellany.

THE INDIAN COTTAGE.

An Unitarian Story. By Rev. C. C. Pise, D. D.

18mo. cloth, ... Price 38

The above work, by the author of Father Rowland, was written in vindication of a dogma, which is not only questioned, but systematically attacked, by a denomination who style themselves "Christians." This too, is the most vital dogma of Christianity; for, if the founder of the new covenant was a mere man, the system which he established is not as sublime as that of the old. The reality is not more substantial than the figure.

The prophecies have not been fulfilled.—Christ is no greater than the prophets, less than Moses.—This will be made manifest, it is thought, to any who will peruse this little work with attention, and without prejudice.

LOUISA;

Or the Virtuous Villager: a Roman Catholic Tale. Translated from the French.

18mo. cloth, ... Price 38

The history of Louisa, the pious country girl, whose edifying life is here offered, is filled with useful instructions for various situations in life. The young and old may read it with profit; the parent and the child, the married, the widow, and the virgin will find both suitable example and useful precept. Its tendency is to make obedient children, edifying parents, submissive wives, and affectionate husbands—to make better men and better Christians of all classes.

Religion is the only true foundation of morality.—BURKE.

The enemies of the Catholic creed have insidiously poured forth, in religious tales, the most unfounded calumnies against their doctrines and practice. It is right to learn a lesson from their misdirected zeal, to wrest from their hands the arms by which they impugn the truth, and to combat them with their own weapons. It was in this spirit that the dialogues of Mrs. Herbert were written for the use of the poor, by a lady, whose zeal and judgment cannot be too much admired, and who has sought and found, in the holy seclusion of a conventual life, those consolations of religion which she so beautifully describes in this interesting work.

A supplement containing all the new Masses for the United States, including the Mass of the Immaculate Conception, has just been added to this edition, which renders it the best and most complete of its size now to be had.

SPIRITUAL CONSOLATION.

Or, a Treatise on Interior Peace. Translated from the French of Pere Lombez. Interspersed with various instructions necessary for promoting the practice of solid piety. By the Authoress of the Ursuline Manual.

Bound in sheep, ... Price 75

We really rejoiced on receiving from the publisher this most useful and practically interesting volume. Often did we sigh after the hope of seeing it, as we now do, forming a volume of our national re-publications; until lately, we were not aware of a second copy of the European translation having been in the country. Many manuscripts were formed from the original. We do not know a more pleasingly useful book than Pere Lombez's Treatise. It is divided into four parts. In the first, the beauty and excellence of interior peace is exhibited. In the second, we are guarded against the obstacles which destroy or disturb it. In the third, the means are pointed out for its attainment and preservation; and the fourth is a practical epitome of those means and their consequences. We could wish a copy in the hands of all those who believe the possession of interior peace is incompatible with the active duties of life.—Cath. Herald.

LIFE OF ST. PATRICK.

The Life of St. Patrick, Apostle of Ireland; to which is added the celebrated Hymn, composed above twelve hundred years since, by his disciple, St. Fiech; comprehending a compendious history of his life. Annexed is a copious Index; also, a chronological Table, together with the Prophecy of St. Malachy, &c. &c.

One volume. 12mo. cloth, ... Price 50

From the innumerable calumnies and gross misrepresentations of various ancient and modern authors, some, perhaps, influenced by mistaken, but more by vicious views, in relation to the patron saint of the "Emerald Isle," the editor has been induced to present this biography to the public, with the hope that thread-bare fiction will now give place to authenticity. Throughout the work, it has been his principal design to examine critically the suggestions, to unmask the sophistry, and to expose the bare-faced calumny of several who have preceded him; and then to present his readers with a perfect and authentic record of the life, the virtues, and the actions of the illustrious St. Patrick.

MODEL FOR YOUNG MEN.

A Model for Young Men, displayed in the edifying Life of Claude Le Peletier De Sousi. Translated by the Rev. Edward Peach.

18mo. cloth, ... Price 37

This tribute of anxious solicitude, contains the history of a young man who exhibited a display of the most heroic, most consummate virtues during that period of life which is the most replete with dangers, and the least calculated to resist them. It will be interesting to inquire, by what means this young man arose superior to the weakness of his age:—the perusal will inform us that it was by an unaffected and sincere piety. Piety taught him to reflect, at leisure, upon the mercy and love of God: reflection exercised his understanding; and exercise perfected that power in youth, which, in general, is attained only in manhood. This maturity of understanding enabled him to extract pleasure and satisfaction from the otherwise dull rules of grammar: and the love of God, which was the main spring of all his actions, incited him to apply with unwearied diligence to every task, without any distinction of what was irksome or agreeable, because such was the will of HIM, whom he desired to please in preference to himself.

SPIRITUAL DIRECTOR

Of Devout and Religious Souls. From the Writings of St. Francis Sales. Bound in cloth, ... Price 75

The name of the truly great St. Francis gave a worth and character to this work, which no language of ours can enhance. Each chapter is devoted to the elucidation of some Christian virtue, or to the enforcement of some Christian duty. It is one of those peculiarly excellent books, of which we can never tire. It is not to buy it, read it, and then put it on the shelf. Over and over again it may be perused, and then re-perused, and always with profit and delight. A chapter or two might be studied, and made the subject of meditation for every day of life—and to those who have no director of a similar kind, we recommend that they obtain this without delay.

Life and Times of Sir Thomas More. Illustrated from his own writings, and from contemporary documents. By W. Joseph Walter, late of St. Edmund's College; with a portrait and autograph of More.

Sir Thomas More is one of the most prominent names in the English Catholic annals. This remarkable man claims attention under all the varied relations of the good father, the enlightened statesman, the elegant historian, and the no contemptible champion in the field of controversy.

Desirous of re-producing a faithful picture of the time, the author has taken pleasure in weaving into his narrative the many simple traits of domestic manners with which the pages of More's family biographers abound.

SEVEN VIRTUES.

Stories of the Seven Virtues. By Agnes M. Stewart.

One volume. 18mo. neatly bound in cloth, ... Price 38

This is a series of moral and interesting tales, told with an elegant simplicity—each illustrating the triumph of one of the seven virtues. The stories are well conceived, and the moral ever salutary and impressive. To our young friends we would recommend this little volume with an assurance that its perusal will be attended with more practical good than if they had waded through a dozen of the light and trashy novels of the day. The gifted authoress has prepared a work for which her young friends ought to be truly grateful.—Truth Teller.

The accomplished writer of these pious and moral narratives has ably mingled in them the useful with the pleasing. They are designed for the instruction of young persons, on the practical subjects of humility, liberality, chastity, meekness, temperance, brotherly-love and diligence, and contain an illustration of these virtues which will be read with equal pleasure and profit.—Cath. Mirror.

TRIUMPH OF RELIGION;

Or, a Choice Selection of Edifying Narratives, compiled from various authors, by the Rev. James Fitton.

18mo. cloth, gilt back, ... Price 38

Example is every thing in the formation of character; and there is no more fitting book to place in the hands of youth, whose principles are not firmly fixed, than this one, which illustrates virtue by examples drawn from history. The purity of the morals depends upon the bias too often given by vicious books when the mind is most easily impressed.

PARABLES.

Parables of P. Bonaventure Girardeau, S. J. author of L'Evangile Medité.

CATECHISM OF THE COUNCIL OF TRENT.

Published by command of Pope Pius V. Translated by Rev. J. Donovan, Professor, &c. Royal College, Maynooth.—
In one volume, 8vo. cloth, ... Price $1 00

THE ROMAN CATECHISM, of which this is an English translation, was composed by decree of the Council of Trent; and the same venerable authority commands all Bishops "to take care that it be faithfully translated into the vernacular language, and expounded to the people by all pastors."

To meet the mischievous activity of the Reformers and to rear the edifice of Christian knowledge on its only secure and solid basis, the instruction of its authorized teachers; to afford the faithful a fixed standard of Christian belief, and to the Pastor a prescribed form of religious instruction; to supply a pure and perennial fountain of living waters to refresh and invigorate at once the Pastor and the flock, were amongst the important objects contemplated by the Fathers of Trent in the publication and translation of the Roman Catechism.

The world has been inundated with pernicious tracts, teeming with vituperative misrepresentations of the dogmas of the Catholic faith, and loaded with unmeasured invective against the principles of Catholic morality, by the action of the Fathers of Trent, and we are now furnished with an antidote eminently calculated to neutralize the poison, which has been so industriously diffused, to abate prejudice, instruct ignorance, promote piety, and confirm belief, in a work containing a comprehensive summary of the dogmas of the Catholic faith, and a no less comprehensive epitome of the principles of Catholic morality.

To another, and, happily, an increasing class of the community, the present volume cannot fail to prove a useful acquisition—to those who, anxious only for truth, desire to know the real principles of Catholics could they arrive at a knowledge of them through the medium of a compendious and authoritative exposition.

To these important ends we cannot, perhaps, contribute more effectually, than by placing within the reach of all, a Work explanatory of Catholic doctrine, and universally acknowledged authority in the Catholic Church.

INSTRUCTIONS on the Holiness and Dignity of the Sacrament of Matrimony, addressed to parents and Christian youth. By Rev. M. Vuarin, parish priest of Geneva. Translated from the French. 18mo. cloth, 38

The holiness of Christian marriage is too little known by the greater part of those who contract this religious engagement; the duties it imposes both as spouses and as parents are still less generally appreciated. Hence the disturbance of domestic peace, the bad education of children and the violation of the Sacrament. Those that are already engaged in the holy state of matrimony and those about entering into it, will derive great benefit from a careful perusal of this little volume.

CATECHISM OF PERSEVERANCE.

An historical, doctrinal, moral and liturgical exposition of the Catholic religion Translated from the French of Abbé Gaume. The work is particularly adapted to the purposes of a text book for the higher degrees of catechetical instruction.

As a guarantee of its being worthy in every respect the attention of the Catholic community, the publishers respectfully submit the following distinguished testimonials and approbations:

I cheerfully recommend to the patronage of the Catholic community the Catechism of Perseverance, thanslated from the "Petit Catechisme de Perseverance," of the Abbé Gaume, as a work well calculated to impart solid, historical, liturgical, moral and doctrinal instruction in an agreeable form, and as being particularly well suited for the purpose of higher religious instruction in Catholic Schools and Academies.

†MARTIN J.
Bishop of Lengone and Coadjutor Bishop of Louisville.

Louisville, April 25, 1850.

Although I have not read the translation of the abridgment of the "Catechism of Perseverance," I cheerfully recommend it to the faithful on the ample guarantee of the approbation of the Rt. Rev. Dr. Spalding.

†SAMUEL, Archbishop of Baltimore.

Baltimore, August 23, 1850.

We cheerfully concur in the approbation given above by the Right Rev. Bishop Spalding.

†MICHAEL, Bishop of Mobile.
†ANTHONY, Bishop of New Orleans.
†JOHN, Bishop of Galveston.

NEW, COMPLETE, AND CHEAP EDITION OF

REV. DR. ALBAN BUTLER'S

FEASTS AND FASTS OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH,

With the continuation by the Rt. Rev. Dr. WALSH, now first published in America. Small 8vo. cloth. Price $1.

The value of this extraordinary work of solid instruction and erudition is greatly enhanced in this edition, by what the gifted Author deemed necessary to complete this work, viz., the addition of the Feast of Corpus Christi and of the Sacred Heart, by an eminent divine, and which the Author was prevented from doing by death.

THE DECLINE OF PROTESTANTISM;

A Lecture Delivered in St. Patrick's Cathedral, on Sunday Evening, Nov. 10th, for the benefit of the House of Protection, under the charge of the Sisters of Mercy,

BY THE MOST REV. JOHN HUGHES, D. D.,

ARCHBISHOP OF NEW-YORK.

Price 6¼ cents.

The Lecture commences with a brief exposition of the term "Protestantism, as distinguished from Catholicism," and shows the want of vitality and consistency in the principles it professes to teach. The great principle known as the Right of Private Judgment of the Scriptures, which is accorded by the Protestant Church to all its members, and so lauded by the Protestant world at large, is analyzed with the rare logical power so characteristic of the distinguished divine. The striking truths with which the whole discourse abounds should commend it to the careful perusal and consideration of all.

THE CHURCH AND THE WORLD; a Lecture delivered at the Chinese Museum, Philadelphia, Jan. 31, 1850, for the benefit of St. John's Orphan Asylum, by the Rt. Rev. John Hughes, D. D. $0 6¼

In this Lecture the Right Rev. Author takes a rapid but comprehensive view of the recent political agitations in Europe, and their results; and in this connection discusses very fully the right of Revolution, or the right of a people to change their government at will.

The London Rambler says: "A vigorously sketched outline of the relationships of the social and spiritual communities, showing the origin and rights of each, and expounding the Catholic Doctrine on the subject of Revolution."

The Dublin Review of October, 1848, says of this series:—"These little works form part of a series which we hope to see continued, and which, under the name of the 'Home Library,' have been collected and given to the public by E. Dunigan, of New-York. Those works which we have seen all seek, more or less strenuously, the advancement of the Catholic faith, and are admirable for good sense and morality."

The London Tablet says:—"This new series of Catholic Books of pious instruction and innocent recreation, is published in New-York. They are neatly printed, handsomely bound, and form very suitable presents for young Catholics."

SHANDY M'GUIRE,

OR,

TRICKS UPON TRAVELLERS.

BEING A STORY OF THE NORTH OF IRELAND,

BY PAUL PEPPERGRASS, ESQ.

In 1 vol., 16mo., in half cloth binding, 50 cts.; full cloth, gilt backs, 75 cts.

"Shandy M'Guire" is emphatically a "Story of the North of Ireland." The plot is mainly laid in the heart of the county Donegal, and the characteristic life of that remote region is beautifully portrayed. The fair and the fighting, the gauger and the illicit still—the Orangemen and Ribbonmen—the grasping agent and the suffering cottager—the Priest of the People, and the proselyting Minister of the Established Church, are all successfully and strikingly portrayed.

The New-York Truth-Teller says:

"The work is one neither of Politics nor Polemics, but a story of great interest, in which the 'Wit of Lover,' the frolicking fun of 'Charles O'Malley,' are happily united. Through all, and above all, is a tone of pure, healthful religious feeling, not often found in tales of Irish Life, since those of Barrow and Gerold Griffin."

The Boston Post says:

"This is a tale of the oppressions of Ireland, told by an Irishman and a Catholic. As a mere literary work, it has power, pathos, and rural semblance. Some of the scenes are as naturally and vividly done as the best of the O'Hara Tales, or the most intense of the Stories of Carleton. We know of no American writer of note that could produce the equal of 'Shandy M'Guire,' so full of glowing pictures of Irish life and character, painted by a man of ability, and a warm sympathizer for the suffering and outraged. To us it was a literary curiosity, and we read through the whole, sacred and profane, creed, argument, and fiction, with much pleasure."

The London Tablet says:

"Some of the incidents in the story are tragical, but the greater part is extremely ludicrous on the surface, though in reality it is not so; for it is the laughter of a breaking heart, and the jesting of men in the agonies of death. The story is amusing, and contains instructions even for statesmen, if they have but the heart to understand what political institutions can do in the way of good and evil."

ST. VINCENT'S MANUAL,

Containing a SELECTION of PRAYERS and DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES, originally prepared for the use of the SISTERS OF CHARITY in the UNITED STATES, with the Approbation of the Superiors.

REVISED, ENLARGED, AND ADAPTED TO GENERAL USE.

APPROBATION OF THE MOST REV. ARCHBISHOP OF BALTIMORE, AND THE RIGHT REV. BISHOPS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Considering St. Vincent's Manual as one of the most comprehensive and judiciously compiled Prayer Books, I take great pleasure in recommending it to the Faithful † SAMUEL, Abp. of Baltimore.

I cheerfully concur in the foregoing approbation of the M. Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore.
Pittsburg, April 24, 1848. † MICHAEL, Bp. of Pittsburg.

I have examined St. Vincent's Manual with some attention, and find it not only more comprehensive than any prayer book now in use, but also better adapted to the wants of the Catholic community at large, to whom I take great pleasure in recommending it. † RICHARD PIUS, Bp. of Nashville.

St. Vincent's Manual is an Encyclopedia of Devotional Exercises, more complete, we think, than any Prayer Book, in any language. † JOHN BAPTIST, Bp. of Cincinnati.

I fully concur with the Most Rev. Archbishop, and other prelates above mentioned, in approving and recommending St. Vincent's Manual. † IGNATIUS ALOYSIUS REYNOLDS, Bp. of Charleston.

We concur in the foregoing approbations, and recommend the work in our Dioceses.

† MICHAEL, Bishop of Mobile.
† ANTHONY, Bishop of New Orleans.
† MATHIAS, Bishop of Dubuque.

† JOHN, Bishop of Buffalo.
† AMEDEUS, Bishop of Cleveland.
† JAMES OLIVER, Bishop of Chicago.

BRIEF EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"Without exception this is by far the best Catholic Prayer Book in our language. It was originally prepared for the use of the Sisters of Charity; and in adapting it for general use, such additions as the WAY OF THE CROSS, the prayers of BONA MORS, MEDITATIONS FOR EVERY DAY IN THE MONTH, the SCAPULAR, LIVING ROSARY, MONTH OF MARY, &c., give it that standard value that will make this the most popular of all our excellent prayer books." Pitts. Cath.

"The work is neatly executed; and for intrinsic merit, as a manual and collection of devotions, we would give it the preference over any other that we know in English. Our reasons are, its greater variety of exercises, and especially its large number of LITANIES. Freeman's Journal.

"The excellence of this prayer book consists in the accuracy which characterizes its various parts, and in the numerous prayers and instructions which have been introduced into it. It contains full explanations of all the principal observances of Catholic piety, and of several devotions which have never been published in any other English prayer book, for instance, the MONTH OF MARY, the LIVING ROSARY, the ARCHCONFRATERNITY FOR THE CONVERSION OF SINNERS, RULE OF LIFE FOR A PIOUS CHRISTIAN, &c. The Prayers before and after Communion and Confession are very copious, and the Litanies are numerous. One of the most useful additions to the work is the Burial Service in Latin and English for children and adults, which will enable those who assist at that ceremony, to follow the officiating clergyman. The Psalms and other devotions for the evening service of the church are arranged to suit the different festivals that occur during the year. In short, this Manual may truly be said to be the most comprehensive book of the kind that has ever been issued from the press in this country. It is very handsomely executed, and is embellished with several fine Engravings. Let all purchase this book, who wish to be provided with a complete manual of Catholic piety." U. S. C. Magazine.

"Mr. Murphy, of Baltimore, has just issued a new Catholic Prayer Book, which we pronounce without fear of contradiction to be the best which has yet come within our knowledge. It is beautifully got up—printed with new type, on excellent paper—illustrated with several fine engravings, and illuminated title—presentation plates, &c and can be had in any kind of binding." Truth Teller.

"In point of accuracy and comprehensiveness, this book surpasses all the Manuals of Devotion that have been hitherto published for the benefit of the Catholic community, and may, therefore, be relied on as a sure guide in all matters pertaining to the exercises of piety which are practised among Catholics. It contains a great variety of Devotions, with appropriate and useful instructions that have never before been published in any one Prayer Book in the English language. The publisher has placed the Catholics of the United States under an obligation in issuing this truly elegant and useful volume, which it is to be hoped, they will repay by a liberal patronage for their mutual benefit." Balt. Sun.

Catholic families will find this a most valuable Prayer Book. It contains, in addition to the ordinary prayers and devotions, the manner of singing the Responses at Mass and Vespers, some excellent instructions upon the art of singing, which may be rendered very useful to the younger members; it will enable each family to form a little choir in the domestic sanctuary, during the unimproved hours of afternoons, on Sundays and festivals, every voice may join in chanting the divine praises; thus cultivating a taste for sacred music, calling into play the purer and holier feelings of the heart, and making home a delight to those little ones, instead of seeking other places for pastime and amusement.

CHEAP GERMAN PRAYER BOOKS.

Gebet-Bücher.

The following German Prayers are published with the Approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore. They have been compiled with the greatest care by gentlemen of experience, under the immediate superintendence of the Rev. Superiors of the Society of the Holy Redeemer, in Baltimore, with a view to their adaptation to the wants of the German Catholics of this country. In carrying out this design, neither pains nor expense have been spared, to introduce all the Prayers and Devotional Exercises used by devout Catholics, together with a choice Collection of the most approved Litanies, Hymns for Sunday Schools, &c. &c., and to produce them in a style of elegance and cheapness, corresponding with the best English works published in this country. Each book is embellished with 36 fine Engravings, illustrative of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, with devotions suited to each of the various classes who devoutly assist thereat; with ample instructions on the nature and dignity of the Sacrifice, for the young and uninformed. The publishers feel justified in saying, that these are, decidedly, the cheapest, most comprehensive and best Books ever offered to the German Catholics of this country.

"The many editions through which this work has passed on the other side of the Atlantic, afford abundant evidence of the high estimate which is set upon it by the religious portion of Catholic Germany. The vast amount of information which it embodies, embracing all the principal events from the creation of the world to the destruction of Jerusalem, with a full and edifying account of the life and sufferings of our divine Saviour, and his holy Mother, and many of the most distinguished personages mentioned in the New Testament, with interesting narrations regarding the destruction of the holy city and Palestine, renders it an excellent compend of ancient ecclesiastical history, and an admirable introduction to the reading and understanding of the holy Scriptures, particularly the New Testament, as well as to the study of the events connected with the origin and early propagation of the Christian religion. The style of the author is plain, but derives the power of pleasing from the importance of the subjects which he treats, as well as from the simplicity and naturalness with which he developes them. Although in some instances he has evinced less discernment than piety in the statement of facts, his work may be recommended to the German Catholics of the United States, as a treasure of sacred knowledge, which they may resort to at all times with profit, either to become acquainted with the history of the primitive church, or to animate their piety by the contemplation of the impressive scenes which it exhibits. The work before us is printed in large and beautiful type, and ornamented with several fine engravings and illuminated titles. It contains also a family record, which will be found a great convenience to Christian parents. All these considerations must render Father Cochem's Life of Christ a work of the highest interest, particularly at the present time, when the continually increasing numbers that are flocking to our shores from Germany, must necessarily create a corresponding increase in the demand for books of this description, which furnish so effectual a means of nourishing and sustaining that religious feeling which seldom fails to accompany the German emigrant, from his fatherland to the forests of the western continent." *U. Bishop England's Works, published under the auspices and immediate superintendence of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Reynolds, the present Bishop of Charleston. 5 v. 8vo. cloth $10 00

The same ....Library style, marbled edges 12 00

The subjects of these volumes present attractions, not only to the inquirer after Religious Truth; but to the Statesman and to the Lawyer they present much that is worthy of their study, as well for the subject matter, as for the style of the writer, and the simplicity of the language which he used to embody the analytical deductions made by his gigantic mind. His Discourses furnish Models of Oratory worthy of imitation by Divines, Statesmen, and members of the Legal Profession. It is difficult to say in what Dr. England excelled;—as an orator, he was great, sublime, thrilling:—as a Theologian, his profound erudition, and familiarity with the writings of the Fathers of the Church, and with Ecclesiastical History of all ages, and all countries, place him high amongst the highest:—as a Controversialist, the evenness of his temper, the lucidity of his reasoning, and the force of his language, command for him the respect of his antagonist, and the admiration of all his readers.

These writings are now, for the first time, presented to the American public, under the auspices and immediate superintendence of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Reynolds, the present Bishop of Charleston, who has at great expense caused the Writings of his Illustrious Predecessor to be collected and arranged. This has been done with great care and labor, and the entire matter is comprised in five large octavo volumes.

Owing to the great expense attending the publication of these Works, it was deemed injudicious to print but a small edition; and there being but a limited number remaining unsold, it is earnestly hoped that every Catholic who can afford it, will secure a copy at an early day—and thus aid in disseminating the Writings of one of the Fathers of the American Church, and in relieving from an embarrassing responsibility the Rt. Rev. Prelate through whose labors and agency they are now presented to the public.

To such as are unacquainted with the merits of these Works, we submit a few brief extracts from the numerous and liberal notices taken by the American press, both religious and secular:

"We trust that the Protestant and Catholic will vie with each other in shewing that they love literature and appreciate worth, without regard to sectarian prejudice." Charleston Courier.

"The collected works of the learned and esteemed prelate, is a contribution to the civilized and Christian world Such an offering, within the circles of religion and literature, occurs but rarely—it is an event of the age, and as such the works before us will be appreciated." Baltimore Sun.

"They deserve to take their place as contributions to American literature on the shelves of our libraries, and to find readers beyond the pale of the religious belief of their writer." N. Y. Literary World.

"We fondly trust that no Catholic in the United States, capable of understanding these volumes, will fail to procure a copy." Pittsburg Catholic.

"The writings of Bishop England should have a place in every well-selected Library, and we trust that no Catholic with means will be without them." Truth Teller.

"Now that this great compilation has been presented to the Catholic Church and public, we hope the zeal, anxiety, and expense of the excellent compiler will not go without its reward." Boston Pilot.

Bishop England on Slavery.—Letters of the late Bishop England to the Hon. The name of the gifted and lamented author of these Letters, is a sure guarantee of their distinguished merit. The numerous discussions and misunderstandings constantly arising on the subject of slavery, render these letters peculiarly interesting to all classes.

To a work so well and so favorably known as the Lives of the Saints, it is deemed unnecessary to say any thing by way of commendation. Suffice it to state, that the present edition has been gotten up with the greatest care, under the supervision of the eminent Professors of St. Mary's College, Baltimore. It is printed on fine paper, from a good, clear and bold type, and may justly be considered the most complete as it is unquestionably the cheapest edition published.

Extract from the Preface to the Metropolitan Edition.—" In presenting to the Public this new edition of the Lives of the Saints, we think it useless to expatiate upon the excellence of the work. The many editions through which it has passed; the various translations of it in different parts of the world; the high encomiums bestowed upon it by the most illustrious prelates and doctors of the church; the immense mass of information which it contains concerning the history of our holy religion; the wonderful examples of piety and virtue presented to our admiration in every page, are eminently calculated to rouse us from our lethargy, excite our zeal, and prompt us to walk, with undaunted courage, in the footsteps of those noble and generous heroes who have preceded us in the spiritual warfare; in fine, the learned, judicious, and edifying remarks with which it is so abundantly illustrated, recommend the work much more powerfully and eloquently than we could do ourselves.

" We shall therefore content ourselves with stating, that our main, nay, our only reasons for publishing this new edition of the Lives of the Saints, are first, to present to the Catholics of the United States the complete work of the venerable author with all the notes and remarks which he added to the lives of the principal saints, and which contain so much useful information, and in the second place, to put the work, in this complete form, at a price so low as to enable all, even the poorest, to procure it without inconvenience. Our only desire in doing so is, to promote the glory of God, by spreading among the faithful a work, every page of which exhibits in the most striking manner, the treasures of his infinite goodness for his elect, and to contribute as much as we can to the salvation of our brethren, by furnishing them with the most powerful incentives to virtue and the best examples for their imitation; and we confidently hope that our wishes and efforts will be blessed by the Almighty."

" The excellency of this work of the Rev. Alban Butler, as a record of the fruits of Catholic sanctity in every age since the commencement of the Christian era, and as an incentive to imitate the example of those who have been most distinguished for their virtue, is universally admitted, and this alone would be a sufficient reason to welcome the publication of the present edition. But when we consider that this will be the only complete edition of the work from the American press, we have abundant reason to congratulate the Catholic community on being enabled to provide themselves with so valuable a production, at so little cost." U. S. Cath. Mag.

The same	flexible cloth	38
" "	full bound cloth	50

This able production of the late Baron de Starck, is presented to the American public with the view to promote as far as possible, the Re union of the different Christian communions. On its first appearance in Germany, it produced the greatest sensation, and passed rapidly through several editions.

"This is the production of a Protestant minister; but one who looked in sorrow upon the distracted state into which Protestantism had thrown the Christian world, and who endeavored, by the publication of the volume before us, to pave the way for the return of the misguided followers of the Reformation to the bosom of the ancient Church. It is an entertaining and instructive work, and exhibits in the form of dialogue the evidences which Catholicity has elicited from Protestant writers."

Choice of a State of Life, by Father Charles J. Rossignoli, S. J. Translated from the French.

18mo.	cloth	50
The same	cloth, gilt edges	75

"It is peculiarly adapted to meet the wants of that portion of youth who are on the point of entering upon the active duties of life, and from its simple, yet eloquent pages, may be drawn counsels and admonitions applicable to all time. This little treatise may indeed be read with profit by all who desire to advance in virtue; and its interesting, yet meditative tone cannot but rivet the pious reader's attention."

Truth Teller.

"This little book, published in Baltimore with the approbation of the Venerable Archbishop of that Diocess, is a work of great merit, and particularly useful to our countrymen at the present day—especially to the young. Nothing is so important on setting out in life as to make a wise choice of the means whereby to attain the desired end; as in undertaking a journey to a strange city, it is absolutely necessary to inquire the way, and to pursue that which shall be indicated as the direct and only safe road.

"The first question to be settled is—Whither am I going? Where do I intend that my journey shall terminate? Every Christian will unhesitatingly answer—God is my end—Heaven is my resting place. Then all my plans, all my actions, my occupations, and studies should be so disposed and chosen as to make sure of the attainment of this all-important end.

"But men are not all alike. Their dispositions and tastes essentially differ. The same line of action that will make one man happy will make another miserable. The studies that tend to refine and elevate one, will corrupt and degrade another. The State of Life which will be honored by one will be dishonored by another. If therefore a man makes a wrong choice, he runs the risk of sowing for himself sorrow and disappointment, and of afterwards reaping despair. The river on which his bark glides so smooth, on his setting out, hurries him to a stormy ocean and to shipwreck.

"It is a great error to suppose that in order to make a wise choice and to secure salvation it is necessary to become a priest or a monk or a nun, for in either of these states persons may live unworthy, and be damned. Whereas in the world, amid all its cares and distracting employments, men may attain perfection and reach Heaven. The unworthy religious might have been a saint had he lived in the world, and the pious tradesman have dishonored his profession had he chosen the cassock or the cowl.

"Of infinite moment then is it for all men to make a wise choice and to make it in season. If it be deferred, habits are fixed, reason becomes distorted, the will obstinate, and a choice cannot be well made, and often cannot be made at all. To those, therefore, who desire to make a choice and to make it wisely, we recommend to them this little work of Father Rossignoli. They will there find considerations and arguments full of piety and unction to convince them of the importance of deciding, and to stimulate them to immediate action, and what is better still, rules to guide them infallibly in making a wise choice."

Christianity and the Church, by the Rev. Charles Constantine Pise, D. D., author of "Father Rowland," "Aletheia," "Zenosius," etc. etc... .....cap 8vo. cloth 75

The object of this work is to trace Christianity and the Church—one and the same—from the beginning of the world; to give a brief outline of the history of religion, as it emanated from the bosom of God was communicated to our first parents, and spread with the human race, gradually developing and becoming more bright until the "rising of the Orient from on high" imparted to it its full expansion and splendor.

"This is a new fruit of the industry and zeal of the gifted author. It presents the acknowledgments of many distinguished writers of the various doctrines of the Church, and is calculated to exercise a salutary influence on the young especially, who are apt to imagine that men of genius seldom believe the mysteries of religion."
Cat. Instructor.

"Though the reformation was very tragical in its consequences, its pretensions, as an improvement of religion, have justly been considered in the light of a comedy. Especially in England does this view of the subject present itself to the reader of history, and Cobbett, in his quaint, popular, matter-of-fact style, has invested it with a degree of interest, which it would not possess in a graver and more polished form. As he relates facts which the best historians confirm, his statements will always be received as authoritative. The present edition of his history is neatly printed, and offered at a very moderate price, circumstances which, in addition to its intrinsic worth, insure it a ready and extensive circulation." *U. "Mr. Olier was one of the deepest spiritual writers of the seventeenth century, or perhaps of modern times A Protestant who would read the little work before us, which exhibits the spirit of Jesus Christ and the sentiments that belong to his followers, would no doubt consider the author a rigorist who teaches what is beyond the capabilities of human nature: for Protestantism has smoothed the way of Christian morality and adapted it to most of those weaknesses and frailties which we carry with us from our very birth But the Catholic will find in the spiritual catechism of Mr. Olier, an admirable illustration of the spirit which his church inculcates, and a most practical method of introducing it into his various duties and actions."

"This work is well known in the Catholic world as one of the very best for the succinct and satisfactory explanation of whatever appertains to the practices of the Catholic Church. We are happy to see the present edition produced at such a price as to place it at once within the reach of all classes, as no better work can be placed in the hands of Catholics, whether young or old—and to the honest Protestant, in search of religious truth, we know of no work better calculated to impart correct information" *U. Defence of the Catholic Dogma of the Eucharist against the recent attacks of Adversaries. By Peter Fredet, D. D., Professor of Theology in Saint Mary's College, Baltimore.....12mo. paper 18

The distinguished reputation of the author of this little Treatise, as a learned Theologian, is a sufficient guarantee to those who may wish to inform themselves on the important subject of which it treats. They will find in its pages the most conclusive historical and dogmatical grounds of the Catholic belief and doctrine, concerning the real presence and transubstantiation.

Father Oswald, a Genuine Catholic Story..18mo. cloth 50

The same.....cloth, gilt edges 75

This work is intended to be a refutation of Father Clement; and as the author has been signally successful in accomplishing his design, the circulation of this work is well worthy the zeal of those who have at heart the honor and propagation of the true faith. The work is well worthy the commendations which the press has everywhere bestowed upon it; and we do not hesitate to welcome it among the productions which are to be the most popular and influential means of removing anti-Catholic prejudice, and leading the Protestant mind to the discovery and acknowledgment of truth. The present edition has been carefully revised, corrected and improved throughout.

"Few if any books of Catholic literature have come up more effectually to the objects with which they set out than the tale of Father Oswald. The rites and dogmas of our holy religion are explained in a masterly style and in so animated a manner, that even an indifferent reader will find his interest in the book kept up to the last. It is a model of a work especially in the manner in which the religious colloquies are kept up. It is presented to the Catholic public in an improved style, and we hope every Catholic will supply himself with a copy of the work. We can safely say that there are few Catholic books in our language, better adapted to general use or calculated to do more extensive and lasting good." U. S. Cath. Mag.

Fenélon on the Education of a Daughter...24mo. cloth 50

The same.....cloth, gilt edges 75

This little work, from the pen of the illustrious FENELON, Archbishop of Cambray, is now, for the first time presented to the American public. Like all the other productions of that distinguished Prelate, his "EDUCATION OF A DAUGHTER," addressed to Christian parents, on the vital subject of the education of youth, has been universally admired for the excellence and wisdom of its instructions, the beauty of its maxims, and the intrinsic worth of its counsels. The name of Fenélon will, no doubt, be a sufficient recommendation to introduce it to the favorable notice of all who feel an interest in the virtue and happiness of the youthful and innocent portion of the community. To assist in promoting that happiness, and preserving that innocence and virtue, in the hearts of children, is the principal motive of the present publication, and hence it is confidently hoped that parents and teachers will give it a favorable reception.

"This is a very neatly executed volume, and one of the best specimens of typography that we have witnessed from Mr. Murphy's press. The type is clear and beautiful and the paper of excellent quality, while the work is set off with a handsome title page and ornamental chapter heads. The admirable lessons, however, contained in this well known production of the immortal Fenélon, justly deserve to be placed before the public in the richest attire that mechanical art is capable of imparting. Nothing can be of greater importance to parents than to learn the difficult art of successfully training the youthful mind, and of giving to the female children under their charge that physical and moral education which will fit them to be useful members of society, and to fulfil the great end for which they were placed in this world. The vast majority of parents are but too lamentably ignorant of their duties in this respect, and the consequences of it are but too keenly felt even by themselves, though at a period when it is too late to repair the effects of their culpable inattention. The work before us is a manual of excellent instructions on this all-important subject, and every family should be provided with a copy of it."

First Communion, a Series of Letters to the Young

24mo.....cloth 38

The same.....cloth, gilt edges 50

There is no act so excellent and sublime, and which demands so much reverence and devotion on the part of those who perform it, as the reception of the Holy Communion, which does really, truly, and substantially contain the body and blood of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; for "here is not a question of preparing a fit habitation for a man, but for the God of majesty and glory, for the King of heaven and earth." The excellence of the Holy Communion, and the special devotion with which it should be received, have led the author as well as the translator of this book to present it to the public; its object being to inspire the minds and hearts of children with the highest possible respect and longing desire for the Holy Communion, and to assist those who prepare them to approach worthily and devoutly so august and sublime a mystery. I heartily recommend this little work to the Clergy, and all those who have the charge of the young. JOHN BAPTIST PAGANI,

Of the many admirable works written by the celebrated author, this is, perhaps, the most generally useful, as it is unquestionably the most practical. With a noble sublimity in its devotion, and an affecting unction in its piety, it unites a charming attraction in its style, and a beautiful simplicity in its details, equally adapted to every sex, age, state, or condition of life, interior or exterior. It should form an indispensable companion to all prayer books, whether in the retirement of the closet or the worship of the church.

"This little volume is one of the most beautifully printed, and the most generally useful, among the Catholic books that have been published in this country. It is from the pen of an author who was deeply imbued with the spirit of God, and whose lessons cannot fail to be an effectual safeguard against the dangers and temptations of the world. Whoever enters with proper dispositions this spiritual garden, or wanders along the quiet vale to which the author of this little book invites him, must necessarily imbibe the rich and delightful fragrance of those heavenly virtues, which form the excellence and perfection of the Christian character." U. S. C. Mag.

Golden Book of Humility .....32mo. fancy paper 12

"The pious Catholic, who aims at a continual progress in the way of Christian perfection, will cordially welcome the appearance of this little volume. Though of small compass, it embraces the practice of all virtues. The elegance which characterizes its typographical execution makes it a beautiful gem, and cannot fail to secure it an extensive patronage." U. S. Cat. Mag.

"This volume is neatly executed, and well deserves all the typographical excellence that can be bestowed upon it. It is one of those books which may be said to contain the quintessence of all that is admirable in the practical influence of our faith, and to place it before the reader in a form equally interesting and instructive. Few biographies of the saints could be found to possess a greater interest than that of St. Vincent of Paul; none could be more practically useful. His life was so unequivocally and so copiously fruitful in every species of good work, that it has been eulogized even by Protestant pens. The volume which has just appeared should for this reason be introduced into every Catholic family." U. S. Cat. Mag.

Lingard's History & Antiquities of the Anglo-Saxon Church, with a Map of Anglo-Saxon Britain, &c..8vo. cloth 1 50

Extracts from the Preface to the American edition.—"The merited and long established celebrity of Dr. Lingard as a writer and an historian, is, of itself, sufficient to commend to public notice any of the productions of his pen; but, independently of this consideration, the subject of the present volume posseses much in it to claim the peculiar attention of the American reader.

"Whatever concerns the origin, or is connected with the early history, of the Saxon conquerors of England, cannot be devoid of interest for their descendants, however separated by place from the scenes in which they acted such prominent parts. The Antiquities, too, of the Anglo-Saxon Church will be found a most important and useful branch of study for the general scholar; and almost an indispensable acquisition for the theological student; as many of the controversies which, unfortunately, divide the Christian world at this day, have either direct reference to the doctrines and discipline of the early Saxon Church, or derive considerable light from a knowledge of its principles and institutions.

"Such a guide, then, as Dr. Lingard, whose qualifications for the inquiry are unquestioned, and whose character for integrity is unimpeached, cannot but afford most desirable assistance to such as wish to examine for themselees the momentous questions that form the subject of religious investigation. Dr. Lingard is not here, however, a polemic, but an antiquary; and the calm and dispassionate manner in which he treats of facts and doctrines, which have so often formed the subject of much angry controversy, is the best guarantee we can have, that truth alone has ever been the object he had in view; and that the fullest reliance may be placed in the conclusions at which he has arrived. It will be seen that all his statements are sustained by copious references to original authorities, by means of which the learned reader will be enabled to ascend to the sources of the author's information, and form his own judgment of the justness of his inferences.

"In presenting, then, "The Antiquities of the Anglo-Saxon Church" to the people of the United States, the publishers hope that they will be found to have added to their means of literary enjoyment, and, at the same time, contributed somewhat to their moral and religious improvement."

Life of St. Patrick, Apostle of Ireland—to which are added the Lives of St. Bridget, Virgin and Abbess, and St. Columba, Abbot, and Apostle of the Northern Picts..12mo. cloth 50

"There is no department in Irish history which, for the Irish reader, should possess more true interest than the ecclesiastical annals of his country. They are almost the only record over which he may pore with unmixed satisfaction and unalloyed national pride. As with Italy so also with Ireland the Catholic religion has been the only unity which for centuries she possessed—the only unpurchased and unpurchasable body which has survived the fiery ordeal of persecution and misery through which the country has passed. The history of the Irish Church, and consequently the biography of those of her sons, who were most eminent from their piety, has ever been a favorite study of the youth of Ireland, and to no more useful branch could they apply. In this country, where so many of our fellow countrymen have found a home and a free altar, every work which in any way illustrates the history of their father-land must prove invaluable. Hence we hail with pleasure a new edition of this useful work—the Life of the great Apostle of Ireland—of St. Bridget, and St. Columba. It entirely refutes the calumnies of such writers as Cambrensis, Jocelin and others." Truth Teller.

Primacy of the Apostolic See Vindicated. By Bishop Kenrick, of Philadelphia. .....8vo. cloth or sheep 1 25

Dr. Kenrick has happily adapted this work to the peculiar wants of our country, introducing into it the examination of all questions raised among t us, relative to the holy see, and furnishing in regard to all an amount of information which must prove eminently satisfactory to the Protestant and Catholic, as being of the utmost practical utility. The Rt. Rev. author has, with his well known learning, abilities, and earnest Christian Spirit presented the entire argument in defence of the important, and at this moment eminently interesting subject of the Primacy. Of the extent of the range of topics pursued, the title can hardly be said to furnish any adequate idea.—A summary of the heads of the principal chapters may better serve that purpose, and it is subjoined: Promises of the Primacy, institution of do., Exercise of the Primacy by Peter, Interpretation by the Fathers, Peter, Bishop of Rome, Centre of Unity, Ancient Controversies, Disturbances at Corinth, Antipope, Controversy concerning Baptism, Donatism, Guardianship of Faith, The Hierarchy, Deposition of Bishops, Patrimony of St. Peter, Civil Influence on the Popes, Umpire, Ecclesiastical Censures, Deposing Power, Crusades, Inquisition, Papal Prerogatives, Civilization, Literature and the Arts in the Middle Ages, Lives of the Popes, &c. &c.

Pauline Seward, a Tale of Real Life.....12mo. cloth 1 00

The same.....cloth, gilt edges 1 50

In presenting a new and cheap edition of this work, which is universally conceded to be the BRIGHTEST GEM IN THE CATHOLIC LITERATURE OF THE U. S., the publishers, anxious to extend the sphere of its beneficial influence, and to give it a circulation commensurate with its merits, have reduced the price from $1 50 to $1 per copy—thus rendering it one of the cheapest, as it is unquestionably one of the best works of its class ever offered to the Catholics of the United States for general circulation.

"This work unites in an eminent degree pleasing incidents with useful instruction. Through a story so well conceived and ably sustained, the author has infused the teachings of the Catholic church in a manner so eminently calculated to correct the errors and prejudices with which her adversaries would obscure her practices and doctrines. In Pauline and Little Marie, the reader will become at once deeply interested; and in following them through their many bitter trials, he will be made familiar with the consistency and strength of Catholic dogmas, and the beauty and consolation of Catholic devotions. The author of this work is a convert to Catholicity; and knowing, from past experience and associations, what are the principal difficulties with Protestants in relation to our religion, he has sought to apply the interesting portions of his work to their explanation and removal. In this he has not been less happy than in the story itself. The work has only to be read to be admired —and no Catholic should be without a copy.

"No branch of Catholic literature has been so little attended to as that of which the present work is destined to form one of the brightest gems. It is written in the most chaste and beautiful style. The interest thrown around the tale is singularly happy and intense." Cath. Herald.

"If not the brightest gem in the Catholic literature of this country, the story of Pauline Seward is certainly unsurpassed by any effort of the kind heretofore made on this side of the Atlantic. The reader will find the work full of attraction and interest, abounding with thrilling interests, affecting details and delicate shading. As a work of fiction, it is unexceptionable; its Catholic characters, presenting beautiful models for imitation, and brilliant beacon lights to warn us from error. In its elucidations of divine truth, it is clear, forcible, and impressive. There is, in fact, a happy blending of useful instruction and romantic incident, highly creditable to the skill and ingenuity of the author." U. S. Cath. Mag.

In addition to the numerous flattering testimonials in favor of this work from the American press, the following brief extracts from the London press, are respectfully submitted:

"The substance of the work involves the whole controversy between the church and her repudiators, and the common arguments are urged with a conviction in their truth, and with a force of language which gives them a character of novelty. We may therefore commend Pauline Seward to young Catholic ladies, and others, as a very interesting person, whose acquaintance we recommend them speedily to cultivate." London Tablet.

"No prose writer of America has yet, to our knowledge, penned a more graceful or more unaffected Tale than this." London Sun.

The well established reputation of this work, as the best popular Compend of Ecclesiastical History in the English language, precludes the necessity of any commendatory remarks. The high price, at which former editions were held, placed it beyond the means of the poorer classes. With the view to counteract this, and with the hope of giving the work a circulation commensurate with its merits, the present edition has been produced in a very neat and substantial style, at the extraordinary low price of $1 per copy. No Catholic Family should fail to procure a copy of it, that they may read it themselves, and lend it to their Protestant neighbors.

Brownson's Review says:—"The translation of this work into our language we regard as a happy event. It is precisely the work which in the present crisis we need, and its influence will be wide and lasting. The work hardly reads as a translation, but has the freedom, freshness, ease, and vigor of an original work, and yet, as far as we have compared it with the French, it is faithful, and even literal. We hope that the work, which is published in a neat but cheap style, will find as ready a sale in this country as we learn it is finding in England.

"We have no room to give any extended review or analysis of the Abbé's work, and, indeed, no analysis can give a correct and adequate notion of it. The work to be known must be read entire, and we recommend all who would possess one of the great books which has appeared in our day, to lose no time in procuring it."

"We have already spoken of the high merits of this work. It is not one of an ordinary stamp, but one that by the blessing of God, will work a great change in the ideas both of Catholics and Protestants in this country. The force of long-continued calumny and short-sighted national prejudice has prevailed over ignorance of facts, and a wish to concede, as much as can be conceded, until even Catholics have been led to suppose that their divine religion has, from some unaccountable reason, had a less beneficial influence than Protestantism upon human society and civilization; as if that which is from God could fail to be the best in all its relations with mankind. We rejoice therefore to see so able and philosophical a refutation of this pernicious error brought within the means of our readers by this elegant translation."

Dublin Review.

Extracts from the Preface to the American Edition.—"The work of Balmes on the comparative influence of Protestantism and Catholicity on European civilization, which is now presented to the American public, was written in Spanish, and won for the author among his own countrymen a very high reputation. A French edition was published simultaneously with the Spanish, and the work has since been translated into the Italian and English languages, and been widely circulated as one of the most learned productions of the age, and most admirably suited to the exigencies of our times. When Protestantism could no longer maintain its position in the field of theology, compelling its votaries by its endless variations to espouse open infidelity, or to fall back upon the ancient church, it adopted a new mode of defence, in pointing to its pretended achievements as the liberator of the human mind, the friend of civil and religious freedom, the patron of science and the arts; in a word, the active element in all social ameliorations. This is the cherished idea and boasted argument of those who attempt to uphold Protestantism as a system. They claim for it the merit of having freed the intellect of man from a degrading bondage, given a nobler impulse to enterprize and industry, and sown in every direction the seed of national and individual prosperity. Looking at facts superficially, or through the distorted medium of prejudice, they tell us that the reformers of the 16th century contributed much to the development of science and the arts, of human liberty, and of every thing which is comprised in the word civilization. To combat this delusion, so well calculated to ensnare the minds of men in this materialistic and utilitarian age, the author undertook the work, a translation of which is here presented to the public. He does not say that nothing has been done for civilization by Protestants; but he asserts and proves that Protestantism has been greatly unfavorable, and even injurious to it.

"By thus exposing the short-comings or rather evils of Protestantism in a social and political point of view, as Bossuet and others had exhibited them under the theological aspect, Balmes has rendered a most important service to Catholic literature. He has supplied the age with a work, which is peculiarly adapted to its wants, and which must command a general attention in the United States.

"In preparing this edition of the work from the English translation, great care has been taken to revise the whole of it, to compare it with the original French, and to correct the various errors, particularly the mistakes in translation. A biographical notice of the illustrious writer has also been prefixed to the volume, to give the reader an insight into his eminent character, and the valuable services he has rendered to his country and to society at large."

Urged by these considerations, and at the earnest solicitation of several eminent clergymen, the re-publication of this work was undertaken, at such a moderate price as, it is hoped will ensure it a wide circulation.

Extracts from the Preface.—"This little treatise comprehends, in a concise manner, the whole system of a Devout Life, gathered from the maxims of the Gospel, particularly from those which regard humility and self denial.

"Among an infinity of encomiums which might be cited in its commendation, let it suffice to say that one of the greatest Saints these later ages have produced, St. Francis of Sales, for upwards of twenty years carried this book in his pocket, and never failed reading some pages of it every day; he called it his Director, and recommended it to all those who consulted him in the great affair of salvation. And though that excellent book, the Imitation of Christ, like this, tends to unite the soul entirely to God; yet St. Francis gave the preference to the SPIRITUAL COMBAT, for this reason, because the latter reduces its maxims to practice; whereas the former contains indeed abundance of choice sentiments, but does not point out the immediate application of them."

"The all but inspired Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius, the founder of the Society of Jesus, are too well known and appreciated to require any notice at our hands. "This interesting little work has been received with such great favor by the Catholics of this country, that it has already, in the course of little more than a year, gone through three editions. "This work was called the Poor Man's Catechism, we presume, because the author intended it principally for the use of the less educated portion of society, and for this reason, conveyed his instruction in an easy and familiar style. But this feature of the book does not prevent it from being equally adapted to all classes of persons, and its circulation among the rich and the poor, the learned and the unlearned, as an excellent exposition of the Catholic faith, is a proof of what we here assert. The present edition has been issued in a very good style, and possesses, independently of its intrinsic worth, a quality which will render it as much the poor man's catechism as that of the more wealthy; it is the excellent quality of cheapness which sometimes even the rich themselves do not disregard. The very low price at which it is offered, will place this admirable work in the hands of all." U. S. Cat. Mag.

Parent and child will alike be touched by the useful lessons it contains, which are conveyed with a delicacy and feeling which constitute its peculiar charm If instead of the trash with which our country is flooded in the shape of cheap reading, the public taste would turn to such works as the "Catholic Bride," we might soon look for a visible improvement in the moral and intellectual tone of communities, and a higher standard of social refinement The work deserves encouragement. as well for the very neat style in which it is presented to the reader, as for the more cogent reason that it is a valuable acquisition to our language, and a "precious pearl" among the "treasures of American Catholic literature." The Cross in its True Light; or the Utility of Suffering.....32mo cloth 15

"This volume is of small dimensions; but it embraces a vast amount of useful instruction, and of that kind which is the most frequently applicable to the daily concerns and events of life. As no circumstances can shield the Christian against the approach of trial, it being the common lot of all to suffer, the little book before us will be found at all times a most valuable friend, in soothing the ills of mortality and converting them into sources of virtue and merit. The appearance of this second American edition is an evidence of the increasing estimation in which the work is held among the Catholics of this country. In Europe it has been translated into several languages, and forms one of the standards of Catholic piety." U. S. C. Mag.

Höninghaus.....18mo. cloth 38

"We have here collected into one volume three of the most useful essays that could be consulted with a view to discover the leading and specific differences between the Catholic and Protestant systems, and the respective grounds on which they are established. The abuse of the written word of God, and the want of acquaintance with the rational mode of applying it to the ends of religion, are the radical causes of Protestant hostility to the Catholic church; and under these circumstances the volume before us recommends itself with peculiar force to the patronage of the community at large: to the Protestant, who is bound to hear before he condemns, and to the Catholic who should be prepared at all times with the necessary armor for the defence of his principles. Among the works which treat of the proper use of the Bible, of the necessity of a living witness in matters of faith, and of the sad consequences of private judgment, this holds a conspicuous rank, not merely on account of the eminent worth of its contents, but also by its very convenient form, and moderate price, which place it within the reach of every class of readers."

To a work so long and universally known, and so highly valued, as "THE FOLLOWING OF CHRIST," any remark by way of introduction is uncalled for. It has been in the hands of the Christian world upwards of three centuries; it has been translated into almost all languages; it has received the unqualified approbation of every learned and pious ornament of the church.

But in the present edition, Practical Reflections and a Prayer have been introduced at the end of each chapter, distinguished from the original by being printed in smaller type; and it is hoped they will be considered by the pious reader as a valuable addition to the original work.

In preparing the present edition for the press, no pains have been spared to render it in every way worthy of patronage. The text was carefully examined by a Rev. gentleman, eminently qualified. The printing and binding are in a style of neatness corresponding with the present highly improved state of the art. The whole is comprised in a neat 48mo. volume of about 550 pages, and may justly be considered the neatest, cheapest and most convenient edition of this excellent work that has ever been issued from the press in this country.

It is to be hoped, that these will be sufficient inducements for all to supply themselves with the work, pronounced by Fontanelle, the best that ever came from the pen of man, the Bible being of divine origin.

The Catholic Keepsake, edited by Prof. Walter; an elegant gift book, suitable for all seasons, with nine fine illustrations..... .....12mo. cloth, extra gilt edges 1 50

"It gives us infinite pleasure to commend to the public in general, and to Catholics in particular, this agreeable little volume. We hail it with especial gratification, as the first undertaking of the kind originated in this country by Catholic enterprise. Catholics have long felt the want of an annual of this description, and they will find themselves at the coming Christmas at no loss for a literary douceur for their friends and children. The matter of this volume is excellent, and in general unexceptionable. This work comes to us with the distinguished approbation of the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Philadelphia, a circumstance which will entitle it to far more favor than any thing we could urge in its behalf." U. S. Cath. Mag.

Travels of an Irish Gentleman in Search of a Religion, by Thomas Moore, Esq.....12mo. cloth 75

The name of the distinguished author may be deemed a sufficient voucher for the excellence of this work, which he has dedicated to the people of Ireland, as a defence of their national faith. It is well known in the Catholic world, as combining more of wit, style, various and happy illustration, interest of narrative, and withal, a greater store of learning than most controversial works of the same class.

Wiseman's Lectures on the Principal Doctrines and Practices of the Catholic Church.....12mo. cloth 1 00

These Lectures form a series of discourses, admirably adapted to the present state of controversy between the Catholic church and the various sects of Protestantism. The main points which it involves are developed and settled by Dr. Wiseman with a force of reasoning, a felicity of illustration, and a conciliatory spirit, which are unsurpassed, if equalled in any other English work of a similar character.

"The members of the Catholic church, happy in the faith which they profess, are ever anxious to bring to the truth those who sincerely desire to embrace it when known; hence are they as candid and as clear in the explanation of the Catholic doctrine, as they are active in diffusing it abroad, for the benefit of those who feel a desire to become acquainted with its principles. To such would we earnestly recommend the work before us. Among the Catholic portion of the community, Dr. (now Cardinal) Wiseman is perhaps as well known in this country as in England. His varied and profound talents have been directed solely to the good of religion, and to the dispersion of that cloud of prejudice which hangs around the minds of Protestants in regard to our holy faith. When he has occasion to touch upon points of controversy, we see the arm of the giant raised to descend with a crushing force upon his foes." U. S. Cath. Mag.

This is a new edition of the small Ritual which was published several years ago, in virtue of a decree to that effect of the 31 Provincial Council of Baltimore. The principal improvements that we have noticed in this edition is its containing in English, French and German those passages in the administration of the sacraments, which it is desirable to express in the vernacular tongue, and the special directions in the rubrics for baptizing more than one person at once. The prayers for the recommendation of a soul departing, have also been added, in Latin and English, to this edition In the typographical execution of the work there has been a considerable change for the better. The type is large and clear, and much more convenient for use, than the small character of the former edition. The rubrical directions also are printed in red ink, and by this distinction from the black letter of the prayers, they impart to the work a truly Catholic appearance, and if we did not know where it had been published, we would suppose that it had been issued from one of the great Catholic depots of Rome, Lyons, Paris or Malines. It is a beautifully executed volume." C. Mirror.

"No State in the Union better deserves the labors of the historian, whether we regard her early settlement, her liberal charter, or the part she bore in the great revolution which made us a nation, or the number of eminent men born within her limits; and there is scarcely one of the original thirteen about which so little trouble has been taken to collect authentic notices. His style is modest and unpretending, and the narrative is unexceptionable in sentiment. We would invite the attention of our public schools to this book, as one well deserving to be introduced into such of the schools as embrace instruction in history."—National Intelligencer.

FREDET'S HISTORIES.

Ancient History: from the dispersion of the Sons of Noe, to the Battle of Actium, and change of the Roman Republic into an Empire. By Peter Fredet, D. D., Prof. of History in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Second edition, carefully revised and enlarged.....1 vol. 12mo 88

Modern History: from the coming of Christ, and the change of the Roman Republic into an Empire, to the year of our Lord, 1850. By Peter Fredet, D. D., Prof. of History in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Fourth enlarged and improved edition.....1 vol. 12mo 88

The distinguished and wide spread reputation of the Author as a Historian, and Professor of History in St. Mary's College for the last twenty years; the universal favor with which these works have been received, and their immediate introduction into all the principal Catholic Institutions in the United States, precludes the necessity of giving many of the numerous complimentary and flattering testimonials that have been so freely extended to them.

The Modern History has been thoroughly revised and enlarged, by an Appendix containing a History of the Mexican War, and such other events as were deemed of sufficient importance—bringing the Work up to 1850.

The Ancient History has been much enlarged by additional illustrations, and otherwise improved in the arrangement, without effecting any material change in the narrative. A Seventh Part has been added, containing the Laws and Polity, Arts, Manners and Customs of Ancient Nations, embracing a multitude of facts and particulars, in regular succession and under separate heads, collected from the best authors. The Historical events, together with the Chronological Table, are brought down in regular succession to the coming of Christ, the period at which the Modern History begins, thus forming a complete connexion or continuous chain of historical events, from the creation of the world to the year 1850.

These two volumes are printed from a good, clear and bold type, on good paper, and bound uniformly. Each volume contains about five hundred pages, and may justly be considered the most authentic and cheapest works published for the use of Schools, or convenient books of reference for private libraries.

From a large number of liberal and highly complimentary notices of these works, we select the following from the U. S. Catholic Magazine, as embodying briefly the spirit of other notices:

"The friends of literature will give a cordial welcome to this publication of the Metropolitan Press. The high reputation of the author for varied learning, profound research, and invincible love of truth, confirmed to him by his other writings, especially his volume of Modern History, would naturally raise the expectation to find in the work just issued a production of great merit. The public will not be disappointed in this expectation. The 'Ancient History' of Dr. Fredet is no mushroom performance or romantic story, like so many volumes of history that are issued now-a-days from the press; nor is it even a compilation from second-hand authorities. The author has derived his materials from original and unquestionable sources of information, and arranged them with that critical judgment and unflinching impartiality, which are the chief characteristics of the successful historian. The plan and style of the work are also well adapted to its subject. The different nations of antiquity are exhibited to our view, in their political, civil, social, and religious aspect, not in separate and distinct accounts, but in their cotemporaneous existence, during the seven periods into which the history is distributed. The work commences with the state of mankind after the Deluge, as this was the period when civil society, properly so called, had its origin. The times anterior to the Deluge are summarily portrayed, according to the Pentateuch, the only authentic narrative of events in those remote ages. In the relation of facts, Dr. Fredet has guarded with equal care against prolixity and excessive brevity; so that the work is an admirable compend as a text-book for literary institutions and the general reader.

"The reader will find in this work, in connection with the Modern History of the same author, to form a complete course of study in its particular department, and and we cannot too warmly recommend the two volumes for adoption in our institutions of learning. The total absence of every thing at variance with religion, or rather the perfect conformity of the author's narrative to the inspired records, with his sound reflections upon the harmony of events with the order of Providence, is one of the principal features which designate the Ancient and Modern Histories of Dr. Fredet as most useful manuals for the instruction of youth."

CLASSICAL BOOKS.

In calling attention to the following Works, the Publishers deem it sufficient to state, that the present editions have been issued under the careful supervision of the eminent Professors of St Mary's College, Baltimore, and may justly be considered the best and cheapest editions published.

Epitome Historiæ Sacræ, Auctore Lhomond, editio Nova Prosodiæ, signes vocumque interpretatione adornata. 18mo. sheep..... 30

As an elementary work, Historiæ Sacræ is beyond exceptions. The easy arrangements of its style in the beginning, and the gradual introduction of the Latin construction, relieve the pupil of much embarrassment and labor, and tend in a material degree to facilitate his advancement.

The present edition will be found to possess considerable advantages over any previous edition. The vocabulary has been carefully revised, and the whole work has received such improvement as will greatly tend to enhance its merits.

Phœdri Augusti Liberti Fabularum Æsopium, Libri Quinque .....18mo. sheep 30

This little work has long been held in high estimation in our Colleges and Schools. The many moral and interesting lessons it contains, render it a text book peculiarly adapted to the young; and indeed, no work could be better designed to initiate the pupil into the study of Latin poetry.

The present is a new edition, carefully revised and greatly improved.

De Viris Illustribus Urbis Romæ, A Romulo ad Augustum, Auctore Lhomond, in Universitate, Parisiensi Professore Emerito, Nova Editio .....18mo. sheep 38

This work possesses the rare quality of being admirably adapted to the capacity of those commencing the study of the Latin language, without deviating from the purity of the Latin style. The materials, of which it is compiled are most interesting and instructive in their nature; thus affording the pupil the double advantage of acquiring a knowledge of the Latin tongue, and at the same time, of storing his mind with historical facts.

The present edition has been lately revised, and put into a neat convenient form. These improvements, it is believed, will add to its merits, and will tend to advance the pupil in his study of the Latin.

Selectæ Fabulæ, ex Libris Metamorphoseon Publii Ovidii Nasonis, Notis Illustratæ. Accedunt Quædam ex Libris Tristium Elegiæ..... .....18mo. sheep 30

The merits of this work are so universally known, that it needs no comments. The present edition, however, commends itself in a particular manner to the public. It is gotten up in an exceedingly neat and convenient form, and arranged upon a plan, that will tend greatly to advance the pupil in the study of Latin poetry.

Fables Choisies de La Fontaine, Nouvelle Edition. A Laquelle on a ajoute des notes explicatives par MM. Coste, Charles Nodier et autres Ecrivaines Modernos...18mo. sheep 63

Few works have elicited more general admiration, or have been more generally used in Schools, than the Fables of La Fontaine. For the pupil engaged in the study of the French language, they possess peculiar advantages. Many beautiful and moral lessons are inculcated, in a style at once easy and attractive, while at the same time, a taste for poetical composition is cultivated.

The edition now presented to the public, has been carefully revised, and contains much desirable improvement.

KERNEY'S POPULAR SCHOOL BOOKS,

PUBLISHED BY JOHN MURPHY & CO.

178 Market street, Baltimore.

In calling public attention to the following works, by Mr. KERNEY, the publishers deem it unnecessary to enlarge on their respective merits. The author's experience as a teacher for a number of years, enabled him to acquire a practical knowledge of the wants of pupils in pursuing the different branches of learning. The very liberal patronage extended to them, and the favor with which they have been received, especially by many practical teachers, and their immediate introduction into several of the principal institutions of learning in the country, is the best evidence of their practical utility.

A Compendium of Ancient and Modern History, with QUESTIONS, adapted to the use of Schools and Academies; also, an APPENDIX, containing the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, a Biographical Sketch of Eminent Personages, with a Chronological Table of Remarkable Events, Discoveries, Improvements, etc., from the Creation to the year 1850. By M. J. KERNEY, Esq., author of First Class Book of History, Abridgment of Murray's Grammar, Columbian Arithmetic, &c. &c. Tenth edition, carefully revised, corrected and improved by the author.....1 vol. 12mo 75

In order to render this work more complete, the author has added the History of the Mexican War, and other important events up to 1850.

To such as are unacquainted with the merits of this work, the publishers beg leave to state, that neither pains nor expense have been spared, to make it perfect in every respect. Besides being minutely correct in all its details, and possessing an easy, elevated and classical style, this work has other merits, that should recommend it to universal patronage. In point of arrangement, and in its general matter of contents, it is decidedly superior to any work of the kind; but that which should commend it to universal patronage, is the studied care with which the author has treated all subjects relating to religion. In this respect the Compendium is one of the very few works of its nature which may be read without offending, in the remotest degree, the religious sensibility of the reader.

The publishers have the pleasure to announce that this work has been introduced into the Public Schools in the cities of Washington and Baltimore, and into several of the most respectable Colleges and Academies in Maryland and the Southern and Western States; in addition to which, they beg leave to refer to the following recommendations, and brief extracts from notices of the Press:

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The Compendium of History, by M. J. Kerney, has been in my possession several months, and, after a careful reading, I believe it to be a very useful book in the department of study to which it belongs. I take pleasure in recommending it to teachers. J. N. M'JILTON, Chairman Central High School of Baltimore.

August 3, 1846.

To Mr. JOHN MURPHY, BALTIMORE, August 30, 1846.

Dear Sir:—At a late meeting of the Book Committee of the Baltimore Public Schools, it was resolved, that the "Compendium of History," by M. J. Kerney, be introduced into the Schools. Respectfully, J. N. M'JILTON.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 1, 1847.

Dear Sir:—I have carefully examined "Kerney's Compendium of History," and "Kerney's Abridgment of Murray's English Grammar." I have the pleasure to inform you that they have both been introduced into the Public Schools in our city. I take great pleasure in recommending them to the attention of Teachers.

Mr. J. MURPHY, Publisher, Balt. J. F. CALLAN, Trustee Public School 2d.

BALTIMORE, October 6, 1845.

"Kerney's Compendium of History" condenses much matter in a small compass; and, as a school book, is calculated to interest and please the student; while it makes him master of the principal and most important facts of Ancient and Modern History. To speak of its merits comparatively, I think it equal, if not superior, to any of its kind within my knowledge. JOS. H. CLARK, A. M.

KERNEY'S COMPENDIUM OF HISTORY.

Having carefully perused the "Compendium of Ancient and Modern History," by M. J. KERNEY, I feel no hesitation in stating it to be, in my opinion, one of the best arranged works for the use of schools and academies that I have seen. The biographical sketch of eminent men I consider judiciously arranged in a concise manner, which can be easily comprehended by the pupil. JAMES SHANLEY, Principal of a Classical and Mathematical School, 59 Conway street, Balt.

EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

We are not among those who think that either history or grammar can be thoroughly taught by abridgments; but since, in defiance of all that has been said against them, they still hold their place in all primary schools, it becomes a matter of serious importance to use a right judgment in the selection of them. Our leisure has not served us to enter into a very critical examination of Mr. Kerney's volume; but we have looked through it with some attention, and must confess that we have been favorably impressed with its merits. In the History, more especially, where it is impossible to avoid the relation of facts touching various religious creeds, the compiler seems to have scrupulously refrained from any remark that could arouse sectarian prejudice—a fault in which too many of those who have given their labors to the compilation of school histories have been prone to indulge. With regard to the "Questions" appended to each page of the volume, we cannot help thinking that they are better adapted to save labor to the teacher than to give facilities to the pupil; they are common, however, to all school-books, and we should probably argue in vain against their utility.—National Intelligencer.

A very valuable school book.—Saturday Courier.

An excellent work for the instruction of youth, and from the early issue of a second edition, it appears to have met with success. As the author professes, it is rather a compilation of the facts and remarkable incidents of Universal History arranged in a connected and entertaining form, than any effort at carefully composed narration. His style is well adapted to that end, being clear and comprehensive; and this, together with his accuracy in dates, forms the great merit of the work. In the classification of his subject, he has adopted the plan of treating of the history of each nation separately, unconnected with that of others, in preference to the system of giving a general view of contemporaneous events. To the new beginner, what is lost in general information is compensated by the minute and thorough knowledge acquired of the subject under study. As an elementary treatise, therefore, this work will, we should suppose, be, and deservedly so, a favorite in our schools. The appendix of biographical notices of prominent individuals is an original and desirable addition to the book.—Balt. Patriot.

We noticed some months ago the first edition of this work, and are much gratified to find, from the speedy appearance of the second, that our anticipations of its complete success were not vain. The work has been, we feel authorised to say, much improved, and we not only cheerfully, but earnestly recommend it to the favorable notice of tutors and directors of schools and academies.—St. Louis News Letter.

An excellent work for the instruction of youth, and from the early issue of a second edition, it appears to have met with success. As an elementary treatise, this work will, we should suppose, be, and deservedly so, a favorite in our schools. The appendix of biographical notices of prominent individuals is an original and desirable addition to the book.—Lutheran Observer.

It fills a place long vacant in our school books. Its style is good, plain and easy; it is well condensed, and the narrative correct and justly sustained.—Fred. Exam.

This is an exceedingly useful publication, as being introductory to the more general examination of history, biography, &c.—Clipper.

Mr. Kerney has done good service to the cause of education and general intelligence in preparing this valuable work. To the man of small leisure, no publication extant, is so well adapted. He will find here, in a condensed form, comprehensive glimpses of the most prominent events that have transpired from ages long gone by, to the present time. The author seems to have been very happy in the arrangement of events, presenting them in an unbroken series, and bringing them down to our own times. The work is, as far as a cursory view enables us to judge, free from a sectarian or partial bias. To add value to the "Compendium," the author has judiciously caused to be comprised within its contents, the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence. It also contains a Chronological table of events, from the creation to the year 1840.—Odd Fellows Mirror.

It is a work containing much useful information, and, as a school book, and for general historical reference, it will be found invaluable.—Balt. American.

A cursory examination of this volume has led us to form a very favorable opinion of its merits as a school book. We think that those engaged in the instruction of youth will find it a valuable assistant in the department of history.—Cath. Herald.

KERNEY'S COMPENDIUM OF HISTORY.

We confess ourselves well pleased with this volume, and believe it is destined to find favor in the sphere for which the author has designed it. Its style is didactic and terse, and while agreeable to the cultivated intellect, is adapted to the humblest comprehension. The title of the book is a fair exponent of its contents, all the leading facts of ancient and modern history being briefly presented to the reader. The author, as he promises in his preface, is very sparing in his own comments, though we could wish, judging from the few specimens he has given us, that he had dealt them out a little more liberally. There is one characteristic of the work which pleases us above all others, and that is the studied care with which the author avoids all allusions and comments that might be in the slightest degree wounding to the religious sensibilities of members of any creed. This is a great desideratum in books designed for schools, as the evil of sectarianism, so manifest in most of our elementary class books, has been long and loudly complained of. Nothing can be more improper in schools where children of all denominations are mixed up than for tutors to use works of a sectarian character, or what is worse, text books which are made up of calumnies and palpaple falsehoods, insulting to the religious feelings of a portion of their pupils. We cannot but hope that this work will be acceptable to our citizens, because of its fitness for the objects for which the author designed it, because of its impartial character, and because it is the production of a worthy and intelligent member of our own community.—U. S. C. Magazine.

This very useful work was compiled for the use of schools and academies, and fully meets the wants it was intended to supply; we therefore shall not only adopt it in the schools under our own care, but recommend it as much as we can to others.—Pittsburg Catholic.

KERNEY'S FIRST CLASS BOOK OF HISTORY.

The First Class Book of History, designed for Pupils commencing the study of History; with QUESTIONS, Adapted to the use of Academies and Schools. By M. J. KERNEY, Esq., author of Compendium of Ancient & Modern History, Columbian Arithmetic, &c. &c. Second revised edition..... 31

At the earnest request of many, who used the author's Compendium of Ancient and Modern History, he compiled the above work. It is chiefly designed for pupils about to enter upon a course of historical study. In the arrangement of the work, and in the general matter of contents, the author has pursued that course, which his long experience in teaching, has pointed out, as the best to facilitate the progress of the pupil in acquiring a knowledge of history.

As the history of our own country possesses peculiar attractions, he has placed the history of the United States first in the order of arrangement, so that it may first claim the attention of the young. This is succeeded by an interesting account of the most important events in the history of England, France, Ireland, and Italy, together with an interesting view of the Middle Ages, the Crusades, and Monastic Institutions.

The work is embellished with a number of Engravings, and has questions at the bottom of each page to facilitate the labor, both of the teacher and pupils.

KERNEY'S HISTORY UNITED STATES.

Catechism of the History of the U. States; with a Chronological Table of American History, from its Discovery in 1492, to the year 1850. Designed to accompany Irving's Series of Catechisms. By M. J. KERNEY, Esq., author of Compendium of Ancient and Modern History, First Class Book of History, Columbian Arithmetic, &c. &c..... 12

As an introductory work, this Catechism will be found to possess many advantages, particularly for that class of learners for which it is designed. It presents to the minds of the young a clear and concise view of the most interesting and important events of the history of the ir own country.

The foregoing works, which form a complete series of School Histories, the publishers are happy to state, have met with very liberal patronage.

KERNEY'S MURRAY'S GRAMMAR.

An Abridgment of Murray's Grammar and Exercise, designed for the use of Academies and Schools; with an Appendix, containing rules for Writing with Perspicuity and Accuracy, also a Treatise on Epistolary Composition, by M. J. KERNEY, Esq., Author of Compendium of Ancient and Modern History; First Class Book of History; History of the U. States, Columbian Arithmetic, &c. &c..... 15

In point of arrangement, this work is superior to any other Abridgment of Murray's Grammar that has yet appeared before the public. It combines the Grammar and Exercise, by adapting Exercises to every chapter and section throughout the work, so that the pupil may have, at every stage of his progress, a practical illustration of the portion, under his immediate study. The present edition has been carefully revised by the author, and many valuable improvements made in the work. A Treatise on Epistolary Composition has been added, containing directions for writing Letters, Notes, Cards, &c., with a variety of examples of the same. These improvements will increase the merits of the work, and greatly enhance the value of the present edition. It is at present used as a text-book in the Public Schools of Baltimore, and extensively throughout the country.

EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

Mr. Kerney's Abridgment of it is just what it professes to be, and not a new superstructure upon an old foundation. Those who think Murray's the best of all grammars, therefore, will not hesitate much to think this the best of all abridgments.—Nat. Intelligencer.

This abbreviation of the large and unwieldy volume of the Patriarch of Grammarians, has been effected without the omission of any important matter, and is presented to the public in a neat and convenient form. It also must find favor in schools.—Balt. Patriot.

We most cheerfully recommend this Grammar to the attention of the directors of schools.—St. Louis News Letter.

This grammar is an excellent abridgment of old Murray, long a favorite in the schools.—Fred. Examiner.

On a cursory examination of this volume, it appears to be well adapted to the purposes for which it was designed, and worthy to be extensively introduced into schools and academies.—Baltimore Clipper.

We are very much pleased with this abridgment, and think the improvements Mr. Kerney has made, admirably calculated to accelerate the progress of the learner, and to lessen the labor of the teacher. We have a reverence for Murray's Grammar, which all the systems that have from time to time appeared, purporting to be improvements, have not been able to remove. We confess frankly, that we have seen nothing which so fully meets our views, as the good old fountain from which, whatever ideas we possess of the correct method of speaking and writing our mother tongue, were derived. The chief advantage which this claims over former editions of Murray's abridgment, is that Mr. Kerney has, by a system of abbreviation, combined all the facilities which the large edition of Murray hitherto presented; and obviated the want of clearness and adaptation to dull capacities—by reason of its conciseness—of the former "Abridgment." The Grammar and Exercise, in the work before us, is combined, and to each chapter an exercise is adapted illustrative of the principle attempted to be made apparent. We feel great pleasure in commending the work to the favorable notice and patronage of teachers of youth.—Odd Fellows' Mirror.

This popular little work seems to contend for the palm of usefulness with Mr. Chandler's grammar, which we noticed a few months ago. The Presentation Brothers, who conduct St. Paul's School in this city, and who are good practical judges, as well as excellent teachers, prefer this abridgment, especially for the junior classes.—Pittsburg Catholic.

This little work appears to be exceedingly well suited to the use of the scholar who is about entering upon the study of the English language. It will, no doubt, prove an aid to the tutor, and, by its simplicity and explanatory style, be of great advantage to the pupil.—Balt. American.

The general arrangement of Murray's Grammar is admitted to be the best extant. Mr. KERNEY has presented all that is truly valuable in any abridgment of Murray's that we have seen, and has made several valuable suggestions to instructors. The book cannot fail to meet with success among intelligent teachers. Methodist Prot

KERNEY'S MURRAY'S GRAMMAR.

We take particular pleasure in recommending this abridgment to the public. The notes and observations taken from the original are copious and well selected. In point of arrangement, it is superior to any other abridgment of Murray's Grammar. It has exercises prefixed to each chapter and section throughout the work, also to the rules and notes of syntax. Thus, by combining the grammar and exercise, a very desirable improvement has been effected; the pupil, at every step of his progress, has a practical illustration of the principles inculcated. The questions at the bottom of each page, and at the end of each exercise, will give an increased value to the work, and will be found convenient to the teacher, and useful for the pupil. By their arrangement, and that of the exercises, much of that dryness which scholars usually experience, while committing to memory the rules and notes of grammar, will be removed; the study will become pleasing and interesting. Besides embracing in a narrow compass all that is important or essential in the original grammar and exercise, this abridgment contains in its appendix several additional matters which will be found highly interesting and useful to the learner; such as the Art of Reasoning, Oratory, Elliptical Phrases, Popular Latin Phrases, with a literal English Translation.—U. S. C. Magazine.

Murray's English Grammar, adapted to the different classes of Learners, with an Appendix, containing Rules and Observations for assisting the more advanced Students to write with perspicuity and accuracy. By Lindley Murray. 1 vol. 12mo.....half bound 20

In presenting a new edition of Murray's Grammar, which is universally considered the best extant, we deem it sufficient to state, that the present edition is printed from an entirely new set of plates, and that it has been carefully revised, and free from many of the inaccuracies and blemishes, which are to be found in other editions, printed from old stereotype plates. This, together with the very low price affixed to it, are the only claims urged in favor of this edition.

An Abridgment of Murray's English Grammar, with an Appendix, containing Exercises in Orthography, in Parsing, in Syntax, and in Punctuation. Designed for the younger classes of Learners.....18mo. half bound 10

This little Abridgment contains in a compact and cheap form, a brief outline of the elementary principles of Grammar, and is well calculated to impart to children the rules and definitions of the study, without over-burthening their minds.

KERNEY'S ARITHMETICS.

The Columbian Arithmetic, designed for the use of Academies and Schools.

By M. J. KERNEY, Esq., author of Compendium of Ancient and Modern History, First Class Book of History, Abridgment of Murray's Grammar, &c. &c. Fourth enlarged and improved edition.....12mo 38

This work possesses merits of a superior nature, in that department of science to which it belongs. It is a book of practical instruction; one in which the science of figures is thoroughly explained, and clearly elucidated. The examples for practice, are generally such as the pupil will meet in the various business transactions of life. The arrangement of the work is entirely progressive: all questions being solved by rules previously explained.

Introduction to the Columbian Arithmetic, designed for the use of Academies and Schools. By M. J. KERNEY, Esq., author of Compendium of Ancient & Modern History, First Class Book of History, Abridgment of Murray's Grammar, &c. &c. Fourth edition, revised and corrected.....1 vol. 12mo 12

This little work is designed as an introduction to the former, and is intended for children about to commence the study of Arithmetic. The first principles of the science are familiarly explained in the form of question and answer, and the pupils are conducted in the study as far as the end of compound numbers. It is replete with practical examples, adapted to the capacity of that class of learners for which it is designed, and it also contains all the Tables.

In calling public attention to the foregoing works, the publishers take great pleasure in stating that they have already passed through several large editions, which is the most conclusive evidence of the high estimation in which they are held by the instructors of youth, as far as they are known. The present editions have been carefully revised and corrected by the author, and no pains will be spared, to render them at all times, deserving of the high reputation they have already acquired.

The publishers, are fully aware of the prejudices, existing among many teachers, in favor of old works on Arithmetic; hence the great difficulty of introducing new ones however meritorious; from such they earnestly solicit a careful examination of these works—and respectfully refer them to the following testimonials of their merits from practical teachers.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., November 18th, 1849.

An examination of the "Columbian Arithmetic," by M. J. Kerney, has convinced us of its sterling utility, and we shall accordingly make arrangements for its immediate introduction into our school, (numbering at present, eighty pupils.) We believe it to be second to none extant, and would therefore recommend it to all teachers of Academies, &c. L. WHITTLESEY & SON.

WASHINGTON, November 14th, 1849.

I have examined the "Columbian Arithmetic," and "Introduction" to it, by M. J. Kerney, and consider them excellent books; they are judiciously arranged, and practical in their application. The rules are plain, sufficiently concise, and well adapted to the comprehension of young persons. The explanation of the theory of proportion, is simple, perspicuous and accurate. We intend to introduce those books into our school. JOHN SLATTERY, Principal Washington Seminary.

Number of pupils in Washington Seminary, about 300. J. SLATTERY.

WASHINGTON, November 13th, 1849.

I have examined with much care, the "Columbian Arithmetic," by M. J. Kerney. It appears to me, to be a work of considerable merit, and is better calculated for schools of the United States, and for Counting Houses, than any other book on the subject, that I have yet seen. The general arrangement is systematic, and according to the affinities of different rules. Under the impression that it is an improvement upon every other work of the kind, now before the public, I will immediately adopt it in my school, numbering at present about ninety pupils.

S. B. RITTENHOUSE, Principal Washington Institute.

As an evidence of the high opinion I entertain of the "Columbian Arithmetic," by M. J. Kerney, I have superseded the use of Davies', by its immediate introduction.

KERNEY'S ARITHMETICS.

After a thorough examination of the Columbians, by M. J. Kerney, I am fully prepared to give them the preference over all others of the kind, on that branch of education. I have furthermore, as an evidence of my high opinion, caused my pupils to procure the "Introduction to the Columbian Arithmetic." F. ELVANS.

WASHINGTON, November 5th, 1849.

McLEOD'S SEMINARY, Washington, November 1st, 1849.

The "Introduction to the Columbian Arithmetic," is so admirably adapted to its purpose, that we have introduced it in the place of others in this seminary. Number of pupils, over one hundred. J. O. WILSON, } Associate
L. H. CHURCHILL. } Principals.

I have examined the Arithmetics by M. J. Kerney, and unhesitatingly give them the preference over all the various works of the kind which I have met with. As an evidence of my approval of the work, I shall cause them to be procured by all the pupils over whom I preside. MRS. J. McLEOD, Select School.

WASHINGTON, November 2d, 1849.

ALEXANDRIA, November 15th, 1849,

Kerney's Arithmetics have been introduced by me, after a careful examination. I believe them better calculated to facilitate the pupils in that branch of education, than any others. ELLEN M. MARK.

I believe that the Columbian series of Arithmetics, by M. J. Kerney, better calculated to assist the pupil in attaining a knowledge of that branch of science, than any other. I shall therefore use them in my school. A. W. HALL.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., November 13th, 1849.

I am much pleased with Kerney's Arithmetics, and think them much better adapted to the use of pupils generally, than any others I have examined.
RICHARD L. CARNE, JR.

ST. JOHN'S ACADEMY, Alexandria, Va., November 14th, 1846.

I am much pleased with the Arithmetics by M. J. Kerney, and shall introduce them in my school, believing them to be better calculated to facilitate the progress of the pupil in that branch of science, than any other work on that subject.

Irving's Series of School Catechisms,

IN TWELVE PARTS.

Revised by M. J. KERNEY, Esq.

The long established reputation of IRVING'S CATECHISMS, and the very extensive circulation which they have had, not only in England, but also in this country, is the best proof of their utility. The plan of his works is the very best that could be adopted. The Catechetical form of instruction, is now admitted, by the most experienced teachers, to be the best adapted to the nature and capacity of youth;—a system, by which children will acquire a knowledge of a science, in less time, than by any other.

J. Murphy & Co. having become the publishers of this standard and highly popular series of Catechisms, wish to inform the public, that they are bringing out new editions with all new discoveries, and modern improvements, in each branch, under the careful supervision of M. J. KERNEY, Esq., who has prepared for the series a CATECHISM OF THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES—an entirely new work.

The following constitute the series:

Astronomy: containing the Motions, Magnitude, Periods, Distances, and other Phenomena of the Heavenly Bodies, founded on the Laws of Gravitation. With engraved illustrations..... 12

This little volume possesses the peculiar merit of reducing to the comprehension of children, the principles of a difficult, but at the same time, a most interesting science. It explains the solar system, the courses and the revolutions of the planets, eclipses, the theory of tides, and many other interesting astronomical principles.

Botany: containing a description of the most familiar and Interesting Plants, arranged according to the Linnæan System, with an Appendix on the Formation of an Herbarium. With engraved illustrations..... 12

This popular little work is intended for children, who are about to enter on the study of the interesting science of Botany. The plan of the work is admirably adapted to that class of learners for which it is designed. It presents to the mind of the pupil, in an easy and attractive style, the various beauties of the science, and the many advantages to be derived from its study.

Practical Chemistry: being a familiar introduction to that Interesting Science—with an Appendix, containing many Safe, Easy, and Pleasing Experiments. Engraved illustrations 12

This little treatise is admirably adapted for those, who are about to enter on the study of Chemistry, being a familiar introduction to that science. The grand and leading principles of chemical knowledge, are explained on a plan that will be found to be both interesting, and instructive. Though originally designed for the young, it will be found to contain lessons, that may be read with pleasure and profit by the more advanced in years.

Mythology: being a Compendious History of the Heathen Gods, Goddesses and Heroes; designed chiefly as an Introduction to the Study of the Ancient Classics. With engraved illustrations..... 12

To the English Scholar, this work will prove highly interesting; but to the Classical Student, it will be found a most desirable compendium. It embraces all that is interesting, or important in the subject of which it treats; while, at the same time, the brevity and clearness of its style, render it preferable to other works of the same kind, which are of much greater dimensions.

Classical Biography: containing an Account of the Lives of the most Celebrated Characters among the Ancient Greeks and Romans. With engraved illustrations..... ... 12

To the classical student, in particular, the above named work, will be found to possess peculiar merits. It presents, in a small compass, the most interesting events in the lives of those, whose names have cast a lustre over the historic pages of Greece and Rome.

History of the United States: with a Chronological Table of American History, from its discovery in 1492, to the year 1850..... 12

This valuable little work, comprises within a small compass, all the most important and interesting events in the history of the United States, from the discovery of America to the present time. The arrangement and style are admirably adapted to the capacity of children, about to commence the study of history. It is sufficiently comprehensive for that class of learners, for which it is designed. From its instructive pages, the child will learn to revere the names and imitate the actions of those illustrious men of America, who have gone before us in the path of usefulness and of fame.

Grecian History: from the Earliest Times to the period when Greece became a Roman Province. With engraved illustrations..... 12

Roman History: containing a Concise Account of the most Striking Events from the Foundation of the City to the Fall of the Western Empire. With engraved illustrations.... 12

These two works contain all the most important and interesting events in the histories of Greece and Rome. As introductory works to be placed in the hands of children, they will be found to possess peculiar merits. The arrangement and style are happily adapted to that class of learners, for which they are designed.

History of England: containing the most Striking Events from the Earliest Period to the Present Time..... 12

This work comprises in a few pages, the most important events in the history of England, from a period prior to the invasion of the Romans, to the present time. The present edition has been carefully revised and corrected; every thing reflecting on the American Character has been erased, and every thing of a sectarian nature, has been removed.

Jewish Antiquities: containing an Account of the Classes, Institutions, Rites, Ceremonies, Manners, Customs, &c. of the Ancient Jews. With engraved illustrations..... 12

This little work gives a most interesting account of the laws, manners, and customs of the Jewish people, from the earliest period to the destruction of Jerusalem. It is a fund of useful and valuable information, concerning that ancient nation, and may be read with great advantage, as it tends to explain many of the interesting rites and ceremonies recorded in the Sacred Scriptures.

Grecian Antiquities: being an Account of the Religion, Government, Judical Proceedings, Military and Naval Affairs, Dress, Food, Baths, Exercises, Marriages, Funerals, Coins, Weights, Measures, &c. of the Greeks—to which is prefixed a Description of the Cities of Athens and Sparta. With engraved illustrations..... 12

Roman Antiquities: or, an Account of the Religion, Civil Government, Military and Naval Affairs, Games, Names, Coins, Weights and Measures, Dress, Food, Exercises, Baths, Domestic Employments, Marriages, Funerals, and other Customs and Ceremonies of the Roman People; with a Description of the Public Buildings of the City of Rome. With engraved illustrations..... 12

The above works are highly interesting in themselves, and may be read with pleasure and profit by every member of the community But for the Classical student they possess particular attractions. For his benefit they were chiefly intended, and years of experience prove, that they are peculiarly adapted to the end for which they were designed. A familiarity with the laws, manners and customs of the ancient nations, will often render clear and explicit the most obscure passages, so frequently met with in the authors of antiquity.

SCHOOL HISTORY OF MARYLAND.

A History of Maryland, from its settlement in 1634 to the year 1848, with an account of its first discovery, and the various Explorations of the Chesapeake Bay, anterior to its settlement; to which is added A COPIOUS APPENDIX, containing the Names of the Officers of the Old Maryland Line; the Lords Proprietary of the Province, and the Governors of Maryland, from its settlement to the present time, chronologically arranged; the Senators of the State in the Senate of the United States; together with tables of the population of the counties, at each census, of the whole State, from its foundation; and Questions on the principal events in the History, arranged according to page and chapter, for the Use of Schools. By JAMES McSHERRY, Esq.....1 vol. 12mo 75

To such as may not be familiar with the character of this work, the publishers beg leave to state, that it is dedicated to the youth of Maryland, in the hope that its perusal may impress upon their minds the history of their native State, strengthen that dutiful and patriotic love, which they owe it; and induce them to admire and imitate the virtue, the valor, and the liberality of their forefathers.

Extract from the Preface.—"In presenting an edition of the History of Maryland, revised and adapted to the use of Schools, the author cannot refrain from expressing his acknowledgments for the generous reception which the larger volume met with from the public. The desire, so frequently expressed, that a cheaper edition should be issued, adapted to the use of Schools, has led to the publication of the present work.

"Much new matter has been added, and many abbreviations made, to render the book more appropriate for Schools, especially those in operation under the present school system of the State. The main object has been, throughout, to present a faithful picture of the history of Maryland, and, at the same time, as far as possible, to avoid exciting the youthful mind of the pupil by the contemplation of religious or political contentions.

"In this delicate and laborious duty, the author has received great assistance from two gentlemen of experience, long connected with the management of the Public Schools of Baltimore—Dr. John F. Monmonier, President of the Board of Commissioners, and the Rev. J. N. M'Jilton, Treasurer—who, anxious for the introduction of a history of Maryland into the Public Schools of the State, kindly undertook the revision of the work, and by whom the greater portion of the abbreviations have been either made or suggested."

As an evidence of the high estimation in which this and the former editions of this work are held, the publishers take pleasure in submitting the following brief extracts from critical reviews:

"The style is pleasing, and the work well calculated for a useful and valuable class-book, which we would be glad to see adopted extensively." Balt. American.

"It has ever seemed strange to us, that while abridged Histories of Rome and England have always been found in our private and public seminaries, histories of our own country and our own State should have been so generally neglected. We consider this book a valuable acquisition to this branch of our literature, and hope that it may be universally adopted in our schools." Balt. Argus

"We cordially solicit the attention of Marylanders, as well as of our historical friends abroad, to this valuable addition to American local history, and we would be glad to see it introduced into schools, where, we think, more attention ought to be paid to the State and National Histories, than is usually devoted to them." Balt. Patriot.

"We travel the ground from the first imprint of the white man's foot upon our soil to the present day, with a refined satisfaction and just pride that our State has so fair a picture of colonial excellence and sovereign efficiency to commend her to the sisterhood of the Union, and to transmit to remotest posterity." Balt. Sun.

"We have read this volume with great interest, and with the utmost attention. The style of the author is chaste and vigorous; the arrangement of his materials judicious; and the entire execution of his arduous task masterly." Balt. Clipper.

"We have seldom had it in our power to speak with so much pleasure of any book, which has come under our notice, as we experience in noticing this work. We cannot, at present, do more than notice the work in general terms, and to urge every man who has a drop of blood in his veins that induces him to feel for the honor of the old Maryland line, to obtain a copy for his sons. It should be in the hands and library of every Marylander; and we have no doubt it will receive a larger circulation than any similar work ever published in the State." American Farmer.

"We predict for it extensive popularity, and eminent success, because it is both useful and pleasing. No one who reads it will have cause to regret the time thus spent, and every Marylander will rise from its perusal, prouder of the glory and achievements of his native State." Frederick Citizen.

"No State in the Union better deserves the labors of the historian, whether we regard her early settlement, her liberal charter, the part she bore in the great revolution which made us a nation, or the number of eminent men born within her limits; and there is scarcely one of the original thirteen about which so little trouble has been taken to collect au hentic notices. His style is modest and unpretending, and the narrative is unexceptionable in sentiment. We would invite the attention of our public schools to this book, as one well deserving to be introduced into such of the schools as embrace instruction in history." National Intelligencer.

"We have looked through this volume, and can recommend it for perusal to those who wish to acquire a knowledge of the History of Maryland, without having the leisure or inclination to study it thoroughly and critically. The author's style is perspicuous and correct, and suited to the nature of the narrative." Washington Globe.

"The work before us is a well-written and well-digested narrative of events connected with the History of Maryland, from the landing of the Calverts to the present time. We would recommend those who desire an excellent History of Maryland to procure it at once." Southern Literary Messenger.

"Able, impartial, authentic, and free from sectarianism, it commends itself to the patronage not only of the citizens of Maryland, but to the readers of history every where." Phila. City Item.

"An elegant octavo of over 400 pages, beautifully printed and bound, and illustrated with numerous portraits. The body of the work is a plain, simple and succinct History of the State, written in a charming style, and inspires confidence from the internal evidence of its authenticity. The Appendix embraces matters of great antiquarian and historical interest. Every native of Maryland will, of course, possess a copy, and no public or private library in the country should be without it." Gedey's Lady's Book.

"The work throughout is written in a clear, perspicuous style, and seems to be admirably adapted for its purpose, that of a text-book, embodying all the important and interesting facts in the History of the State, from its settlement down to the close of the year 1847." N. Y. Literary World.

"Not only ought it to be in the hands of every Marylander, but also in the hands of every good American citizen, as well as every student, and we would say it is just the kind of book wanted in colleges, academies and other institutions of learning, where a thorough knowledge of the history of the various States of the Union, should form a sine qua non." Truth Teller.

"The style is at once chaste and brilliant, and gives evidence of much promise on the part of its author. That, on the whole, it is a true and faithful history of Maryland, we have no doubt. It agrees perfectly with all we have already known of the subject, and supplies information for which we are grateful." Freeman's Journal.

"The author of this history is already well and favorably known to the public. This work, his last and best, should have a place in every library." Pittsburg Catholic.

"This is a well-written and impartial history of facts. It is beautifully printed, and is embellished with fine portraits of Calvert, Charles Carroll, Howard, Williams, and Smallwood. We know not that a column of praise would really convey more than these two sentences, but we may speak of the gratification derived from the perusal of the book. Its style is pleasant, easy and intelligible, and we found ourselves reading page after page, especially of the early history of the colony, when we had but intended 'to look through' the volume.—Without pretending to philosophical generalization, it is a narrative of events, and bears evident tokens of emanating from a right-minded and right-hearted man. The quarrels between Catholics and Protestants, some years after the first settlement, are depicted with fairness and frankness." Boston Post.

"We have read this excellent History with much interest and gratification. It is a most attractive record of the fortunes of a colony, from its infancy to its prosperous maturity. The style of the narrative is easy, fluent and forcible, preserving all the moderation which best becomes such a history. It is also published in excellent typographical style, beautifully bound, and ornamented with several fine engraved portraits. One of them is that of Charles Carroll of Carrollton—the noblest and most generous of the Maryland patriots, and the survivor of them all." Boston Pilot

"If it is interesting to follow up a noble river from its ample outlet to the silver thread in the mountains where it had its birth, how much more so to trace back a powerful State and community to its feeble beginings. Every work that helps to do this is a public benefit, and this volume will be read with interest, not only by the inhabitants of the State whose history it contains, but the whole country, of which that State is a member." Boston Daily Advertiser.

"This is a well printed volume, and is for its typography and getting up, creditable to the Baltimore press. The author displays in this work very respectable ability and industry, and we have no reason to doubt, that, in so far as he professes to relate facts, he may be relied on. We recognize in it a valuable contribution to the local historical literature of our country." Brownson's Review.

"We would bespeak, for this History of Maryland, such liberal patronage as will encourage its author continue his authorship, and as may induce him to send forth, from time to time, similar fruits from his labors." Frederick Herald.

"The work is admirably adapted to the general reader, and would be comprehended and admired by a child To give it additional interest, elegant engravings of the early and conspicuous settlers of Maryland, are interspersed through the work." Hagerstown Torch Light.

"The History is written in a plain and unvarnished, but very forcible and comprehensive style, and is admirably adapted to the taste of the general reader, and, indeed, to that of all readers." Hagerstown Herald.

"The style is clear and perspicuous, and the arrangement of the subjects natural and felicitous. The work is dedicated to the youth of Maryland, and deserves a place in every school in the State. No one who wishes to understand the history of the State should be without it." Cumberland Civilian.

MURPHY'S CATHOLIC LIBRARY.

STANDARD CATHOLIC BOOKS, FOR GENERAL CIRCULATION,

At Reduced Prices, on the Cheap Cash System.

JOHN MURPHY & CO., No. 178 Market street, Baltimore,

Respectfully solicit the attention of the Rt. Rev. Bishops, the Rev. Clergy, Catholic Booksellers, and all persons desirous of aiding in the circulation of Cheap Catholic Literature, to the following list of

CHEAP CATHOLIC PUBLICATIONS,

Which embraces some of the best Standard Works in the English language, at lower prices than any heretofore offered to the public. In making this announcement, they beg to state, that it is their desire and intention to afford the Catholics of this country, as far as it can practically be accomplished, facilities for storing their minds, equal to those of their dissenting brethren. In making this attempt, they are fully aware, that many schemes and projects have already been presented to the public, in various sections of the country, for the purpose of producing and disseminating cheap and useful Catholic works. The subject has engaged the earnest attention of the Rev. Clergy, and the Catholic Press; societies have been formed, and extensive arrangements entered into, with but little permanent success. However, former attempts and failures do not forbid the hope, that by discreet and judicious arrangements, it is even possible to publish, and find sale for, a large number of Standard Catholic Works, at a small advance on the cost of production. Years of experience in business, has afforded them ample opportunity of knowing, that the want of proper arrangements, to say nothing of former prices, have kept out of the hands of a large multitude of the Catholics of this country, some of the most useful and instructive works. The present object is to obviate this difficulty, as far as practicable, by furnishing these works in a convenient form, at such prices, as will place them, at once, within the reach of all classes. They are fully aware that the experience of other similar efforts ought to admonish them against such an undertaking—and, that no doubt some may anticipate similar results. To such they would state, that they are not soliciting pecuniary aid from any source. They do not recommend the formation of societies, to sustain the undertaking;—all they ask, is the cordial support of the Rev. Clergy, and others favorable to the dissemination of cheap and useful Books, to aid them in affording the Catholic community a portion, at least, of the present improved modes of Cheap Book Making on the cash system.

To such as may feel disposed to patronise this undertaking, and especially the Rev. Clergy in remote sections of the country, where they have not the opportunity of purchasing Catholic Books from the regular dealers, they respectfully suggest the propriety of recommending the matter to their congregations; and, if inconvenient or impracticable to give it personal attention, to appoint a suitable person to receive orders, and to transmit the same, accompanied with the money, agreeably to the following conditions. In order to treat all alike, and to give no just ground of displeasure to any, they deem it necessary to state for the benefit of their customers and others, that this is entirely separate and distinct from their regular business; that the object contemplated is an extensive circulation of Catholic Books, regardless of profit, and that it must be conducted strictly on the Cash System.

☞ CONDITIONS.—The object of this arrangement being the more extensive diffusion of knowledge, and with the view of not interfering with Booksellers, or others, endeavoring to make a living by the sale of Catholic books, no orders will be received for less than 4 copies of the Lives of the Saints, and 10 copies of either of the other books. Persons ordering Books from this List, will have the kindness to specify on their order "Murphy's Catholic Library," and the style of Binding.

☞ No attention will be paid to orders, unaccompanied with the cash. ☜

The following list is respectfully submitted for the present. Should they receive sufficient encouragement to sustain the undertaking, other Standard works of merit will be added, in regular succession.

Butler's Lives of the Fathers, Martyrs, and other Principal Saints, compiled from Original Monuments and other authentic Records, illustrated with the remarks of judicious Modern Critics and Historians. (Complete Edition, with all the Notes.)

In lots of 4 copies, and upwards, at a time, neatly bound in two volumes.....cloth $2 50

The same, in lots of 5 copies, neatly done up in paper, (so that they may be re-bound to suit the taste of the purchaser.).....2 00

The publication of this work was undertaken some years ago by the Metropolitan Press of this city, in 12 monthly parts, at 25 cents each, making the nett cost of the work $3, unbound. In their preface, they state: "Our only reasons for publishing this new edition of the Lives of the Saints, are first, to present to the Catholics of the United States the complete work of the venerable author, with all the notes and remarks which he added to the lives of the principal saints, and which contain so much useful information, and in the second place, to put the work, in this complete form, at a price so low as to enable all, even the poorest, to procure it without inconvenience."

In connection with this, they will simply state, that, when they purchased the Metropolitan Press, they announced their determination to use their best efforts to carry out, as far as practicable, the objects contemplated by its projectors. Having completed their arrangements, they are happy to announce that they are prepared to supply this excellent work, containing a record of the fruits of Catholic sanctity in every age since the commencement of the Christian era, comprised in two large octavo volumes, containing nearly 2,200 pages, with all the notes of the author, well printed, on good paper, to Clergymen, Library Societies, Booksellers and others, ordering it, for sale or gratuitous distribution, at the reduced prices specified above, being $1 per copy less than that of the Metropolitan Press, which was then considered a great achievement. By reference to the following list, many of which were published by the Metropolitan Press, it will be seen that they are mostly reduced in price, and will be printed and bound in better styles. The object in making these comparisons, is, to show how far they have succeeded in fulfiling their promises to the public, and not with the view of making invidious distinctions between their own efforts and those of others.

☞ The following Standard Works will be supplied in lots of not less than 10 copies and upwards, at a time, at the annexed prices, nett cash:

The Holy Bible, Translated from the Latin Vulgate; diligently compared with the Hebrew, Greek, and other editions, in various Languages, with annotations, by the Rt. Rev. Dr. Challoner, together with references and an Historical and Chronological Index—1024 pages, 12mo.....neatly bound in sheep 65

The foregoing list, contains 15 different works, 10 of each making 150 volumes in the cheapest styles, amounts to $22 15, to which add, say 5 setts Lives of the Saints in paper $10, making in the aggregate $32 15 (say $32 nett) for 160 volumes of the very best Standard Catholic Works in the English language, making at once complete Libraries, for 10 Catholic families, at the trifling cost of $3 20 cents to each. In respectfully submitting this project to the Rev. Clergy and the Catholics of the United States, we feel conscious of having at least done our duty towards an object, which has been so anxiously desired, as being calculated, if patronised to the extent that it merits, to accomplish more in the diffusion of useful knowledge amongst the poorer classes, in this vast country, than any other plan that has been submitted to their consideration; and as we do not enter into it with a direct view to pecuniary benefit, we feel emboldened in soliciting their generous co-operation and support, with the assurance, that our best efforts, will be directed to its successful accomplishment.

☞ Clergymen and others, desirous of encouraging this effort, will have the kindness to address the Publishers immediately, signifyingy to what extent they may be enabled to patronise the undertaking, that they may the better determine on the number of copies to prepare of each work.

NEW WORKS & NEW EDITIONS,

JUST PUBLISHED BY

MURPHY & CO., 178 Market street, Baltimore.

BALMES' GREAT WORK ON CIVILIZATION.

Protestantism and Catholicity compared in their Effects on the Civilization of Europe. Written in Spanish, by the REV. J. BALMES. Translated from the French. To which is added, a Biographical Sketch of the Author. 1 vol. 8vo., cloth, $2; Sheep extra, $2 25; library style, marbled edges, $2 50.

For the convenience of persons living in remote sections of the country, a limited number of copies have been done up in paper, so that they can be sent by mail to any part of the U. S. Price in paper $1 50.....2 copies $3.....4 copies $5.

The publishers have the pleasure to announce that this work has already met with a liberal sale. They would respectfully suggest to all who may desire to supply themselves with one of the great works of the age, to procure an early copy, as the heavy expense and risk attending its publication, did not justify a large edition at first. Should the work meet with a sale commensurate with its merits, they hope soon to have the pleasure of announcing a second edition.

From a large number of liberal and highly complimentary notices of this work, from the religious and secular press, the following are selected:

"This work may be read and studied with great profit by all who desire to enrich and expand their understandings on the great questions, which have so strongly divided the Roman Catholic and the Protestant sections of the Christian Church. Whatever may be thought of its doctrines and its arguments, it is entitled to rank among the learned productions of the age." N. Y. Courier & Inquirer.

"This is a work which cannot fail to excite interest at the present time. It comprises no less than seventy-three chapters, each embracing a different subject, and evincing an intimate acquaintance with ancient and modern history—with the onward progress of science and religion, and the peculiar influences of each, as well as their effects on the minds of men and the policy of nations. To the Catholic community it will prove highly acceptable, while the general reader will not rise from its perusal without acknowledging himself wiser from the information he has derived from it." Baltimore American.

"This book is the work of a man of decided talents, and may rank among the learned productions of the age. As a philosophical and learned work on the great religious divisions in the Christian world, it will be sure to command attention, and will not be read without profit." Baltimore Patriot.

"On the part of the Catholic public we express our obligations to Mr. Murphy for giving us this book in an excellent edition of five hundred octavo pages, at the low price of two dollars. There is no Catholic who reads, but what will find this volume easy of comprehension, and abounding with deep thoughts most lucidly expressed. It is not necessary for us to say more at present, as we shall soon, and often, revert to this publication. In the meantime it is the book to be read, by the one side and the other of those who wish to understand the controversy that is at this day to be carried on among men between the champions of the Catholic Church and her enemies." Freeman's Journal.

"This admirable work is at length before us and we hasten to inform our readers of the valuable addition, which has thus been made to the Literature of our country. The work is by far the most important of its kind, ever published in this country. It is in fact a complete library in itself condensed and so arranged as to bring the whole question within the grasp of the humblest reader. It appears most appropriately at the present time and will, we doubt not, prove an instrument of great efficacy in the work of diffusing sound Catholic doctrine on the matters of which it treats." Truth Teller.
